ACQUITTED — THEN MURDERED

The inevitable end of the road was reached by Jack "Legs" Diamond, New York beer baron, when he was shot to death in Albany, N. Y., while celebrating his acquittal of the kidnaping charge for which he was recently tried. Two men are said to have entered the room where the party was in progress and fired point blank at the gang chief, killing him instantly.

Mrs. Alice Diamond, the gangster's wife, is held as a material witness. Above is the last photo made of Diamond as his attorney, Judge Daniel A. Prior (left), congratulated him on his acquittal. Mrs. Diamond is in the center.

DIAMOND'S FINISH AN OBJECT LESSON

DIAMOND (Right) ON EVE OF DEATH JACK 'LEGS' DIAMOND HIS LAST RIDE

The rigging down of the curtain upon the career of Jack "Legs" Diamond, the New York sneak thief, more than ever emphasizes the truth contained in the slogan: "You can't get away with it." Arrested 25 times for crimes ranging from petty larceny to murder, Diamond, the New York sneak thief, was sentenced to power in the underworld, served but one short sentence in a reformatory. Consequently, he sneered at the laws of the country and broke them just as he pleased. But the code of gang-land could not be so lightly violated, as Diamond found to his cost. Three times he survived when rival gangsters pumped bullets into his consumptive body, but this last time his enemies took good care that there should be no recovery. Entering the rooming house in Albany, N. Y., where Diamond was sleeping off the effects of a gay party, held to celebrate his acquittal of an abduction charge a few hours earlier, gunmen put three bullets in his brain, giving fresh significance to the warning "YOU CAN'T WIN."

END OF A CROOKED ROAD

This photo-diagram shows the scene of the execution by gangdom of Jack "Legs" Diamond, New York sneak thief, who wanted to be emperor of the underworld. Diamond had taken up his quarters in a cheap rooming house at Albany, N. Y., to throw his enemies off the trail, and secure in the belief he had succeeded, went to bed to sleep off the effects of a party in celebration of his acquittal on an abduction charge. He never woke again, as the bullets fired into his brain caused instant death.

the receipts for the ten days were $246.45, and for 1931 the receipts were $199.75, making a difference in favor of last year of $46.70. So far as the amount of pieces of mail handled, packages and letters or cards, is concerned, the number is not far short of any of 1930. The mail carriers were loaded as they left every morning for a week, one of them having to make the second trip to the postoffice before proceeding around his route.

The Presbyterian church was well filled Sunday night to see the motion picture of Dr. D. E. Hill of Salem. Rev. H. L. Grafious, the pastor, is a hard working divine and is doing a lot of good in this community, being responsible for the doctor's coming to Gervais. Mr. Grafious also has the pastorate at Aurora and Fairfield.

Mother! to reduce your family "Colds-Tax"—use the Vick Plan for Better "Control-of-Colds" in your Home.

"I'll be fair with you.."

"I LIKE the way you put it up to us smokers to judge your cigarette by absolutely real things like mildness and better taste. Sounds like good common sense!"

Fair enough! That's all Chesterfield wants. That's all Chesterfield could ask for and does ask for—a trial.

"Promises fill no sack." After all, it's what you get out of a smoke that counts. And what you get out of Chesterfield, or anything else for that matter, depends on what goes in.

Better tobaccos don't grow than the tobaccos that go into Chesterfield. Ripe. Sweet. Aged and cured for two years under the watchful care of expert chemists.

Better cigarette paper can't be bought. Tasteless. Odorless. Pure!

Sanitary factories. Cleanliness in every step of the process. A purer cigarette than Chesterfield can't be made.

And the package! Absolutely moisture-proof. Sealed tight—yet the simplest thing in the world to open. And attractive to look at.

They're milder—they taste better—they're pure—They Satisfy!
