

STOCKS DUMPED AS PEACE DOVE LOOMS

Expected Demand in Orient Due to war Fades out; Dollar Rallies

By JOHN L. COOLEY
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Selling increased on the financial front today coincident with news of an armistice between Japan and China.

Stocks were dumped in larger volume during the afternoon as heavy profit-taking broke wheat futures roughly 4 to 5 cents a bushel. Any expectations of a demand for raw materials and manufactured goods rising from a prolonged conflict in Manchuria appeared to have been dashed by the Paris cables, and thus the markets witnessed the paradox of a collapse in prices accompanying a constructive international development.

Volume swelled to 2,064,367 shares.

Steel common went close to 60 for an extreme loss of 4 points. The final quotation was 61, making the net decline 3%. New York Central, Standard Gas, Reading, Case, Atchafson, Union Pacific, Eastman, Air Reduction, Lambert, Coca Cola and Home Stake were down 3 to 4 at the finish, while American Telephone Bethlehem, National Biscuit, Consolidated Gas, North American, Baltimore and Ohio, Southern Pacific and Sears Roebuck gave up 2 to 3.

The dollar rallied against most foreign currencies. British payments on raw materials bought here were reflected in a heavy pound, which closed more than 2 cents lower. The French franc sagged three-eighths of a cent. Japan's yen firmed. Scandinavians were weak.

LETUCE OFFERINGS ARE HEAVIER AGAIN

PORTLAND, Nov. 20.—(AP)—While the previous day there was no offering of lettuce from The Dalles, today's East Side Farmers' market showed quite liberal stocks. Demand was keen and a new high mark was reached at $1.50 crate with some sales as low as $1.25.

Demand for celery and cauliflower was steady with offerings not so liberal in both lines.

Apple call was inclined to show a very slight improvement, but not the price.

Root vegetables continue to gain in favor with former prices contained.

Squash sales were mostly 1 to 1 1/2 lb., with Danish 50c cantaloupe crate.

Brussels sprouts showed a slightly increased movement with best $1 box.

Cabbage was steady; generally 60-65c crate.

LEASING STATION

JEFFERSON, Nov. 20.—Leslie Libby has leased the Camp Sanitation service station and barbecue stand at the south end of the Jefferson bridge, formerly operated by Mr. and Mrs. Everett Donavan, and has taken possession.

Speculators Sell and Export Weakness Added Factor

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—(AP)—A violent fall of almost 5 cents a bushel in wheat prices today accompanied news of an armistice between Japan and China.

Immense selling by speculative interests that had been purchasing because of indications Russia might be drawn into Manchuria war moves went hand in hand with the collapse of values. Adding to downward impetus of all grains was stock market weakness and conspicuous dearth of United States wheat export business, together with rain and snow in drought sections of Kansas and also Nebraska.

Wheat closed yesterday at virtually the day's bottom figures, 3 3/4-4 7/8 cents lower than yesterday's finish, corn 2 7/8-3 1/4, oats 1 3/8-1 1/2 off.

Today's closing quotations:

Wheat: Dec., 56 3/4-7/8; Mar., 55 1/2-5/8; May, 50 7/8-9/11; July, 50 7/8-9/11.

Corn: Dec., 42 3/4-3/8; Mar., 45-45 1/8; May, 46 3/4-7/8; July, 48 1/4-5/8.

Oats: Dec., 25 1/2; Mar., 27 1/2; May, 28-28 1/8; July, 27 1/2.

Live Chickens Remain Firm, Calves are Bit Weaker

PORTLAND, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Continued strength in the market for butter remains a very favorable influence in the trade throughout the country. The list in practically all markets is sustained at the recent mark.

The boosting of low grade butter cubes on the local exchange appears due not only to the shortage of competing stock in storage, but to the apparent desire on the part of some marketing interests to force low grade butter to within a fraction of top scores, so that more of the latter could be moved. In fact there is no secret about this desire because it has been openly expressed. The fact however that low score butter is within a fraction of the price of highest grade, does not give the makers of the latter encouragement.

Butterfat values paid by private interests of Portland continue among the highest in the district. Butterfat values paid by private interests of Portland continue among the highest in the district.

Arrival of some eggs out of midwest storage in the Los Angeles market, the first in a number of years, not only affects that trade but indirectly will affect the entire coast. No change in prices here.

Market for live chickens continues nothing but firm along the wholesale way with no change in the price list. All quotations are being generally maintained at the top.

Less snap is indicated in the market for country killed calves although no general change in the price is suggested. Large buyers refuse to pay the top.

Trifle slower trade trend is showing for country killed hogs with fractional price easiness suggested. Best light butchers are generally no higher than 7 1/2c lb. Bright spot of the country killed meat demand continues in the mutton and lamb market with the former very scarce but both lines

REFUSES PAY

The Rev. Julius A. Mearns (above), 58, professor at Notre Dame University, has after 25 years' research developed a synthetic rubber, which is pronounced a success by the Du Pont de Nemours Company, which is building a huge plant to manufacture the product. Since Father Mearns had taken the vow of poverty, all material profits from his noteworthy discovery will go to the Congregation of the Holy Cross, show well sustained prices.

First School Edifice Under Axe, Liberty

LIBERTY, Nov. 20.—An interesting bit in the early history of this district came to light with the tearing down of the house on the Look place. The house was removed to make room for a larger, modern dwelling.

Inquiry among the old residents reveals that much of the material, including hand-hewn oak timbers, which was used in the construction of the old house, was obtained from the old schoolhouse that once stood here.

Otto Timm and his father purchased the old lumber and built the house on the land they then owned.

This old schoolhouse stood on the spot where the present school stands, and was built about the time the school property was obtained in 1869. In the course of time the little building became too small to care for the educational needs of a growing community and it was torn down, to be replaced on the same spot with another.

When this next schoolhouse was "outgrown" it was moved to one corner of the school property, where it still gives good service as a community hall. In the same place was erected the building which still stands.

Now the little old schoolhouse of pioneer days has been saved into stove wood. When the material from the old house was saved up the oak timbers were found still in good shape, and showed no weakening signs of advancing age. They showed that the pioneers selected their materials wisely, hewed and built strongly and well for endurance.

POTATO INSPECTION IS HELD AT STORES

Most Retail Establishments Here are Observing law Department Finds

In interests of further educating buyer and seller on what the potato grading and marketing law requires, County Inspector S. H. VanTrump and J. H. Stansbury of the state agricultural department yesterday started inspection of potatoes in every Salem grocery store.

Grocery men and potato growers must sell and market potatoes according to legal and standard U. S. gradings. All potatoes sold must be sacked, the sack branded with grower's name, state, grade, as No. 1, 2 or culls.

Culls may be sold, the inspectors pointed out, as long as they are graded and marked as culls.

Grading is done by the grower, but it also rests with the merchant to see that all grades are up to standard as regards size, smoothness, defects and other things considered. Merchants who are selling potatoes not graded according to market specifications are subject to a penalty.

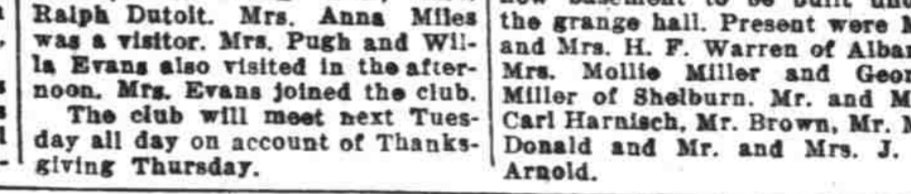

In the Salem stores visited yesterday, virtually all were found to be complying with the law, the inspectors said. Some of the smaller, outlying store owners evidently are not acquainted with the requirements, and some laxity was found in some of these stores.
