Fireside Tea is Delightful Affair

One of the happy things about Thanksgiving time is the number of guests who are called back to their old homes to see their friends. In the case of the many friends left behind when a change of residence occurred. Informal entertaining to renew these friendships takes the form of any number of charming affairs.

Among such delightful affairs for this Thanksgiving was the fireside tea given by Mrs. J. H. Scott at her Court street home. In compliment to her house guest, Mrs. Alice Dodd of Portland, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. John H. Albert presided at the tea table and Mrs. Seymour Jones and Mrs. Hal B. Patton assisted Mrs. Scott in serving and receiving.

At least 55 former friends of Mrs. Dodd called during the charmingly informal tea hours and paid their compliments to the guest of honor. Mrs. Dodd will spend several days in Salem during this holiday visit.

Woman's Club Will Meet Today

One of the very social meetings of the year will be enjoyed by the Salem Woman's club this afternoon at the clubhouse. It is guest day and at this time members are asked to bring a friend or friends for the afternoon program.

A special invitation is being extended to the teachers of the city schools for this afternoon. Miss Beatrice Walton will speak on "Impressions of Russia" gleaned by her from her recent tour of Europe. Many interesting experiences were had by Miss Walton while in Russia which are not common to the regular tourist. She with her traveling companions were able to take many additional side trips which added much color to the tour.

Musical numbers will supplement the talk by Miss Walton. A violin, cello, and piano trio will present a group of numbers and Miss Flavia Downs will give a group of piano numbers at the tea hour at 4 o'clock.

Hazel Green—Mrs. Louis Wampler entertained Thanksgiving afternoon with a party honoring her son, Clinton on his tenth birthday. Various guessing games were played, Marvin Van Cleave and his Geneva winning first and second prizes.

The following were guests: honor guest, Clinton Wampler, Dorothy and Harriet Dunnigan, Maxine Wolf, Geneva Van Cleave, Beulah Cook, Daisy and Archie Rutherford, Marion Wampler, Edward Yada, Donald Dunnigan, Leon Clemens, Marvin Vau.

Pattern

An unmistakable French flavor distinguishes this frock with all its simplicity of detail. The diagonal bodice and skirt lines are decidedly slenderizing, and are emphasized by top machine stitching. Note, also, the back neck and waistline tucks, insuring a perfect fitting garment. Black Roshanara or cotton crepe outlined with blue faille, or any color sheer wool piped with white pique will be smart.

Pattern 2235 is obtainable only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32. Size 16 requires 4 yards of 39 inch material. No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern.

Step-by-step instruction diagrams given with this pattern.

Send fifteen cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and city number. Be sure to state size wanted.

The new fall catalog is now ready. It features the newest in afternoon, sports and house dresses, lingerie, pajamas and kid gloves. Also delightful suggestions in accessory and transfer patterns. Price of catalog, fifteen cents. Catalog with pattern, twenty five cents. Address all mail orders to The Statesman Pattern Department, 242 West 17th street, New York City.

VERSAILLES PLEDGE POINTED BY BORAH

Speaks to Peace Delegates At Paris Over Radio; Sees Present Need

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—Europe was told over the air tonight by Senator Borah, of Idaho, that the pledge of the Versailles treaty for disarmament has gone unredeemed.

He called upon the public to use the "lash" on their governments to force armament reductions at the conference at Geneva in February.

Borah's blunt words were addressed directly to Paris to a gathering of peace delegates from Europe. He spoke over an international radio hookup which carried the voice of the chairman of the senate foreign relations committee to Europe for the first time and throughout the United States as well.

Referring to the controversial security pledge urged by Premier Laval of France he said "In considering security let us not rely solely upon armaments." He continued:

"The first line of defense for every country is not the navy nor the army nor both, but the physical and moral well being, the contentment and the happiness of the loyal citizen.

"While millions are on the verge of starvation, growing restless and ugly, nearly $5,000,000,000 is being expended annually for armaments and from 80 per cent to 85 per cent of all taxes extorted from the people go for war purposes. All this is another name for slow but inevitable suicide.

"I do not contend that armaments alone can solve our great economic problem. I do contend that it will aid tremendously for the betterment of conditions. We can all fight, therefore, for this cause, knowing that we not only make less probable future wars, but that we are helping to relieve an immediate situation, an economic condition in many respects more cruel, more remorseless, more pitiless than war itself."

HOKE SMITH, NOTED STATESMAN CALLED

Was Secretary of Interior Under Cleveland, Later Senator, Governor

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 27 (AP)—Hoke Smith, for many years a dramatic and dynamic figure in state and national political life, died here today at the age of 75.

Secretary of the interior under President Cleveland, twice Governor of Georgia and twice United States senator, the venerable statesman passed away at his home after a long illness.

Mr. Smith first attracted attention in a political way at the age of 20, when he was made chairman of the Fulton county (Georgia) democratic executive committee.

Born at Newton, N. C., on September 2, 1855, Mr. Smith prepared himself for the legal profession. His interests broadened, however, and in 1887 he purchased the Atlanta Evening Journal, becoming president and editor.

A year later he projected the paper into a fight which contributed toward seating him in the president's cabinet. He was made secretary of the interior and at the time was one of the youngest men ever to grace a president's cabinet.

Twelve days after his inauguration for second term as governor, United States Senator A. S. Clay died and the legislature elected Smith to succeed him.

In 1915 he was re-elected to the senate but found himself opposed to the views and policies of President Wilson in the League of Nations controversy. Later his name was offered in the presidential primaries in this state, but he lost the fight and a year later was defeated for the senate.

Grandi Departs For Home After Visit to Hoover

of Italy bade farewell to America today and sailed for his native land.

At the pier where the liner Augustus waited he had only to say that since his visit and conversations with President Hoover he believed the United States and Italy joined in a new era of international understanding.

Into movie microphones he said: "My only feeling on leaving America is a desire to return again."

More than a thousand persons were crowded outside the pier to see him off, some of them shouting "Viva Grandi! Viva Fascismo!"

HINKLER ARRIVES ON AFRICA SHORE

PARIS, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Capt. Bert Hinkler, noted British aviator, was safe tonight in French West Africa after completing the first eastward flight across the south Atlantic.

He dropped down at Bathurst, on the African coast, from Natal, Brazil, yesterday to complete a flight of more than 1,500 miles in about 22 hours, said a message to the Aeropostale company.

Soon afterward he left for Saint Louis de Senegal, a short distance north of Bathurst, arriving there a little after 3 p. m. today. He planned to go to Port Etienne, Mauritius, tomorrow.

Saint Louis de Senegal is a comparatively short distance north of Dakar, the town on the tip of Cape Verde for which Captain Hinkler was headed when he took off from Natal at 10 a. m. Wednesday. Few knew when he left in his small plane that he was headed eastward over the ocean and his progress was unreported until word of his arrival reached Paris today.

Captain Hinkler once held the speed record for a flight from England to Australia and last month established a new speed record from New York to Kingston, Jamaica, on his way to Natal.

Percy Beard is not the only track man in his family. His brother Jeff is captain of the Auburn track team for 1932.

"I liked Chesterfield right from the start"

"NO, I don't know a blessed thing about how cigarettes are made. But, of course, I would want the tobacco to be PURE. And then I've heard that the blending is very important. I'd want that to be done just right.

"Then the paper. I don't like paper that you can taste—or smell when it's burning. I'd want that pure too.

"Another thing. I want to smoke whenever I feel like it—without worrying about smoking too many. So I want my cigarettes MILD.

"But the main thing, of course, is TASTE. I don't care for over-sweetened cigarettes. I much prefer those that are just sweet enough.

"Chesterfield seems to satisfy in every one of these ways. That is why I'd rather have a Chesterfield."

SMOKERS tire of too much sweetness in a cigarette, and they don't like rawness. For a steady diet, they want a cigarette like CHESTERFIELD—a mild and mellow smoke, free from any over-sweetness or any harshness or bitterness. That's why more and more smokers every day are changing to CHESTERFIELD.

Good... they've got to be good.
