GILMORE PLAYS SANTA CLAUS

"Down, Gilmore, Down" is what these youngsters will say because they will soon be devouring the candy models of "Gilmore the Lion." All Gilmore dealers will pass these candy lion heads out on Thursday, December 24th, for a Merry Christmas.

Dollar Will go a Long Way in Christmas Shopping This Year

Attractive Gifts at Extremely low Prices Found in Many of Salem's Stores Just now

"Save the nickles and the dollars will take care of themselves" and if you have the dollars now you are in luck for it is all but amazing how much a dollar will buy in the stores this season. The dollars could really take care of your Christmas if you keep your gifts down to the Hoover regime.

Hop the "dollar limited" and see what can be purchased. One store has a twenty-five cent table which, when told about, sounds like one of Anderson's fables. Painted mat hot pads, candle sticks that are really clever, odd little favors, salt and pepper sets, and many more things that are unusual and—cheap, a combination not often found.

Really lovely pieces of excellent glass ware are now to be obtained for various fractions of a dollar—for the whole dollar the purchaser may get attractive sets, and combinations which would form a delightful gift for a discriminating housewife.

Quaint little pickle dishes, nut dishes, conserve containers, candle sticks to match dinner sets, bowls for flowers, clever ice buckets of glass, and mayonnaise bowls all come well within the limit of a dollar in a Salem shop.

And crockery vases, odd pitchers, plates that would lend a bit of color to a corner, cookie jars, all are to be found for a dollar or less.

One place hair brushes with a very fine grade of ivory back was found which had been $5 and are now marked $1. There were powder boxes of the same material and for the same price.

Military brushes were found for less than a dollar and so were shaving sets, manicuring sets—it may not be believed but time was when these cost much more.

A darling bunny rabbit hot water bottle for the tiny infant can be had for less than a dollar.

Fountain pens that will stay in condition for months they say, and in all the newest colors can be had for a dollar. A bridge score favor of a metal cat with a pencil attached to its neck was found for less, and Chinese brass ware in smoking sets are effective gift hints under a dollar in cost.

And books—best authors of modern times and subjects as varied as the material about which books are written may be found in substantial binding, good grade of paper, printing pleasing—just a dollar.

A tiny little pocket dictionary was found which would be fun to slip into the gift package of some small book-worm.

A frame of shoe trees in color, hat stand with bendable stems, were two things that would please some orderly soul. Less than a dollar too, and that would please the Scotch.

Purses, woolen mittens, India prints, scarfs both silk and woolen, hankies that would make any nose that will really wear—just a few things that can be found and purchased with a dollar if care is taken.

A curious little lamp made of coppery looking material was found for less than a dollar—it had a quaint shape and was interesting looking.

And if there is a bit more to spend than a dollar—well, there should be satisfaction in the heart of every purchaser who joys in getting what he wants and getting

The following visitors: John Richard, Hugh Hurt, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tate of Stayton and Mrs. Effie Sweeney assisted in the installation of Miss Irma Keeler, Mrs. Fred McCall, Harold McCall, and Carol Cummings.

Other visitors present were Mrs. Ethel Hurt, Mrs. John Richard, Mr. L. S. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney of Stayton, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stacey, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Dallas, F. E. Wilson of Red Hill; Archie Weisner, North Howell, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Gilmore and J. C. Krens of Union Hill.

The grange favored the following state officers: R. W. Gill, master; Charles Weikland, R. W. William Maxwell, overseer; Mrs. Marie Flint McCall, lecturer; Ethel Hurt, secretary and Walter Pierce, George Palmiter, Ervyn T. Weathered, Morton Tompkins, executive committee.

Time is too short to go into the matter of buying an interest in the hall but it is understood that this proposition will be thoroughly threshed out at a special meeting that the master, H. W. Bowden says he will call sometime the early part of January.

RELIEF SQUAD HAS CHEER WORK READY

MOLALLA, Dec. 21.—The Molalla division of the Clackamas county unemployment division held a meeting in the union high school building recently. A large attendance, and an abundance of enthusiasm was reported.

Chairman Mary H. N. Everhart presided at the meeting. Secretary J. O. Staats reported that the cash receipts for the past week were $27.50. The faculty of the high school is donating $2.50 each month to the fund. Mr. Staats also reported that the Girls' League of the high school have been making some fine donations in the form of canned food and vegetables.

The league has a membership of 114 members and each member has signed up to donate something, either food or clothing.

Plans were made to fill baskets with food and toys and distribute his money's worth at the same time.

to the needy families of the community. A list of the names of families who are in need had been made by the committee chairman and the number of children in the family so that each kiddie will have a little Christmas cheer. Anyone that has toys to donate is leaving them at the secretary's office where the baskets will be filled and distributed from, the day before Christmas.

The following precincts were represented at the meeting: Molalla No. 1 by Mrs. Mary Robbins, C. W. Foglesong and Mrs. J. W. Moore; Molalla No. 2, Rav. C. M. Brown, Mrs. E. G. Miller and Mrs. J. O. Staats; Wilhoit, A. M. Gresham and H. C. Olsen; Mulina, A. C. Erickson; Meadowbrook, W. S. Gorbett; Liberal, Floyd Chapman, Lew Wallace; Dickey Prairie, Cary Feyer, J. W. Standing; Teasel Creek, S. A. Cordill; North Molalla, Mrs. Peter Faurie, W. N. Shope.

Changes to Permit All to Attend Two Yuletide Programs

SPRING VALLEY, Dec. 21.—Everyone will now be able to attend both the Christmas programs given by the teachers and students of Spring Valley and Lincoln school as Mrs. Irene Castle, teacher of Lincoln, has consented to change the date of their program to Tuesday night, December 22.

The Spring Valley program will be Wednesday night. A number of people expressed a desire to attend both programs due to being interested in the community club.

Chris Yungen, Frank Matthews and Ben McKinney, under the direction of Clyde Ebbert, president of the Community club have been busy this week collecting money to buy candy for the Spring Valley entertainment.

FESTIVITY KEEPS CHILDREN ON TOES

Rooms to Hold Programs on Wednesday, With big Event That Night

LIBERTY, Dec. 21.—Anticipation for the Christmas festivities is at high pitch among the school children. The rooms are beautifully decorated and a tree trimmed with tinsel, trinkets and presents adorn each room. The children have drawn names, each one giving a small gift to the owner of the name drawn. The teachers are also giving treats to the youngsters, Wednesday, when the school tree exercises are held in each room. The older people are also looking forward to the big program Wednesday night.

Dress rehearsal will be held Tuesday. The school here will remain closed for vacation after the last day of school on Wednesday until January 4.

The Liberty town basketball team played the Airline team there on Thursday evening, losing heavily to the superior Airline quintet.

The literary club met Thursday night at the Joe Williams home. Miss Winona Williams reviewed the book "Grand Hotel" for the members. Other subjects came in for animated discussion. The next meeting will be held in three weeks instead of two weeks. Those attending the meeting were: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williams, Joe, Jr., and Winona Williams, P. G. Judd and Mr. and Mrs. F. Judd, Miss Lena Hummel, Miss Florence Berard and Miss Laverne Oakland.

Howard Olsen left for Portland where he will spend the next two weeks.

High Pupils Put Mystery Play up Big

STAYTON, Dec. 21.—Odd spirit voices, mysterious writings on a slate, a mad scramble for the possession of a common ironing board, and the mystery of men or spirits in yellow slickers created a tense atmosphere at the play, "The Hidden Guest", which was presented by the student body, Thursday and Friday in the high school auditorium.

The entire cast is as follows: Miss Minnie Mayfield, a sensitive little spinster, Naomi Tobie; Ruby Mayfield, a modern college girl, Hazel Murphy; Nellie Trotwood, a society girl, Valueda Darley; Bert Judkins, a good looking college boy, Gerald Marking; Mrs. Barrington, a middle aged widow, Lulu Lewis; John Judkins, a middle aged business man, Dixon Parry; Melanthuria (Melons), a slightly deaf servant, Sylvia Stupka; Otto Hubner, a clever forger, Marion Lampman; Tad Wilson, a college boy and friend of Bert's, Stewart Mayo; Mcarty, an Irish policeman, Raymond Kerber; Chester Briggs, a faithful employee of John Judkins, Vernon Snoddy.

The play, which was directed by Miss Margaret Ireland, Stayton high school teacher, was a huge success.

Rickreall School Out For Two Full Weeks

RICKREALL, Dec. 21.—The Rickreall schools closed Friday for the Christmas holidays. They will have two weeks' vacation this year.

Both the grade school and high school attended their regular classes Friday morning.

In the afternoon they enjoyed their Christmas tree parties where each student received a small present as a result of drawing names two weeks ago.

Prof. F. M. Mitchell of the high school was unable to attend the high school party since he has been ill for several days at his home in Salem. After much fun the students were served ice cream and wafers.

CANTATA ATTRACTS LARGE ATTENDANCE

OAK POINT, Dec. 21.—There the Christmas cantata by the was a record crowd at the Oak Point school Friday night to attend the Christmas cantata by the school children. "Santa Claus in Story Land" and the play, "Christmas at the Stebbens", played by the young people of the Christian Endeavor of the Sunday school.

Mrs. G. A. Peterson, chairman of the Independence Rural Woman's club presented the quilt to Miss Pearl Eyre, critic teacher of the school.

A Santa Claus appeared on the scene after the program and told stories to the children and passed out presents and candy and nuts.

Mr. and Mrs. John Walker are looking forward to the coming of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walker, who were married Tuesday, December 15, in United church at Scotts, Saskatchewan in Canada. They left immediately after the ceremony for Oregon where they expect to spend the winter at the home of Mr. Walker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Walker. Harry is an extensive farmer in Canada, but comes to spend the winter in Oregon every year.
