No Change at Portland but Soviet Land is Buying Undertone Easier due To General Trend

PORTLAND, Dec. 3 .- (AP)-Sharply lower prices for eggs in day resulted largely from signs the eastern trade, destination of of a fadeout of Russia as a bogey the bulk of the northwest lay, creates more or less apprehension threatening the success of market among distributors in carload gains. Reports were current Russia had bought Australian wheat While there was no change in in the English market, and was local values for the day, the break trying to cancel future delivery in eastern prices together with forecasts of additional cuts, gives first time this season, Russia's the undertone a somewhat easier

Demand for fresh eggs locally is gaining with the decreasing quality of the storage stock. Recent sales in Portland of eggs said to be unfit for buman consumption by peddling interests, are at tracting the attention of officials here. One such peddler was reported found guilty but was given another chance. Undergrade butter continues to dominate the local market with .44 %. only 2c spread between top and bottom grade. Prime firsts at 30c .27; July, .26 1/2. are the same as standards. Chain stores buy on the former basis. therefore are chiefly hit.

Despite the occasional talk of betterment, market for apples continues to reflect a very slow and unseasonable tone. With holiday shipments over, the local trade is unable to take up the slack, Prices rule weak.

Sudden stoppage of local offer ings has created a famine of root vegetables here. Carrots, turnips and beets are especially scarce and prices rule higher for the limited stock. Operators are unable to fill orders.

With the exception of veal, which continues a trifle slow, the which continues a trifle slow, the market for country killed meats is considered steady without general price change. Demand for bulls is still very good.

Few Shares Make new Lows But Gains are Made by Ralls and Others

By JOHN L. COOLEY NEW YORK, Dec. 8 .- (AP)-The stock market once more refused to break through the October 5 average lows today.

Although a few shares made new lows during a selling flurry in the first half hour, the list rallied slowly to the close, which found many pivotal issues 1 to 3 points net higher. The bond market was so thin that quotations in many cents a crate, and cauliflewer instances meant little or nothing. However, there were a number of advances in recently hard pressed rails. Wheat and cotton rallied. German bonds were rather acutely weak and the government 7s and 5 %s made new lows. British 5 1/2 s also slumped. Sterling exchange fluctuated less sharply than of late. U. S. Steel touched a new low Working on Operetta at 51 % and then railied, closing with a net gain of 1%. The preferred broke 6 to the lowest since 1917 during the forenoon but cut low, but closed up 8 net.
