

Consider Ban on Broadcasting of Coast Grid Contests

TICKET PRICES TO BE REDUCED

Little Done or Forecast on Eligibility Problems; Practice Earlier

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14—(AP)—Voting to bar newspaper photographers from the fields hereafter and expressing unanimous sentiment for a reduction of ticket prices in 1932, representatives of the ten members of the Pacific coast conference opened their three day annual winter meeting here today in sensational fashion.

All agreed prices next season should be reduced, but left actual arrangements to the individual members.

Football photography came in for much attention. In addition to removing news photographers and other cameramen from the field, and placing them in special platforms in the stands, the rule against moving picture scouting was reaffirmed, and provision made whereby any university taking pictures of its own team in a game, must provide the opponent with a duplicate film.

Commercial news real companies were limited to "short subjects."

Radio Broadcast Fate Known Today

The fate of radio broadcasting at conference games may be known tomorrow when a committee named today issues its report following a study of the problem tonight. The committee is headed by Earl Campbell, University of Washington, and includes Alfred R. Masters, Stanford; Steve Cunningham, U. C. L. A.; and Hugh Rossen, Oregon. While no rule can be passed, policy may be crystallized, delegates said.

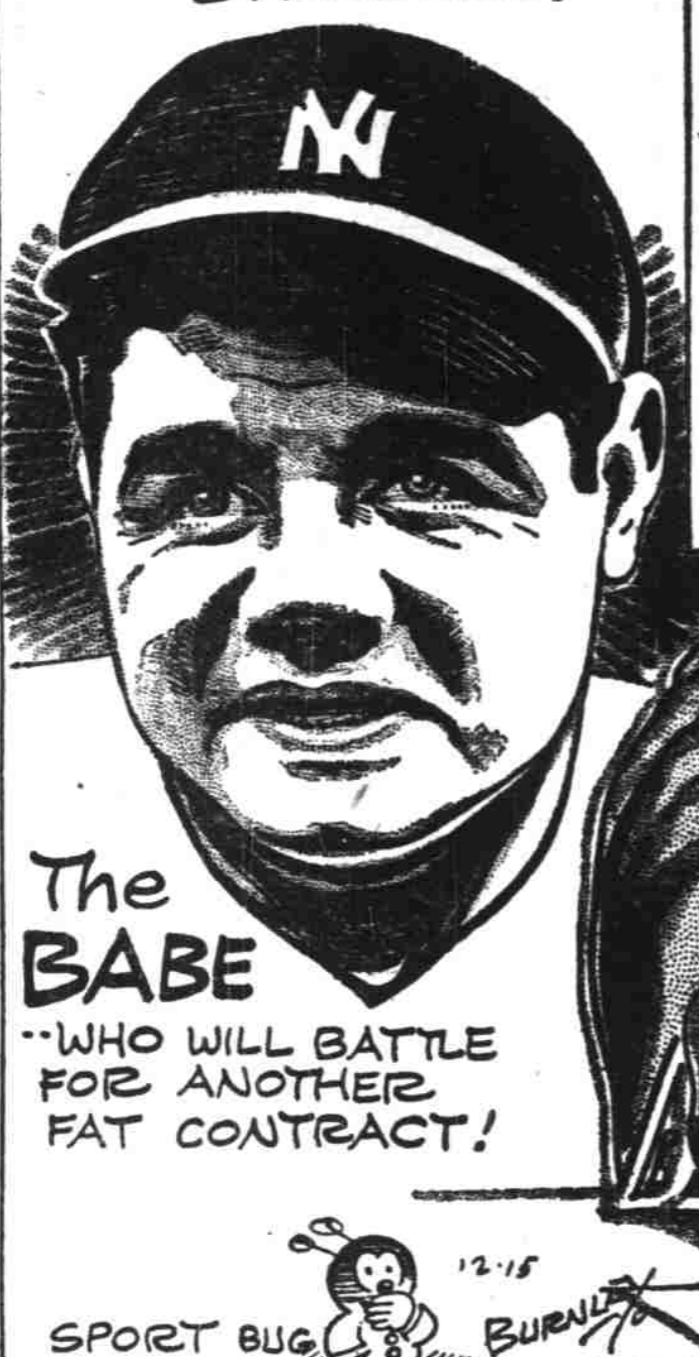

Eligibility came up for discussion in the second day of the conference, said he was not called on for a report. Early in the day the rule governing the opening of fall practice was revised to permit unrestricted practice two weeks before the last Saturday in September. Heretofore organized practice has been banned until September 15. The rule permits members to schedule two games in September. Under the regulation, workouts will start September 19 next year.

Restrictions were placed on earlier conditioning of athletes however, and athletic departments will not be allowed to issue football equipment of any kind before that date. An attempt to prohibit conference games in September fell through.

Battle of the Fountain Pens

By HARDIN BURNLEY

THE BATTLE OF THE FOUNTAIN PENS! ..RUPPERT VS. RUTH.. READY TO BEGIN THE BIG CONTRACT STRUGGLE!

A DRAMA of the fountain pen, which threatens to out-drama that epic, wordy affair staged at St. Petersburg in the Spring of 1930, will shortly have its premiere—much to the delight of baseball enthusiasts. Those two thespians, Babe Ruth and Colonel Ruppert, who starred in the 1930 show, are brushing up their lines for the coming argument—the coming presentation.

Bambino is facing a tough assignment. It is a certainty that the Colonel is preparing to use the pruning knife on that $80,000 Ruthian salary. And the Babe is preparing just as assiduously, you may be sure, to keep that figure intact.

Yankee headquarters fired the first shot in the salary cutting battle with the announcement that the Bambino's contract will not be given special handling this year. It will be sent along with those for the lesser lights of the Yankee team and it will contain some new clauses—one being all important. "Then," said Ed Barrow, secretary of the club, "if Ruth doesn't like it there will be plenty of time for conferences."

In view of the Babe's advancing years Colonel Ruppert will surely try to hold his star to a one-year contract, and at the same time make him see the wisdom of a salary cut. His big argument in trying to put over the idea with Babe is the depression and the proposed general cut in baseball salaries in all leagues. These will give him a strong talking point. But the Bambino doesn't recognize this talk about his "getting old" and he's not particularly interested in the economic situation, except, of course, where it applies to his own particular purse-strings.

FATHER TIME'S RIVAL

Still a topnotcher though veteran of three Olympic meets and twenty-five years of competition Pat McDonald, former champion weight thrower, is shown training in New York in the hope of qualifying for the 1932 Olympics. Big Pat now a lieutenant on the New York police force, holds the world's Olympic record for the 56-pound weight throw of 36 feet 11 1/2 inches, made in Antwerp in 1920. He still beats men half his age.

CHURCH LEAGUE SEASON OPENED

Presbyterians Spring First Surprise by Beating Baptist Quintet

The Church league launched its 60-game season Monday night, with more than usual indications of a successful year in that both of the games played were closer than early contests usually have been in the past.

Presbyterians' 14 to 10 victory over First Baptist was something of an upset, with the performance of Pense at guard for the Presbyterians a notable factor. First Congregational defeated First Christian 32 to 18. Thomas of the winners engaging in a scoring duel with Bruce Cooley of the losers but getting better support.

The United Brethren-Temple Baptist game was postponed. Friday night Jason Lee will play First M. E., Evangelical will play Fruitland and American Lutheran will play Hayesville.

All league players have been requested to report in uniform that night at 7:45 for a group picture.

STATE'S PROPERTY TAX $2,184,615.49

Consists Entirely of Levy For Elementary Schools Commission Reports

Oregon's state property tax levy for 1932, based on property valuations for 1931, is $2,185,614.43, and includes only the elementary school tax, according to announcement made Monday by the state tax commission.

A comparison of the state property tax levies for the years 1931 and 1932 shows a saving of $4,592,627.91 for next year. Members of the state tax commission said this saving was made possible through the elimination of certain fixed tax levies and a material change in receipts.

The total requirements for 1932, exclusive of the elementary school tax, but including the deficit of the tax on the revenue laws, including the intangible, personal income and corporation excise tax acts for 1932, were estimated at $3,504,100.99.

The surplus from these laws for 1931, after deducting a shortage of $9,278,712.26. Receipts from the revenue laws in 1932 were estimated at $2,554,000.

The total value of taxable property in the state, including that equalized by the county board of equalization and that equalized and apportioned by the state tax commission, decreased from $1,125,160,592.37 in 1930 to $1,192,807,215.08 in 1931. The valuations for 1931 were used in calculating the 1932 tax levy. Marion county's total is $49,114,441.

The county property valuations for 1931 showed a decrease of approximately $35,000,000, when compared with those for 1930. The utility valuations increased slightly more than $2,000,000.

ROGERS BILLED AS TOUGH FOE

Sarpolis Meeting no Setup Here Friday, Assurance From Harry Plant

Jack Rogers, who wrestles Dr. Karl Sarpolis here Friday night, is said to be a tough youngster having tangled with Lou Koloff recently at Tacoma. Koloff ranks at least even with the doctor himself and that places Rogers up in the company of ranking heavies. Rogers is a muscle grinder type of wrestler with 215 pounds at his command.

WIFFY COX BEATS VON ELM IN FINAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14—(AP)—Maintaining a steady although decidedly not spectacular pace, Wiffy Cox, of Brooklyn, took the measure of George Von Elm, Los Angeles "business man" golfer, 6 and 5 today to win the 36-hole final of the $7500 national match play open championship.

The tall campaigner from the east, who won the last north and south open title and was a member of the American Ryder cup team, started out today with a 5 up lead on the second half of the match, postponed from yesterday because of rain.

His lead was never threatened. At the end of the first nine today, the 27th hole of the match, Von Elm had won back a hole to cut his opponent's lead to 4 up. Cox made it 5 up again at the 29th and clinched the match on the 31st, with a par 5 to Von Elm's 6.

Oregon City at Chemawa Friday; Injuries Listed

CHEMAWA, Dec. 14—Oregon City comes to Chemawa to play the first of a two game series, on Friday, Dec. 18. Oregon City has a strong quintet and should give Chemawa no end trouble. The Linfield freshmen, last week, played the type of game which showed the Indians off to good advantage and so the squad is as yet an unknown and untested one.

Two potential regulars will be missing from the squad: Dog-eagle, because of doctor's orders, and Russel Bobb who is under a 30 day suspension from Principal Christy.

SOPHOMORE GIRLS WIN FIRST EVENT

The sophomore team in the high school girls' interschool bowling tournament started their first match of the series from the juniors by a total pin score of 476 to 466.

Today's match will be between the juniors and seniors and the final on Wednesday between the sophomores and the seniors. The championship will be based on the total pin count.

If tentative plans materialize, a picked team of five girls in the near future will compete with a similar quintet of Corvallis high school girls bowlers. A number of the local girls show promise of becoming first class pin pushers, according to G. H. Derby, manager of the local alleys.

Scores rolled yesterday were: sophomores—Anne Cheren 124, Vivian VanLydegrat 95, Marjorie Young 78, Phyllis Keith 52 and Joyce Albee 127—476; juniors—Lillian Potter 120, Doris Hiday 66, Lottie Keppinger 88, Virginia Alderson 92 and Rachel Yocum—466.

TULANE BOSS

The responsibility and distinction of coaching a team with 100 per cent record for wins this year, falls on the broad shoulders of Ted Cox (above), new head coach at Tulane University. Cox, formerly a star tackle at Minnesota, served the New Orleans varsity as line coach under Bernie Bierman, and on the latter's leaving Tulane for Minnesota Cox has been appointed to his position.

CURT COMMENTS

All the fireworks that were predicted for the Coast conference meeting in San Francisco seem to have been lacking the first day, or if any were shot off, the smoke was carefully wafted away before the reporters were admitted to the council chambers.

Ordinarily perhaps secrecy might be a good thing for a meeting of that kind, but when there are mighty and all-important questions to be answered, it would seem "open covenants openly arrived at" would be the better policy.

A vast army of fans in the northwest want to know, now that one "semi-pro" youth has been declared ineligible, whether there are any other boys on conference teams who have received money and what's to be done with them if there are. It's pretty general opinion that every football squad in the conference contained some players just as ineligible as Joe Lillard of Oregon. The fans want to know if Jonathan Butler found that out and is recommending that all games be declared forfeited. That is, the fans want to hear the answer but they know it already.

Slats Gill, a home town boy who made good, has a new idea for speeding up basketball but he won't try it out when he brings the Oregon State boys here Saturday. Oh, his boys will probably show some super speed, but that's another story.

Gill's idea is to have an umpire sitting up with the scorers and marking down personal fouls, and when a man has four of them, that man comes out and the last man fouled gets a free throw. The referee would stop the game only for technical fouls or held ball, or for intentional fouls—roughing and the like.

We're not saying it wouldn't work. On the other hand basketball is a pretty strenuous game and it would be more strenuous under such a system as that; just to the extent that Slats' plan succeeded in speeding it up.

WOODBURN CITY HOOPERS LED BY A SCHOOLER

WOODBURN, Dec. 14—A city basketball team has been organized here, with Adrian "Casey" Schooler as leader of the group. Other members of the team are Walter Bomboff, Harry Sims, LaVerne Schooler, Matthew Mochal, Emerson Baldwin and Harold Schooler. The team members are basketball players of good reputation, and will probably turn in several good games this season.

All of them are graduates of the local high school.

Several games have already been scheduled. Among them are contests with the Wranglers of Salem, the Willamette university freshman team, and possibly the Willamette varsity.

GRAPPLERS AID JOBLESS

With the championship within his grasp George Calza, of Italy, is shown using every ounce of pressure he can bring to bear to turn Jim London (bottom), the champion, and pin his shoulders to the mat. But to the accompaniment of many audible evidences of physical suffering London broke free and turned the tables, nailing his opponent in 44 minutes, 51 seconds, to retain the mat title. Match was fought out at Madison Square Garden, New York, and proceeds went to aid unemployed.

Fricition on Davis Squad Is Revealed

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—(AP)—Fricition on the last United States Davis cup tennis squad, which may have contributed to its unsuccessful play in the interzone at Wimbledon, England, was disclosed today by Sidney B. Wood, Jr., 19-year-old member of the team in an attack on its captain, Samuel Hardy.

Wood, answering a recent article by Hardy in which the latter suggested Wood was hardly of international calibre and should not be considered for the team next year, charged the captain with severely criticizing him during his match with H. W. (Bunny) Austin, instead of encouraging him.

De-Emphasizing Football is Aim Of New York U.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—(AP)—Dr. Elmer E. Brown, chancellor of New York university, announced tonight the university's policy of "sports for sports' sake" would be the determining factor in the selection of a football coach to succeed John F. (Chick) Meahan, resigned.

Dr. Brown said the faculty board of athletic control had adopted a new athletic policy to become effective with the incoming freshmen in September 1932. This policy, in general, aimed at the de-emphasizing of football.
