BEDE DANIELS My Past. BEN LYON LEWIS STONE. GRAND A HOME-OWNED THEATRE

The Call Board.

By OLIVE M. DOAK

Warner Bros. Capitol Today—Tallulah Bankhead in "My Sin". Friday—George O'Brien in "Riders of the Purple Sage". Warner Bros. Elsinore Today—John Barrymore in "The Mad Genius". Friday—Ina Claire in "Rebound". The Grand Today—Ben Lyon in "My Past". Friday—Buck Jones in "Border Law". The Hollywood Today—Clive Brook in "Silence". Friday—Richard Arlen in "Caught".

There are interesting bits concerning many of the actors and actresses who appear in "The Mad Genius" now showing at Warner Bros. Elsinore theatre. For instance there is Marion Marsh. She is heralded as a seventeen-year-old screen discoverer. She began to keep a diary in her high school days and has kept it up since her spectacular entry into the screen world, during which, in less than a year, she has appeared opposite William Powell, Edward G. Robinson and John Barrymore, and again many of Hollywood's professional dowagers who sit in theatre boxes and serve as back-grounds for society affairs in pictures, are seen in "The Mad Genius".

Many of these extra people are charming women of another generation and some have names which were once the "open sesame" to society's doors.

Many of them remember, not only John Barrymore, Lionel and Ethel as children, but their parents, the famous Maurice Barrymore and Georgia Drew — and their grandmothers Mrs. John Drew—the grandest of them all—receiving the plaudits of the stage at eighty.

To tell or not to tell—that's the question a woman with a "past" tell her prospective husband the secrets of her unconventional life and risk her future happiness? Should the man be equally candid with the woman he loves?

My Sin which opens at Warner Bros. Capitol has this burning question as its theme.

Tallulah Bankhead, vivid, vital and emotional, depicts the woman's side, and Fredric March, presents the man's side of this highly dramatic human dilemma.

These two artists, aided by a talented supporting cast, throw into the story of "My Sin" masterful dramatic talents.

ARCHERD PROPERTY FACES ATTACHMENT

An exact valuation on the Edwards mine was not available here yesterday. It was reported a few years ago that an offer of $200,000 in cash for the property had been refused.

White said yesterday that he intended to close up the affairs of the Archerd company, except for the collection of book accounts, by December 21, a new firm is to be formed to conduct a general implement business using the same location which the Archerd implement company now utilizes.

WARNER BROS. CAPITOL Today and Tomorrow... TALLULAH BANKHEAD and FREDRIC MARCH. She KNOWS men. She KNOWS how to handle them. But HE knows something no other man knows. Should he equal, and conquer her? Or should he keep the secret and lose her? SHOULD SHE AND DOES SHE ASK FORGIVENESS? Warner Bros. Elsinore. Grand Picture. My Sin

WATER INCOME NOT SUFFICIENT

Proposed Bond Issue Just Million Dollars High; Tax Increase Sure

Continued from page 1) ture are concerned, that is problematical. The city will grow and its water revenues will increase—but so will operating expenses and plant investment and interest charges. The increase in net earnings of the plant under private operation amounted to $52,000 per year over 10 years ago and to $69,000 a year over 20 years ago. Using the same figures for the next 10 or 20 years, the amount would still be short of covering the $78,000 annual deficit now indicated on the basis of 1930 figures.

Voters and taxpayers should realize that the water plant will not pay interest and operating costs and allow for necessary depreciation on an investment of $2,500,000. The result would inevitably be higher taxes or higher water rates or both. Under some kinds of municipal management the deficit might easily run much higher than the $78,000 estimated.

The only safe thing for the property owners to do next Tuesday is to vote NO on the proposition to issue $2,500,000 in bonds.

MASS MEETING ON WATER IS CALLED

Continued from page 1) plant and carrying it on as it has been started. He expressed the opinion that this could be done with a profit to the city and that that was what was needed.

Mayor P. M. Gregory and Ray Stumbo took the part of the North Santiam project upon the basis of the Barr and Cunningham reports saying that these men were specialists in the work of water projects and should be trusted as correct.

Ray Stumbo reported on the investigations made by a committee from the club concerning a free medical and health clinic for the indigent. The report was adopted and it is expected that Friday an office will be completed in the Hollywood theatre where at certain hours a doctor and nurse will be in the office to meet cases demanding care but not having money to pay for it.

NATIONAL MEETING OF LEGION TALKED

Ray Conway state chairman of the safety committee of the Legion, discussed safety in automobile driving. He made an special point of the work now being done by the Legion in connection with safety work in schools.

The meeting was given to the general discussion of phases of business tending to the betterment of community enterprises and banking. All banks of the two counties were well represented.

Other speakers included Mr. West, manager of Portland branch Federal Reserve bank, and W. G. Vassal, Dallas, president of the Polk Co. Bankers association.

TEACHER FUSS HAS LEGAL AFTERMATH

EUGENE, Ore., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Three residents of school district 17, which has been divided into two sections since last spring, were arrested today on charges of violating the compulsory school amendment. They were Mrs. Ruth Barto, Edward Borgert and Arthur Waville.

Their children, it was charged, had been living in another district and for a time were allowed to attend school at Bear Creek. But when the parents refused to pay tuition, the children were barred from the school.

The district dispute started last spring over the proposal to provide bus transportation for high school students from the district going to Junction City. It grew after Mrs. Maude Prady, teacher in the district school, was dismissed by the board of charges brought by Mrs. Ruth Barto, chairman, and Mrs. Myrtle McFadden, director.

20 Sheep Killed on Ed Nelson Farm by Neighborhood Dogs

SILVERTON HILLS, Dec. 7.—Twenty sheep were killed by dogs at the Ed Nelson farm here late last week. Mr. Nelson was walking toward the canyon on his and his brother Frank's farm, when he saw a white patch as if snow had fallen on the hill side. Closer investigation brought to light a spot about ten feet square littered with white wool. Some of the sheep were not dead when found but were so badly mangled that killing was necessary. Dogs in the neighborhood had done the work.

HOUSE DEBATE TO BE CALLED

Hoover's Recommendations To be Discussed Upon Floor of Chamber

Continued from page 1) "I recommend the prompt implementation of the banking laws." "I am opposed to any direct or indirect government dole." "I am opposed to any general congressional revision of the tariff."

"It is a distressful time for many of our people, but they have shown qualities as high in fortitude, courage and resourcefulness as ever in our history." "Our citizens and our local governments have given a magnificent display of unity and action, initiative and patriotism in solving a multitude of difficulties and in cooperating with the federal government."

"There has been the least possible governmental entry into the economic field, and that only in temporary and emergency form." "We are determined to regain the standards of life, it must further decrease both naval and other arms."

"Our first step toward recovery is to reestablish confidence and thus restore the flow of credit." "It is the very basis of our economic life."

IMPORTANT DEBATE IS SLATED FRIDAY

What is predicted to be the outstanding debate of the high school interclass series, the contest between junior negative and the junior affirmative teams, will be held during the activity period on Friday. Both teams are said to be strong in argument and effective in speech.

The decision rendered yesterday by Willamette university student judges of the interclass debate between the junior negatives and the senior affirmatives to the juniors, three to nothing. All three judges concurred in conceding the junior team only a slight advantage over their adversaries.

Eldon Olson, high school senior, is serving as chairman for the debates. The varsity debate team will be selected from the students participating in the interclass series.

FATHERS AND SONS FRATERNIZE AT Y.

Two hundred fifty boys and fathers assembled at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night for an evening of frolicking together. The first event of the program, athletic competition between dad and son, proved so popular that the aquatic exhibition was delayed to a later hour than had been planned.

Following the swimming races and diving exhibition by Fred Paul of Willamette university, the boys and fathers returned to the gymnasium for the championship ping pong tournament and refreshments.

Fred Hageman won the high school age ping pong honors from Victor Williams, 6-1, 3-8, 6-3.
