Art Exhibit Draws Much Attention

One of those rare opportunities for Salem has knocked again and those fortunate enough to have time, or to make time will find it well spent in taking advantage of the opportunity to see the art display on exhibit for today only at the Gilbert Art studio of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Gilbert on North Commercial street.

The exhibit is extremely modern and includes such mediums as pen and ink, of pencil sketches, etchings, watercolor, lithographs, block prints, and photographs. The collection comes from the Art Center in San Francisco and is being exhibited by David Stover, young art enthusiast of California.

In all there are about 30 pictures. Some of the photographic studies are of people well known in Salem, among them being a portrait of Moroni Olson, Dorothy Adams, Byron Folger, Susie Fennel Pipes, and the Neah-Kah-Nie string quartet. A group of Spanish posters lent by Miss Ethel Hickey, principal of Mill City school, also adds color and interest to the exhibit.

Church Plans Watch Night Service

At the First Congregational church Thursday night there will be a watch night service and New Year's celebration. The program will begin at 9 o'clock and continue until the arrival of 1932.

Games will take place during the early part of the evening followed by a variety of entertainment and refreshments and concluded with a half hour's devotional service to usher in the new year.

Among the entertainment numbers will be a special feature by Mrs. Oscar Gingham, solos by Mrs. Harry Harms and Mrs. Rae Bellon and instrumental number by Hilda and Marjorie McDowell and Lorna Barham accompanied by Dorothy Kibbe.

Mrs. L. O. Smith and Mrs. B. B. Black are in charge of the refreshments. The general committee is composed of F. E. Neer, Mr. and Mrs. Kibbe and Mr. and Mrs. Simons. All members of the church and parish are invited to attend.

The Encinitas club held its dinner meeting on Tuesday evening at the Y. W. C. A. There were present 16 members and Mrs. Elizabeth Gallaher, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. The speaker for the evening was Rev. W. Earl Cochran, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church.

The marriage of Ideal Plunk of Salem to Sam Evans of Oakland, Cal., was a recent event in Salem and came as a complete surprise to the friends of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Evans will make their home near Silverton.

Pattern

By ANNE ADAMS
An attractive frock with features that tend to make the wearer look more slender than she really is, and one suitable for quite dressed-up occasions. A front buttoned placket, the side seams fall softly over the bodice of contrasting fabric or lace. The pointed seaming of the skirt narrows the appearance of the hips. The sleeves are new and very smart. Select satin, canton, or flat crepe in brown, black, blue or wine and use cream lace.

Pattern 2212 is obtainable only in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48. Size 36 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39 inch fabric, 5-8 of a yard of 36 inch lace. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given. No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern.

The new winter catalog is now ready. It features the newest in fashions, lingerie, pajamas and kid's clothes. Also delightful gift suggestions in accessory and transfer patterns. Price of catalog, fifteen cents. Catalog with pattern, twenty-five cents. Address all mail and orders to The Statesman Pattern Department, 243 West 17th Street, New York City. Send fifteen cents in coin or stamps (coin preferred), for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted.

Mrs. Frank Shafer Is Complemented

Mrs. Frank Shafer was the inspiration for a delightfully informal luncheon and afternoon of bridge with Miss Julia Query as hostess at her rural home. Mrs. Esther Query assisted Miss Query. The table appointments were in keeping with the holiday season. Following luncheon, cards were in play with high scores at the end of play held by Mrs. Shafer and Mrs. Leo Kafoury.

Mrs. Shafer, nee Mary Kafoury, was one of the most popular brides of the year. Much entertaining was done for her before her marriage November 29. Guests complimented to Mrs. Shafer Wednesday afternoon were Mrs. Leo Kafoury, Mrs. Allan Kafoury, Miss Elva Omsler, Miss Helen Kafoury, Miss Florence Emmons, Mrs. Clarence Emmons, and the hostess, Miss Query.

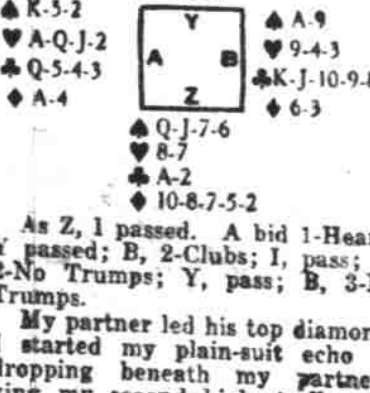

Mrs. Henry Lee entertained her music students with a delightful Christmas party at her home Tuesday evening. A musical program and exchange of gifts made a memorable evening for the young guests. Refreshments concluded the party. Guests were Janet Fryer, Jeanette Arehart, Owena Aldrich, Barbara Compton, Barbara Miller, Barbara Savage, Barbara Kurtz, Anita Savage, Doris Arbuckle, Maxine Woodfield, Jackie Woodfield, Robert Lange, Betty Boyle, Kenneth Boyle, Marjorie Winkewerder, Mary Louise Ritter, Norma Jean Gilbertson, Dorothea Graham, Mary Allen, Dorothy Mott, Frances Mott, Adella Locke, Richard Chase, Iola Luckey, Ruth Alice Grant, Carrie Williamson, Alice Zellinski, Ruth and Lucille Wilson and Patsy Lee.

Aurora — The presence of the younger set who are home for vacation contribute much to the gayety of holiday entertaining. An affair of a delightfully informal nature was a Sunday morning breakfast over which Peggy Sadler presided at the home of her parents, honoring Miss Bessie Stout, a popular senior of last year at Oregon State college, and president of Alpha Omicron Pi. Other guests were Virginia Bunch of Chehalis, a house guest of the Sadlers, Evelyn Grim home from Monmouth Normal, Vernon Eller, freshman coach, Morris Hoven, and Robert Powers, all of Oregon State, Melvin Eller and Mr. and Mrs. U. Eller.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Knapp of Grants Pass, parents of Gardner Knapp, have been holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kapp. They returned to their home Wednesday night.

CONTRACT BRIDGE "The Official System" as Adopted by Leading Authorities By E. V. SHEPARD The Plain-Suit Echo.

The plain-suit echo is used at no-trumps to show partner four or more cards of his suit. Unless forced to play your highest card, play your second best card; if next time you play your next lowest card, and so on until you hold only your highest and lowest cards of partner's suit. If you hold more of the suit than partner you must win the fourth trick in order to continue leading. If you and partner hold equal numbers of the suit, win the last trick in case you have a good suit to lead; let partner win the last trick if you wish a lead through dummy or in case you hold no suit that you wish to lead. The following hand illustrates proper procedure:

(The S); the declarer dropped his 4, and Y missed the 2 that I held. Next Y led the J as the bottom of his sequence; the last diamond fell in dummy, and I played my 7; A won the trick, and laid down his queen of clubs. Mr. and Mrs. A. returned and returned a diamond lead to my partner with my 5. Had Y been dreaming he would have won with his 9 of diamonds and never blocked the suit, because I never could have gained entry to play off my fifth diamond. But my partner was alert; he won the trick with his Q, leading back his 9 for me to overtake with my 10, and defeat my contract by one trick when I laid down my last diamond.

Having beaten the contract by one trick, I led my top heart back to dummy. Suppose that A was no fool, he put up his ace and claimed the balance of the tricks. The three-card echo is also employed in no-trumps, sometimes to great advantage. Suppose that your partner leads the K of his longest suit; dummy shows something like J-8-4, and you hold Q-9-8, for example. Your dilemma is that you will block partner's suit with your Q on the third lead unless partner leads low on the second round; you must play your 9, asking partner to lead low to enable you to win the second trick. Then you put your partner in with your 3, to allow him to lead off the balance of his suit.

Young Guests Have Merry Party

The dancing party at St. Joseph's hall Monday night drew a large number of the younger set of Salem. Miss Frances Field, Miss Ruth L. Dickie, Miss Marjorie Humphrey, Miss Mary Ellen Hammond, Miss Florence Moisan, Miss Delta Nichols, Miss Fern Sheldon, and Miss Marie Wenzel were hostesses for this holiday affair.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Field, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Hunt, and Mr. and Mrs. N. Penger were patrons and patronesses.

As a pretty feature of the intermission Eleanor Brazeau sang a solo; Rose Mary Hoffert gave an acrobatic dance and Curtis Williams sang. Roy Mack accompanied each number.
