

Bearcats Depart Tonight for N. W. Championship Clash

THIRTY PICKED TO MAKE TRIP

Teams Regarded as Evenly Matched With "Fight" Deciding Factor

Thirty Willamette university gridsters will climb aboard a special train south of Lausanne hall at 8 o'clock tonight, along with upwards of 80 student rooters and Salem fans, and while the players repose in their berths and the students make "whoopee" the train will carry them northward and eastward to the chilly climate of Walla Walla and the big game of the year, Willamette vs. Whitman for the Northwest conference championship.

The train will leave the Southern Pacific station here at 8:24, and from Portland at 10:45 to-night. It will reach Walla Walla about 7 o'clock Thursday morning. The game will be at 1:30 in the Walla Walla municipal stadium. The train will start back at 5 p.m.

Whitman is expected to be at full strength and Willamette nearly so, and they are believed to be evenly matched as two football teams could possibly be. Whitman was weakened in its last two games by the incapacitation of "Buddy" Applegate, its big star for the last three seasons, who was laid up with a broken hand. Reports received here indicate that with nearly two weeks' rest since the College of Idaho game, Applegate and any others who were on the injured list have recovered, and the Missionaries will be at full strength when they were they defeated Pacific.

Most of Bearcat Cripples Recover
Willamette has had no such rest period, but Coach Keene kept his injured men out of the Albany game for most part and Jones, Allen, Grannis, Johnson, Mahan and Benjamin will be ready to put in their ticks for Willamette along with the rest.

Lowell Gribble, "Red" Higgins and Eugene Ferguson, however, are definitely "out" and will not make the trip.

Two of the Bearcats will be winding up their four years of Northwest conference football; Percy Carpenter, regular tackle and Eugene Ferguson, regular guard this season, and Lloyd Girod, a reserve guard who has seen important service in a number of games this year despite his lack of weight.

Coach Keene announced Tuesday that the following players would make the trip:

- Ends—McCrae, Ingersoll, Connors, Kaiser, Benjamin.
- Tackles—Jones, Allen, Lorenz, Tweed, Polito.
- Guards—Smith, Carpenter, Arsenault, Boyd, Orr, Girod, Woodworth.
- Centers—Grannis, Houck.
- Quarterbacks—Mahan, Frantz.
- Halfbacks—Erickson, Williams, Ross, Faber, Larnard, Cannady, Paul.
- Fullbacks—Johnson, Olson.

WOODBURN HOOPERS TO TURN OUT SOON
WOODBURN, Nov. 24—Basketball practice for Woodburn high school will be under way soon. The first call for hoopsters will be made Thursday by Coach James Miller. With only one left-termer back this year, prospects for a winning team are not too bright, Herman Parry, who played as a reserve center last year, is the veteran.

The schedule for games has not yet been completed, although the Bulldogs will probably play the Silverton, Chemawa, Newberg, Salem, West Linn and other rivals of former years. Woodburn high school is a member of the Marion county "A" league.

Interclass basketball, which will be the highlight for a time, practice and tryouts for the class teams is going on this week and next week. This activity is one of the most hotly contested of any interclass contest. Interclass debates, which were to have been run off next week, are postponed because of the basketball games.

Passball Title Still Undecided

The Alpha Psi Delta pass ball team played a 12 to 12 tie game with the upperclass team Tuesday noon in a championship game of the Willamette university do-not league.

This is the second time that the two teams have tied. Another game may be played next week to decide the series.

Colton First on Silverton Asked

SILVERTON, Nov. 24—The tentative schedule of the Silverton high school basketball team is as follows: Colton, December 12; Chemawa, December 19; Salem, January 5; here; Chemawa, January 29; here; Woodburn, January 22; here; Woodburn, February 26; here; Salem, March 4, here.

He Has Brains.... Plus

By HARDIN BURNLEY

THEY'LL have to dig up a new name for the Brooklyn National League baseball team next season now that the veteran Wilbert Robinson has been demoted as manager. The one-time Dodgers (later called the Robins in tribute to "Uncle Robby") will be in charge of Maximilian Carnation, better known as Max Carey, for years one of the smartest of all diamond big timers. From 1916 to the middle of 1926, Carey was a planet in the Pittsburgh orbit, undimmed even by the Waners, Comorosky, et al until time's remorseless touch took something of speed from his swift legs and a bit of the whip from his supple arm. He went to the Robins via waivers and did well for more than two seasons when,

Cherrians Look for Tough Battle With Indians Here Thursday; Cripples Better

Recent bear stories from Chemawa are not being considered by the Salem high school squad which continues to prepare for the Thanksgiving day football game as though it were playing U. S. C. itself instead of just a team coached by a Southern California man.

The Cherrians are elated over their victory scored on Albany high school and now are bending every effort to finish the season with a win.

Emil Otjen and DeMarais are both on the injured list, but may play some. Rein Otjen is the alternate for his brother Emil and Perrine will be back at quarterback in place of DeMarais.

A storehouse of power was found in Pete McCaffery during the Albany game. Pete, who had just been one of the squad all season, grew interested in the game of football about a week before the Albany game and in that time was the life of the backfield.

Time and again he reeled off necessary yardage and on defense proved to be a savage tackler. He has devoted considerable time to blocking this week and will be in at the start of the game as Sugal's running mate.

Sugal Expected to Repeat Performance
Sugal will be in top form Thursday and will endeavor to duplicate his showing of last year when he led the Salem high offense. Against the Indians last season, Sugal was the only man who could gain much through their tough defense.

Coach Hollis Huntington expressed himself as pleased with the drive shown by the forward wall in the last contest. The Salem high line will be as heavy as Chemawa's.

The aerial attack may be a thorn in the side of the locals. Against a pass attack they have not been extra good this season. However in the last game they showed considerable improvement on general defense. The backfield men especially, were dropping the ball carriers when they ventured through the line.

The game will be called at 2 o'clock Thursday and a large crowd is expected. The Indians have been pointing for this game and the locals are not planning to be overconfident because of bear stories, even though they may be true. Gordon Wilson, Frank Bashor and Harold G. "Fod" Nelson will be the officials of the game.

GRID ACE

Louis Weller, captain of the Haskell Institute football team, who has been picked by no less an authority than Dick Hanley, coach of the winning Northwestern University Wildcats, as the greatest open field runner in the country. Louis, known as "Chief Little Rabbit," is a full-blooded Caddo Indian.

HANSON KAYOES PENDLETON BOY

Scrap Ends in Second Round But Lots of Action is Packed Into Bout

A large crowd witnessed Tuesday night's boxing card at the armory and saw plenty of action by well-conditioned performers. Johnny Hanson of Portland knocked out Brownie Buskirk of Pendleton in the second of a scheduled 10-round main event.

This is the third time Hanson has stopped him, and no doubt remained in the minds of the public that the Portland lad far outclasses Buskirk. Body blows again did the work for Hanson, who brought them up at close range, making all the life out of his opponent.

Buskirk scored the first point by placing a solid right to the body. However, Hanson stood back and sparred until he was rested a bit and then started the barrage of body punches. The Pendleton boy's first round Buskirk stumbled and fell out of the ring, but was saved by the bell.

The battle continued at a terrific rate in the second canto, but Hanson soon had the edge and floored Buskirk for the count of nine. As soon as the Pendleton boy regained his feet, Hanson planted a second body punch and the fight was over.

Both Ambrose Twins Lose by Decisions
Kid Nelson of Portland won a decision over Budie Ambrose in a speedy six-round semi-windup. Buddy let Nelson force the fight most of the distance, but opened up in the last round with a strong offensive.

It seemed to be a tough night for the Ambrose family, as Bobby also lost a decision. Both lost to good men, however, and put up some battles. Shrimp McDonald of Corvallis did the trick with Bobby Ambrose, and only strong fighting instinct and plenty of gameness kept Bobby on his feet in the final round. Shrimp knocked Bobby through the ropes for the count of eight in the first round and in the last one had him down for counts of nine and three. Bobby kept him fairly even in the second and third rounds.

Spike Gorman, 152-pound Salem fighter, won against odds in his first fight before Salem fans, by taking a close decision over Bill Pole of Stayton, who weighed 156 and is a more experienced man.

Poole had an early advantage and pushed Gorman severely, but the Salem fighter never backed up once during the entire fight and by the end of the bout had Poole out-winded. Body blows were employed by both during the match, but Gorman gained an advantage by putting in several punches to the head.

Melvin Sorrell of Salem won a technical knockout from Fred Kitchon of Salem, in a four-round opener, doing the stunt in the first round.

Three Quints Are Tied for Class Honors

The inter-class basketball series at Willamette university ended Tuesday in a three way tie between the Freshman, sophomores and juniors. The seniors were defeated in all starts.

The Juniors, who played a 10 to 7 victory party on the confident freshman stars in a game Monday, defeated the seniors 27 to 8 Tuesday. The freshmen finally got to clicking in the second half against the sophomores and came from behind to win 32 to 22 in Tuesday's game.

Coach "Les" Sparks has a bunch of individual stars, as usual, on his squad and it was not until in the second half of their third game that they showed any flashes of team work. Lesak showed up particularly strong as a guard and Kitcher began to get the other men on the team loosed.

The Juniors are still chucking over their defeat of the freshmen stock up to the sky, and then grabbed an early lead on the unsuspecting babes and maintained it throughout the entire contest in Monday's big upset.

Tuesday's Lineups:
Juniors 27: Moore, 4; F... 5, Harmon Nutter, 11; C... Beall Lloyd, 4; G... 1, Bowe Hartley, 2; G... 3, Cushing.

Freshmen 32: Koehen, 8; F... 8, Griffith Northrup, 8; F... Sweet Reilly, 8; C... 2, Burdett Lemon, 6; G... 7, Stainer Leask, 7; G... Erickson Wright, 1; S... George Scales, referee.

Junior Church Hoop League to Organize Soon
Organization of a junior church basketball league is being sponsored by Y. M. C. A. officials. More than the prospective 12 teams can be handled in the league, according to Dwight Adams, boys' secretary. The schedule will begin in mid-December.

Playing in this league will be boys of junior high school age and over. The games will take place on Saturday afternoons.

IT'S MAMA AND PAPA NOW

That gay old bird, Dr. Stork, has presented James Joseph (Gene to you) Tunney with a new and enviable title to replace the one he relinquished in his ring days. Mr. and Mrs. Tunney (above) share alike in the new honors since the ex-heavyweight champ has a dotting father and his wife a proudly adoring mother of a seven-puped ham delivered in New York. Mrs. Tunney, the former Polly Lauder, hasn't as yet authorized the heir to follow in his daddy's pugilistic footsteps.

Grim Determination Seen As Keynote of Bearcats' "Whip Whitman" Banquet

A certain spirit of grimness and determination pervaded in the crowd at the Whip Whitman banquet held by Willamette university students and faculty members at the Presbyterian church Tuesday night.

The team was given the position of honor and members of the squad introduced. None of the football men made any speeches; all seemed to be saving their oratory for some future time. However they appeared to be the most determined body of players seen here in a number of years.

A get together dinner was taken care of as the first business of the moment. Songs and yells were given spontaneously during that time and immediately following the meal, the Delta Phi trio sang two popular numbers.

Dean Erickson of the team and students that the faculty was backing the team to the limit. Bill Phillips represented the downtown backers of Willamette and assured the team that more Salem people are behind the university and its athletics than ever in the past.

President Doney stated that he was a strong backer of the team. He sounded a warning note that the team was going to meet another strong team at Walla Walla. Professor Jones stated that he wanted the championship of the conference more than anything else in the world.

Howard Maple represented the press for the cooperation and assistance given the team all fall. Coach Keene looked over his husky gang of players seated before him and then said that if they all played their best, that they could not be beaten by Whitman. Keene said that any mistakes that he, the team or the student body had made in the past would be atoned for in the game with Whitman, providing all put their shoulders to the wheel.

H. E. Eakin was the last speaker on the program and wished the team success on its invasion of Walla Walla. The affair was concluded with the complete group singing "There's an Old Historic Temple."

Word comes from Doc Spears' camp that University of Oregon is gunning for St. Mary's in hopes of retaliating for the "raw deal" which they believe they got three last year. According to one of Doc's former players, Spears did not point his team for the Ucla game whatsoever, but has been concentrating on the Gaels.

Geed with his educated toe, was not used against the Uclans as he was being saved. The entire Webfoot squad is reported to be in good condition and the Oregon men are fired with the ambition of giving Slip Madigan's gang the slip. It'll be a real contest.

FACULTY MEMBERS LEAD SONGS, YELLS

Faculty members at Willamette university led songs and yells at the pep assembly held Tuesday at chapel time.

President Doney suggested that a telegram be sent R. V. Borleske, for 17 years coach at Whitman, congratulating him on the splendid competition and athletic worries he has furnished the northwest conference and particularly Willamette university during that time.

The message will reach Borleske Wednesday night at a banquet to be given in his honor. The communication will be from the Willamette students and faculty.

Professor Zillman gave an amusing and inspiring pep talk to the students and finished by leading the group in singing the Willamette fight song. Other songs and yells followed and "Spec" Keene was persuaded to lead one yell himself.

The pep assembly was part of the sendoff given to the football squad which departs today for Whitman. Singing in the halls of Eaton between classes has been a contributing factor all week to the pep shown at the Tuesday assembly.

NEW BOOKS ARRIVE AT SALEM LIBRARY

42 Additions Reported as Tangible Achievement Of National Week

Observing National Book week in a material way, the Salem public library last week added 42 new books to its crowded shelves. Subjects are many. Among them are "Wings of Tomorrow" by Clara, inventor of the autogyro; "The Life of the Empress Eugenie" by Sencourt; "Pavlova" by Hyden, and "The Soviet planned economic order" by Chamberlin.

The authors and titles of the new books are as follows: Bierce, "In the midst of life"; Bradford, "John Henry"; Depew, "Here are dogs"; Dribber, "People of the small arena"; Durand, "The curious lottery"; Eggbrecht, "Pilgrim to the abyss"; Farmer, "The bending sickle"; Ford, "Consequences"; Gubsky, "City of white night"; Graham, "The China venture";

Hannum, "Thursday April"; H'n, "Quiet Street"; Kennedy, "The foot of the family"; Lincoln, "All alongshore"; Lucas, "Down the sky"; Meagher, "Whitefudge"; Nashivn, "The dogs"; Olden, "On virgin soil"; Parkington, "Four in family"; Romanov, "Three Pairs of silk stockings"; Stone, "The almond tree"; Tansal, "The shiny night"; West, "Harriet Hume"; Wylie, "Some other beauty"; N. E. A., "Proceedings"; Vineyard, "Student participation in school government"; Kaempfert, "Modern wonder workers";

Cierra, "Wings of tomorrow"; Alexander, "Patchwork and applique"; Crowther, "How to write letters"; Andrews, "Across Mongolian plains"; Hoefler, "African speaks"; Denville-Fife, "Modern South America"; Dugid, "Green hell"; Sencourt, "The life of the Empress Eugenie"; Napoleon I., "The Corsican"; Hyden, "Pavlova"; Davis, "The call of Bagdad"; Hagedorn, "Leonard Wood"; Chamberlin, "The Soviet planned economic order"; Hewett, "Ancient life in the American northwest"; Fuller, "A history of the Pacific northwest";

Being the sort of chap who wants to be as thankful as possible, and the time of year being that which calls out meditation on all the things for which individuals may be thankful, "Frosty" Olson, a popular florist of the city, attempted an experiment Monday which if it worked would give him a heap for which to be thankful.

Trusting the great kind hearted world, he calmly walked out of his florist shop Monday night leaving its doors open and safe. Sometimes in the night a local police officer was jarred out of his snuff from the uneventful hours, by trying the shop door and finding that it welcomed him in.

Upon investigation it appeared that no one had broken in; "Frosty" had simply forgotten to lock the door. But Mr. Olson says he didn't forget; he merely was starting an annual custom, a "leave-your-door-open" night which will result in a sporting bet with yourself that you will have one more thing to be thankful for on Thanksgiving day. This time he won.

A hearing is scheduled for 10 o'clock this morning in the justice court here, when Roy Reynolds and Lyle Pagenkopf will appear on a charge of burglary not in a dwelling. The pair arraigned before Justice of the Peace Hayden Tuesday, pleaded not guilty to the charge. Failing to furnish a $1000 bail each, they are being held in the county jail.

Burglary Charge Is Slated Today

Archerd Firm's Audit is Nearly Finished, Word

Audit of the books and affairs of the Archerd implement company is being pushed and may be in such shape that report can be filed with the circuit court clerk late this week. H. O. White, receiver, said yesterday.

Mr. Archerd is still in the south, and no new word on the condition of his health has been received, according to White.

CATHOLIC HONORED BY JEWS

Archbishop Edward J. Hanna of San Francisco (left) is pictured receiving the American Hebrew medal from Rabbi Isaac Landman, member of the American Hebrew Commission, in New York. The Catholic Archbishop was presented with the award in recognition of his work in promoting better understanding between the Christian and the Jew in America.
