Pupils Sell Seals—As a climax to their health projects, pupils at McKinley school are selling Christmas seals. The sale is being conducted at a decorated table in the hall, in keeping with the Yuletide spirit and in preparation for their Christmas program which will be given at 9 o'clock next Tuesday morning. The hall has been decorated with a tree and ornaments. At the program, a pageant, "Christmas in Pictures" directed by Mrs. Merle Davenport will be given. A chorus of 20 children of the fifth and sixth grades, in charge of Miss Ruth Draper, will supplement the part of 40 or more children in the presentation. The pageant will be repeated at the parent-teacher meeting that night. The chorus will sing carols in the school hall on Wednesday.

Sign Restored—A "keep off" sign on the postoffice path leading from that building to Court street has been posted again by Postmaster John Farrar who thus protests against the despoiling of the postoffice walk. The path has been used by pedestrians going to and from the postoffice and the Y. M. C. A. and the latter institution had requested the city government to have a traffic lane placed across Court street to the "Y". The request has not been granted and the postmaster has announced that to continue to use the path longer would indirectly contribute to possible accidents which might occur when pedestrians crossed Court street.

Low Students Warned—Freshmen students at Willamette university who make less than a grade of "C" in more than one fifth of their work, will be put on probation for the following semester, states Dean Erickson. In case the student gets two grades above "B", he will not be placed on probation for dropping below the "C" average. When on probation, the student must make at least a "C" average the following semester or be dropped from school. Any freshman student who does not pass in at least eight hours of work, is dropped, states the Dean.

Haag Attends Court—The presence of A. C. Haag, retiring president of Cascade area, Boy Scouts of America, at the honor court at the state house on Wednesday, was inadvertently omitted in the report of the proceedings. This court, one of the largest ever held in the area, was the last Mr. Haag will attend as president of the council during the coming year. He sat on the roster along with the justices of the supreme court and other council members.

Forefathers Honored—Forefathers day was celebrated at Willamette university Thursday with Dean Alden, history professor, recounting the story of the first settlement in New England by the Pilgrims. He stated that the date of their landing is not certain, but was probably between January 16 and 22. Alden told that the Pilgrims were forced to sell their store of butter to get sufficient money for the expedition before leaving Holland.

Students Enjoy Song—Christmas songs were sung by the group at a Willamette university student social held at Waller hall Thursday night, and a Christmas program was enjoyed. Professor Matthews gave a well received Christmas talk. A violin duet was given by Jeanette Smith and Marjorie Wonder, followed by a Christmas tree scene, with a little boy hanging his stocking.

Trial Date Set—Trial of the case of Darcy vs. Director has been set for December 21 in circuit court here. Judge Bagley of Hillsboro will hear the case, which involves a lease granted by plaintiff to defendant on business property on North Liberty street.

Says He Can't Pay—Answer in the case of the Bena company vs. J. W. Lafolette has been filed in circuit court here. The defendant alleges he is willing to pay money due on a note to the plaintiff but present conditions make it impossible. Pressing the claim has made payment doubly hard, Lafolette says, and thus he asks the court to set aside the claim because he has been impaired by the suit in his ability to make settlement.

Mrs. Rose Wants Divorce—Suit for divorce was begun in circuit court here yesterday by Mrs. Ileana E. Rose, wife of Lee R. Rose, to whom she was married in 1924 in Kansas. Rose is now in the state penitentiary having been sent there from Multnomah county in 1929 on charge of assault with attempt to rob. Mrs. Rose was a custody of her five children whose ages run from three to seven years.

Bridge Opened—The South Capitol street bridge between Bellevue and Oak streets was opened to traffic yesterday after being closed for two months. An entirely new structure was built to replace the old one which was too decrepit to merit repair.

To Montana—Hal Bollinger yesterday left Salem for Portland where he will remain until December 22. At that time he will proceed to Bozeman, Mont.

RESERVOIR PERMITS SOUGHT AT CAPITAL

Two important applications, involving water and reservoir rights in eastern Oregon, were filed in the offices of the state engineer here today by the federal government.

One application seeks permission to construct the Thief valley reservoir on 'Powder' river, near North Powder, for the storage of 35,000 acre feet of water for irrigation and domestic purposes. The other asks permission to construct the Agency valley reservoir on the North Fork of the Malheur river near Beulah, for the storage of 120,000 acre feet of water. The estimated cost of the Thief valley project is $136,000. The Agency valley project will cost approximately $1,100,000.

The proposed Thief valley dam, which is to be completed during 1932, is to be of reinforced concrete. It will be 65 feet in height and 380 feet in length. The dam for the Agency valley reservoir will be an earth fill 94 feet in height and a length on top of 1700 feet.

The Thief valley dam will create an artificial lake having an area of 760 acres when full, and the Agency valley reservoir when full will cover 1900 acres.

VACATION OPENS AT WILLAMETTE TODAY

School will close officially for the remainder of the year at Willamette university today noon following regular classes for the morning and a student assembly at which time awards will be presented.

Vacation for the students will consist of two full weeks and three week ends, with classes starting again Monday, January 4. Three more weeks of regular school will be held in 1932 for the first semester and final examination week will be from January 25 to 29.

Twenty-five football men will receive awards for the past season's play. Those to receive letters are: Max Allen, Keith Jones, Gus Lorenz, Roy Benjamin, Jack Connor, Wenzel Kaiser, Fred Smith, Putz Aerns, Percy Carpenter, Howard Orr, Marion Boyd, Loren Grannis, Robert Houck, Dan Mahan, Edward Frantz, Walter Erickson, Gordon Williams, George Cannady, Don Faber, Fred Paul, William Ross, Louis Johnson, Fritz Aerns, Charles Ingersoll and Lloyd Girod.

Occurrences and Gossip of the center of Oregon's state government

RUMOR went around the state capitol yesterday that a Tom and Jerry setup was waiting the press members in the state office building. Investigation was started at once.

But upon arrival it was learned the only Tom and Jerry around was Tom Rilea and Jerry Owen. These boys are nice fellows, but the disappointment was keen.

News went out from the capitol yesterday reviewing the old time expression, which everyone knows, about what the governor of North Carolina said to the governor of South Carolina. But the question asked Mr. Marks yesterday was what the governor of Oregon said to the governor of Oregon.

Julius L. Meier, absentee governor of the state, talked to Governor Willard L. Marks over long distance phone from Los Angeles. Marks said they exchanged felicitations, and that Meier reported he was feeling fine down there. Marks assured him everything was going well here, upon which the governor replied "I knew it would."

Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner, head of the state hospital for the insane will leave in a few days on a three weeks' trip to California and other southwest states. The board of control granted him the leave of absence yesterday, gladly. Dr. Steiner is one of the most popular institution heads in Oregon, and has been in the service of the state many years.

At the board of control meeting yesterday two important matters were brought up, but both were deferred until the return of Governor Meier, as he has been personally interested in both. One was the matter of cell fronts at the state penitentiary and the other was the installation of a new boiler in the capitol.

The cell fronts were reported 98 per cent completed, and that the job was expected to be finished by the first of the year. There has been a lot of controversy over the cell fronts, and there probably will be more before the job is accepted and the issue disposed of. There is also disagreement over the need of a new heating plant boiler.

The governor's office and the state purchasing department will permit most of their staffs a three-day vacation over Christmas. The treasurer's office likewise, following the example of the department of state. These offices however will be open on Saturday as usual for any urgent business transactions, it was announced.

There will be no board meetings of any kind next week, Governor Willard L. Marks announced, although Marks will be here most of the week. From all indications next week, and even the week after, look like slim news weeks for state house reporters at least. But the press boys will no doubt be busy opening Christmas packages received from the various departments.

CITY REGISTRATION REOPENS THURSDAY

Registration of voters was resumed for the Salem precincts yesterday at the county clerk's office, the poll books having been closed for 30 days prior to the special election December 15. The books will be open until April 20, 1932, when they will close for a 30-day period prior to the May primaries.

A number of citizens appeared at the courthouse yesterday to register, the majority of the persons being those who had found, too late, that they were unable to vote Tuesday.

The law requires registration of all voters who have moved their residence within the city 30 or more days before the voting day as well as of newcomers to the city or persons who have not voted in any election for two or more years.

Mark Jones and Bob Hubbard will be co-captains of the North Carolina cross-country team next year.
