

HOME COMING HELD BY LODGES SUCCESS

Many Members Odd Fellows and Rebekahs Back for Annual Event

SCOTT'S MILLS, Dec. 15.—The annual homecoming of Butte lodge No. 126, I. O. O. F. and Ivy Rebekah lodge No. 101, was held Saturday night, December 12, in the I. O. O. F. hall. There were approximately 175 present, including visitors from Salem, Eugene, Gervais, Woodburn, Portland, Silverton, Molalla and Oregon City.

Mrs. Ethel Meldrum, president of the Rebekah assembly of Oregon; Grand Master Homer D. Angell; Past Grand Master Fred Mendel of Portland and Mrs. Etta Little, matron of the I. O. O. F. in Portland, who brought with her Willie Hammer, one of the boys who lives at the home, were visitors.

Lunch was served by the Rebekah committee. Mrs. Charles Swartout, Mrs. W. T. Hogg and Mrs. Lloyd Murray, assisted by Mrs. Ivan Smith, Mrs. Arthur Rich, Mrs. Lloyd Heinz and W. E. Hogg.

The program was as follows: song by Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Brougher and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jones; address of welcome, Fred Skirwin; response, P. G. M. Fred Mendel; violin solo, Ralph Branch of Salem; Miss Olive Schurtz, pianist; male trio and harmonica trios of Milwaukee lodge; history of the two lodges by Mrs. O. H. Brougher; a short talk by Mrs. Ethel Meldrum, P. R. A., who was also presented with a bouquet of carnations by Ivy Rebekah lodge; address by Homer D. Angell, G. M.

Twenty-five year jewels were presented to three members of Butte lodge by Grand Master Angell. Receiving them were O. L. Scott, Fred Hubbard and Will Nicholson.

The program was in charge of O. H. Brougher, Lloyd Murry and Arthur Rich. After supper old time music was played by Ed Lutgen and family of Eugene. Mr. Lutgen was a former resident of Scott's Mills and a member of Butte lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hill of Salem attended the Odd Fellow and Rebekah homecoming Saturday evening and spent Sunday with Mrs. Hill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hogg.

Mrs. Shiveley Tells Of Near Accident

WACONDA, Dec. 15.—Mrs. Tom Shiveley returned Sunday from a visit with her daughter, Halle Gudgel at Hood River. What might have proved a more serious accident occurred on the Columbia highway when the bus in which she was riding crowded a car into the ditch. Fortunately no one was hurt.

HOLLYWOOD SPECULATES ON BOW KNOT

THE question one hears on all sides in Hollywood these days is "Will it last?" alluding, of course, to the marriage of Clara Bow, temptuous star of the screen, and Rex Bell, her movie cowboy. When the film capital heard the news of the secret ceremony at Las Vegas, N. M., it at once began to speculate on how long the "tie that binds" would remain tied, recalling that the famous "It" girl is quick to begin, and as quick to end, a romance. The Brooklyn girl, who rose to stardom and one of the biggest salaries in the movie industry, has been near the altar on many occasions, but this is the first time she went through with the journey. Her first romance—with Donald Keith, film hero—she broke off after setting a wedding date, because her father warned her that marriage would interfere with her career. Then came Gilbert Roland, whom she discarded because he was jealous and resented other men's attentions to the beautiful red-head. Victor Fleming, famous director, next found a place in Clara's heart, not for long, being supplanted by Robert Savage, son of wealthy steel man, who attempted suicide when his adored one cooled towards him. Gary Cooper, big, silent he-man, was the next to fall victim to Cupid's Bow, but Clara ditched Gary when she took a yen for Morley Drury, captain of the Southern California grid squad. That romance never flowered. Dr. William Earl Pearson fell under the "It" spell while Clara was a patient in a Los Angeles hospital, but he already had a wife—and finally broke with Bell came prominently into the Bow saga when he aided her during the Daisy De Voe trial.

EVENTS LEADING TO PROHIBITION TOLD

HAZEL GREEN, Dec. 15.—Mrs. Necla Buck, lecturer and field worker for the W. C. T. U. of Oregon, gave an inspiring address at the church here Sunday. She outlined the events which led to the prohibition law, tracing back to the foundation of the first saloon in this country six years after the Pilgrims landed and shortly thereafter passage of a law prohibiting sale of liquor to Indians.

Pointing out that liquor interests of this and European countries are anxious to nullify the Volstead law for their own enrichment, Mrs. Buck asked: "How much beer would our working men have to drink to pay the revenue needed that our rich people might add to their fortunes?" she added that congressional records show that as much as $60,000 each was given by three Dupont brothers for efforts to annul the law.

Mrs. Buck held a short conference to secure names of prospective members for a local union which may be formed from the Labish Center, Middle Grove and Hazel Green areas.

The Christian Endeavorers went to Labish Center Sunday night to see Hoffman's pictures and to see Hoffmann's pictures of Christ, presented at the church there.

Improvement Club To Have Christmas Tree, Dinner Today

CLEAR LAKE, Dec. 15.—Mrs. Alex Harold of Stayton is visiting her son, Ralph Harold, a few days.

The Ladies Improvement club will hold its Christmas tree at the club room Wednesday afternoon. Quitting will be done in forenoon with pot luck dinner. Every woman in the community is invited and should bring a present worth not more than 15 cents.

Mrs. Mae Garner of Turner came home with her brother, George Garner, Friday and returned home Monday.

Mrs. Napp and baby Sunday came out from the hospital at Salem to her aunt's, Mrs. Robertson.

Today—Gary Cooper in "Fighting Caravans"
Friday—Alice White in "Naughty Flirt"
"Blonde Crazy," which will be the feature at Warner Bros. Elsinore today, is built on stupendous lines: masses of people; inclusive photographic shots; lavish scenes and withal much "wise-cracking" and hilarity.
Warner Bros. were the producers of the play and spent much money in making it a success. As to whether they succeeded or not you may decide for yourself today.

The cast of the fast-moving modern comedy-drama includes Louis Calhern, Noel Francis, Guy Kibbee, Raymond Milland, Polly Walters, Charles Levinson, William Burress, Peter Erkelens, Maude Eburne, Walter Percival and Nat Pendleton. The story is by Kubec Glasmon and John Bright who did "The Public Enemy." Roy Del Ruth directed.

Lewis Stone, starring actor of stage and screen, plays a new part in his latest picture, "The Bargain," the current First National offering at Warner Bros. Capitol. Dressed in a smock, and with palette and brushes in hand, he gives a portrayal of a middle-aged and reluctant artist, Una Merkel is the model.

"The Bargain," a heart-warming domestic drama also features Doris Kenyon, Evalyn Knapp, Charles Butterworth, John Barrow and others. Robert Milton directed.

CROWLEY'S DOUBLE DOESN'T GET FREE

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Patrick O'Brien, 20, was on his way back to Sing Sing today to serve a 20 to 40-year term for a holdup because a general sessions jury wouldn't believe his "double," Francis "Two-Gun" Crowley, the bragging young desperado who is under a death sentence for murder.

O'Brien first was convicted and sent to Sing Sing in March. There somebody noticed a resemblance to Crowley. It won him a new trial when his attorneys agreed there was a chance there had been a mistaken identity.

O'Brien claimed Crowley and admitted they held up the drug store. Weed, however, recalled when he heard that he might face an additional sentence of 20 to 40 years. Crowley, slated to die, corroborated O'Brien's story in court.

LEGION, AUXILIARY PLAN JOINT AFFAIR

Plans for the joint Christmas meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary scheduled for the night of December 23, were made definite at a meeting of committees representing the two organizations Tuesday night.

It was decided that a program of eight numbers would be presented, followed by dancing, refreshments and a Christmas tree feature.

All members of both organizations attending will be asked to bring edibles for distribution to the more than 40 destitute families which the Auxiliary is caring for. The general public will be given an opportunity to contribute to this supply of foodstuffs the following day.

MOCK WEDDING IS PROGRAM FEATURE

WEST STAYTON, Dec. 15.—Women of the West Stayton Growers' club held a bazaar at the school here Saturday. In addition to other attractions, the following program was given:

Several short skits from the senior class play to be given at the Aumsville high school December 17; a mock wedding, with Mrs. O. O. Lacy as the minister, L. B. McClendon as the bride, Mrs. John Tegen, bridegroom; Mrs. Elmer Asche, bride's mother; Mrs. Weston Lacy, the bride's father; Mrs. Clyde Comstock, bridesmaid; Mrs. Carl Gibson, best man; Mrs. Charles Darley and Mrs. William Royse, flower girls; Weston Lacy and O. O. Lacy, pages, and Theodore Lacy, ring bearer, Martha Irish was pianist. The bride wore a train of 20 yards of unbleached muslin and carried a bouquet of cauliflower.

Mrs. Verna Irish sang "I Love You Truly" and "Home Sweet Home."

The proceeds totaled between $60 and $70. This was the first bazaar ever given at West Stayton. Funds will be used to finish paying for the piano, which the ladies have purchased and put in the schoolhouse.

AGE AND YOUTH SEE SNOW DIFFERENTLY

LIBERTY, Dec. 15.—The light flurries of snow here gave rise to quite different feelings of hope in the old and young residents of the community; the hopes of each fluctuating oppositely with the start and cessation of the fall of the feathery flakes.

The youngsters fervently wished it would "snow hard," with visions all for sleds and snowballs. The older folks' hopes seemed to be centered on the woodpile—it might last quite a while, but a real cold spell would diminish it very rapidly.

Fred DeVries, president of the Marion County Council of Religious Education, visited the Liberty Sunday school while it was in session Sunday. Mr. DeVries later was a guest at the J. G. Judd home.

Mrs. P. G. Judd and son Harlan motored to Northmouth Sunday afternoon where they visited with Mrs. Judd's mother, Mrs. P. Williams, and sisters, Mrs. Dora Little and Mrs. Charles Bracken. Harlan Judd also drove on to Corvallis where he visited his brother Leslie and family and his sister Dorothy, who is attending O. S. C.

Miss Pearl Scott, who has been enjoying several weeks' vacation, is back at work in the dental office of Dr. Lewis.

4-H CLUBS FORMED AT WEST STAYTON

WEST STAYTON, Dec. 15.—Four-H club workers have again started work here. The two organized clubs are the Second Division Sewing club and Boys' Camp Cooking club.

Mrs. W. O. Royse is instructing the sewing club, members of which are Fern Lewis, president; Bessie Downer, vice president; Dorothy Harms, secretary; Ruth Kohl and Naomi Chamberlin.

The girls chose "Merry Maids" for their club name. L. B. McClendon is instructing the boys cooking club. Members are Donald Hankel, president; Gene Wise, vice president; Dean Mark Lewis, Paul McKim, John Vytlaek, Harold Rishel, Douglas Wilkinson, William Shellenberger, Lawrence Legen, Texas Snoddy, Melvin Asche, Gene McClendon, Harvey Sprinkle, Lloyd Kelly and Kenneth Wilkinson.

The West Stayton Birthday club will meet at the home of Mrs. W. O. Royse Wednesday, December 16. The women are going to celebrate Christmas by exchanging gifts.

GERMAN-AMERICAN ALLIANCE

It seems that little Dan Cupid is a better hand at fostering good will than all the diplomats who are striving for international amity, his latest stunt resulting in a German-American alliance. Here is Consul William E. Beitz, of the U. S. Consulate at Berlin, with his bride, the former Fraulein Waltraut Elizabeth von Gohren, daughter of the late Admiral von Gohren of the German Navy, shown after their marriage in the German capital. The bride is also a niece of General Cuno von Stueben, head of the famous family whose ancestor assisted the American colonists in their war for independence.

Gerald Finleys at Shelburn; Program To be Held Friday

SHELburn, Dec. 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Finley of Turner and little son Teddy are at his parents' home for an extended visit. They will help care for Gerald's grandmother, Mrs. Overholts. H. J. Muller has within the last week lost three valuable horses from blind staggers. Mrs. Will Dart left Monday for her home in Hebo. Mrs. Dart has been at the Finley home for three weeks, helping care for her mother, Mrs. Overholt. The Shelburn, Queener, Cole, and Mt. Pleasant schools will put on a joint Christmas program at the Cole school house Friday night, December 18.

Final Rites Held in Portland for Mrs. F. Skinner

INDEPENDENCE, Dec. 15.—Funeral services were held for Mrs. Frank Skinner in Finley's chapel in Portland Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Mrs. Skinner suffered an attack of pneumonia following the flu and was ill only a few days before her death.

RABBIT HUNTING IS SPORT ABOUT HILLS

VICTOR POINT, Dec. 15.—The grange social Saturday night was in the nature of a "hard-times" dance. A large crowd enjoyed the affair.

Several of the Union Hill grange members plan to attend the meeting of Chemawa grange Thursday night. The officers of Chemawa grange will be installed at that time.

Sunday Dr. Loar and a party of friends from Silverton came out to the J. C. Krenz farm and together with a group of local hunters enjoyed a day of rabbit hunting. Dolph Heater of Union Hill was also a member of the party.

Mrs. Phillip Fischer, who has been in Albany with her daughter, Mrs. Alexander, who is quite ill, returned home Sunday night. Mrs. Alexander is slightly improved but is still unable to be up.

Mrs. Julius Kren went to Stayton Sunday afternoon to attend a meeting called by Mrs. Lambert, who will install grange officers of Marion county. The meeting was held at the Stayton grange hall.

Hall Values Are Talked By Grangers

CHEMAWA, Dec. 15.—The executive committee of the grange, Addison Page, John Zilinski and Lester Evans met with the board of managers of the Woodmen, Ed. Ward, A. Matthes and William S. Clement, Monday night with the object of putting a valuation on the hall and an endeavor to reach a conclusion as to whether the grange should buy an interest in the hall.

H. W. Bowden, who replaced Tom Maddock as grange appraiser, presented figures representing the cost of the hall if rebuilt new at present prices. These figures were said to be low in comparison to prices at the time the hall was built. It appears, however, that the Woodmen would make a few sacrifices, willingly, for the good of the community, if the grange decides to buy an interest in the property.

This matter will be brought up at the regular meeting Thursday night.
