Weddings Take Prominent Place

Among the numerous weddings which come at Thanksgiving time there will be at least three large ones of interest from university circles.

Miss Naomi Fleet, senior in Willamette university, will become the bride of Herman J. Rehfsus Sunday afternoon at the Jason Lee Memorial church at 4 o'clock. Rev. Hugh B. Ponke, Jr., will officiate.

Miss Fleet has chosen as her maid of honor, Miss Lillian Rehfsus. Her bridesmaids are the Misses Sarah Dark and Esther Girod. The flower girl will be little Miss Bernice Reutshcher.

Guest of honor of Oak Grove will be best man, and the ushers will be Donald Doures and Gustave Klempe.

Miss Doris Clarke will sing and Miss Barbara Barham will accompany her and also will play the professional and recreational.

At the reception after the ceremony Mrs. George H. Alden will pour and the Misses Irma Savage, Joyce Woodfin, Beulah Graham, Frances Graham and Gwendolyn Hubbard will serve.

Miss Dorothy Bosshard, graduate of the class of 1931 from Willamette university, will become the bride of Clifton Clemens in a pretty church wedding at the First Presbyterian church Thanksgiving evening.

Several charming affairs are being given for Miss Basshard, among them a shower at the home Babcock and Miss Gertrude Oehler of Miss Bertha Babcock with Miss as hostesses.

A third popular bride-elect from the university circle is Miss Mary Kafoury, who will become the bride of Frank E. Shafer in a beautiful church ceremony at St. Paul's Episcopal November 29.

Mrs. William Busick entertained with a delightful bridge luncheon for Miss Kafoury Thursday afternoon at the Busick home.

Tea Afternoon Held at W. D. Clarke Home

WOODBURN WAREHOUSE 557 Court St. Opp. Court House Bet. Church-High St. OPEN EVENINGS

Symphony Matinee Sunday Afternoon

With the first concert demonstrating that the Portland Symphony orchestra is superior this season to any previous orchestra in the history of the symphony, increased interest is being shown in the Sunday matinees, the first of which is scheduled for November 22.

An added interest this season is being noted in the communities adjacent to Portland and an especially heavy sale of season tickets for the matinee series has indicated that out-of-town attendance will be large. The time of the concert, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, makes it possible for music lovers within a hundred miles of the city to attend the concert.

Willem van Hoogstraten, conductor of the orchestra, has arranged a brilliant program for the opening matinee. There will be a number of old favorites, but the features are to be Dvorak's "New World" symphony, and the Bach-Respighi "Passacaglia."

The latter work was presented at the opening concert with brilliant results. Arranged by the Italian, Respighi, from the organ composition of Bach, the "Passacaglia" declares with it the mark of the classic, while all of the possibilities of the modern arrangement, and, critics declare, without a sacrifice when viewed from the modern standpoint.

The "New World" symphony is too well known to need explanation. Written from Indian and negro themes collected "on the spot" in America, it is reminiscent of all periods and all sections of the land. The symphony has been presented by the orchestra several times in the last few years, and always with a favorable response.

The matinee programs are to have all of the color of the Monday night series. Mr. van Hoogstraten declares with the same type of music being presented at the matinees as at the night concerts. In addition, virtually every concert will have some feature to mark it.

Kayla Mittel, girl violinist, is to be a guest artist at one matinee. The chorug of 250 voices will present the "Messiah" on December 20. In addition, an Oregon pianist, yet to be chosen, will appear as soloist with the orchestra at another concert.

Orders for season tickets are being taken at the Symphony office, 920 Falling building.

K. C. K. T. Club Entertained

Mrs. Bert Waller entertained members of the K. C. K. T. club with a pleasantly informal social afternoon Thursday. Conversation while sewing on Christmas gifts passed the early hours and at 4 o'clock tea was served.

Palmer Completes Period in Navy; is Now With Parents

SILVERTON, Nov. 19—Claire Palmer returned Thursday morning from Fort McDowell, California, where he received his honorable discharge from the navy. Palmer enlisted two and a half years ago and the term was shortened six months to allow for new recruits.

During his term of service he was stationed for the last part with the Coastal Artillery at Corregidor, Philippine Islands. Palmer made quite an athletic record for himself and in one of the papers that reached Silverton from the islands, Palmer's picture was printed and the story accompanying referred to him as one of the outstanding athletes at

Fort Mills

With Palmer is a friend, Truman House of Kent, Washington, who enlisted at the same time as Palmer did and who has been with him since. The boys are for the present at the home of Palmer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Palmer, who live on James avenue.

GIFT SUGGESTIONS

By ANNE ADAMS

Many women like to make their Christmas gifts, not only because they enjoy sewing, but for the sentimental value attached to articles fashioned by one's own hands. And then, too, there is a decided saving of money.

Pattern 710 includes a scalloped handkerchief and three sizes of petals for a flower— charming made of chiffon or organdy, and so quickly done.

Pattern 1901 includes brassiere and panties, the latter on a well shaped yoke. This model may be ordered in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32.

Pattern 2233 consists of three different sizes of heart shaped pillows. A perfectly stunning gift to be used for the boudoir. They need only one yard of 39-inch fabric.

Send fifteen cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred), for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted.

The new fall catalog is now ready. It features the newest in afternoon, sports and house dresses, lingerie, pajamas and children's clothes. Also delightful gift suggestions in accessory and transfer patterns. Price of catalog, fifteen cents. Catalog with patterns, twenty-five cents. Address all mail and orders to The Statesman Patterns Department, 247 West 17th Street, New York City.
