Under the Occurrences and Gossip at the center of Oregon's state government

WELL, Christmas is getting closer all the time, and if there was any doubt in the minds of statehouse people concerning its approach, it was dispelled yesterday when a giant Christmas tree was placed in the center of the lobby on the first floor of the Capitol building.

This is an annual custom, and after the tree is properly sprayed to eliminate the fire hazard, it will be decorated. It stands right over the picture of the state seal, and the top of the branches is above the second floor gallery. Its decoration progress will be watched with interest.

Governor Meier visited the state capitol yesterday, and the first place he stopped was the press room to pay a social call. The governor said he was here this time, not on business but just to pay a visit, but it was noted he made an announcement before he left last night which is good news to all taxpayers.

The governor will return Friday, and then leave for San Francisco where he will spend Christmas with his daughter and grandchildren. That's a great break for the grandchildren and San Francisco, but Christmas was just the time we wanted the governor around here. His being gone at this gift-giving time makes it kinda tough on the news-hounds.

But the vacation should do the governor lots of good, although he was looking finer than ever yesterday. He said he felt fine, and his appearance bore out his statement. He expects to be in California beginning next week for the remainder of the month. After the first of the year he expects to push his administrative program with full force.

Next week Oregon will have a new pilot at the helm of state, as with the governor out of the state Willard Marks of Albany will sit in the executive chair. He perhaps will be here about every day, since his home is not so far away. How's the cigar supply, Senator?

After a conference with the state tax commission yesterday the governor announced that for the first time in the history of Oregon, the tax levy on real property for state purposes will be eliminated next year. The amount of the state levy this year totaled $4,592,627.91.

This was made possible, the governor said, by reason of receipts from intangibles taxes, personal income taxes, corporation excise taxes, the repeal of the one-half market road tax, the waiver of the veterans' half mill tax, and savings achieved in the operation of the state's various institutions and departments.

And here is where William Einzig, state purchasing agent, should be lauded along with heads of state departments. Einzig has saved the state considerable by his shrewd buying, his knowledge of purchasing, and his efficiency in conducting the purchasing department. Institution heads have said they receive great cooperation from this department.

MORE MEN GIVEN EMERGENCY WORK

There was an increase of approximately 41 per cent during the past week in the number of men employed in Oregon under the emergency highway program, according to announcement made at the office of the state highway department Thursday. A total of 1866 men are now employed.

Approximately $112,350 of the emergency fund exceeding a million dollars has been expended. Twenty-eight counties have reported on the operations last week. Most of the operations are on permanent improvements.

Baker 61 men, Benton 26, Clackamas 71, Coos 41, Curry 11, Deschutes 75, Douglas 78, Grant 58, Harney 32, Hood River 30, Marion 38, Multnomah 57, Klamath 44, Lake 5, Lane 64, Lincoln 37, Linn 25, Malheur 51, Marion 26, Morrow 18, Polk 61, Umatilla 74, Union 114, Wasco 48, Washington 26, Wheeler 8, Yamhill 48, and Multnomah 479.

Pastor Benefits From Insurance With Statesman

The one dollar invested by Rev. S. Darlow Johnson of 243 Easy Meyers, in the North American Accident Insurance policy which was issued with his Statesman subscription proved to be a wise investment. Rev. Johnson was quite seriously injured September 1 when the car he was driving plunged from the road on the coast highway near Rose Lodge, Oregon.

He was presented a check Tuesday from the insurance company for $96.73 which was payment for his nine weeks and four days total indemnity and one day's hospital benefit. A total of over $3200 has been paid to Statesman subscribers in claims on their one dollar policies.

ROCKNE MOTORS TO INTRODUCE NEW CAR

Named for Great Athletic Mentor; State Motors Will Handle Here

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 1.—(Special)—The mystery of the Rockne Six is ended. Subjected to intense speculation since its veiled announcement to the trade by George M. Graham several months ago, the car was unveiled as a project of the wealthy, successful and 80-year-old Studebaker corporation.

Concurrent announcements from Albert Russel Erskine, Studebaker chief executive, and Mr. Graham, vice-president of Rockne Motors Corporation, made known the reason for the name, the sponsorship of the project, a roster of executives and complete specifications and details of the product.

"This new car will be called the Rockne Six in honor of a man who was our business associate," said Mr. Erskine. "Kaute Rockne had been associated with Studebaker's sales organization for several years. He was to have been vice-president of Rockne Motors Corporation, had he lived. It was his intention to give up active football direction after the 1931 season.

The car will be manufactured in Detroit, where its executive offices will also be located. The executive personnel is made up of a nationally known automotive leader.

The fundamental principle of the Rockne Six is the introduction of quality in the low price field. The car includes features that either are unavailable in competitive automobiles, or can be had only at additional cost.

State Motors, corner Hi-H and Chemeketa, will be Salem dealer for the new Rockne Six, stated L. D. Lambert, manager, yesterday. They will have the agency for Marion and Polk counties. State Motors is the local Studebaker dealer also.

Postal Receipts For Month Low

Discounting 1930 election mail, postal receipts during the past month amounted to only $432 less than during November of last year, Postmaster John H. Farrar reported yesterday. Receipts for November 1931 were $13,287.11 and for November 1930, $17,899.82.

On one day of that month last year $4200 was paid into the postoffice for postage on election matter.

SPEAKER

Father J. R. Buck, 14 years pastor of St. Joseph's church here, who delighted Kiwanis yesterday noon with a whimsical account of his experiences as a minister.

REV. BUCK TALKS AT KIWANIS MEET

A charming, whimsical talk on "Experiences of a Minister" was given by Father J. R. Buck of St. Joseph's church here. Good feeling prevailed at the meeting, the attendance being the largest in months and the talk being followed by a 10-minute interval of story telling in which many Kiwanians took volunteer roles.

"I have always been thankful for a sense of humor," said Rev. Buck. "Ministers are the repository for so many troubles, unless we were able at times to see the funny side we would be overcome by the trials and burdens of others."

The speaker recounted amusing experiences he had had in 14 years as a pastor in Salem. Some of the anecdotes concerned solemn hours in lives of beloved people where chance fun had relieved bad hours.

Father Buck told interesting reminiscences of a visit to the south where he took part in a negro religious service. Several Kiwanians filled volunteer roles as song leaders.
