Surprise Wedding Sets Capitol City Astir

A wedding which came as a startling surprise to a large circle of acquaintances and which is of interest throughout the state was that which united Miss Beatrice Walton, daughter of Mrs. James Walton, and Sheldon F. Sackett, son of Judge and Mrs. Fred D. Sackett of McMinnville, Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the Walton home.

Even the best friends of Mr. and Mrs. Sackett were given little warning of the wedding's approach, and because of the prominence of the couple its occurrence will no doubt be the topic of conversation wherever society congregates today.

Rev. Thomas Hardie, pastor of the McMinnville Methodist Episcopal church, read the simple wedding service in the presence of Mrs. James Walton, mother of the bride, Judge and Mrs. Fred D. Sackett of McMinnville, parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. William Walton, the former a brother of the groom, and Mrs. Thomas Hardie.

Mrs. Sackett is a graduate of Mills college in California, and at one time was employed as an instructor of the Astoria public schools. She later was secretary in the state department of education. Three years ago she accepted the office of private secretary to the late Governor Patterson and served throughout his administration. She then went to Europe, but returned to Salem early last January, when she again was appointed private secretary by Governor Meier, which position she now fills.

Mrs. Sackett is managing editor and co-publisher of the Oregon Statesman here, and publisher of the Coos Bay Times at Marshfield. Prior to locating in Salem he was engaged in the newspaper business in McMinnville for a number of years. He is a graduate of Williams university, and took a post graduate course at Columbia university.

Mr. and Mrs. Sackett left Thursday night for a beach resort where they will remain until Sunday. Both were at their business posts until noon Thursday.

Mrs. Sackett yesterday presented her resignation to Governor Meier, subject to his pleasure. Friends of Mrs. Sackett indicated that the resignation had not been accepted.

Mr. and Mrs. Sackett will make their home in the Royal Court apartments.

Pattern

Stitching affords a delightful trimming accent on this frock for a small girl. It is interesting in cut, too, with a V neckline and diagonally formed yoke on either side from which fall graceful pleats. You'll find it very easy to put together and quite inexpensive. Frocks and bloomers will be lovely of linen, cotton broadcloth, plique or challis, in plain color or print.

Pattern 2264 is obtainable only in sizes 2, 4, 6, 8. Size 4 requires 2 3/8 yards of 36 inch material. No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern.

The new winter catalog is now ready. It features the newest in afternoon, sports and dressy clothes. Also delightful gift suggestions in accessories and transfer patterns. Price of catalog, fifteen cents. Catalog with pattern, twenty five cents. Address all mail and orders to The Statesman Pattern Department, 243 West 17th street, New York City. Send fifteen cents in coin or stamps (coins preferred), for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted.

Mrs. Sheldon F. Sackett, nee Beatrice Walton, whose marriage was a surprise event of Thursday at 7 o'clock at the home of her mother, Mrs. James Walton.

Large Parties Will Greet New Year

The New Year will be started off with excellent ones this year with three large parties. Today the younger set will be interested in dancing as guests of the Rainbow Girls at the Masonic temple.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Millard, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Gillette, Mr. and Mrs. David Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Henry will be patrons and patronesses for this event. Miss Alta Johnson is general chairman. The dance is informal.

An event of Saturday is one of the largest and smartest affairs of the winter. This will be the tea for which Mrs. D. H. Jarman will entertain at the Jarman home on South High street, assisted by her daughter, Gwendolyn Stoliker.

There have been 150 invitations extended for this event, many of which went out of the city. The hours are from 3 to 5:30 o'clock.

A third large affair which will attract large numbers of people both from Salem and from valley towns will be the "at home" for which Mr. and Mrs. Hal B. Patton will be hosts as their home on Court street January 10.

The affair is in compliment to the 60th birthday of Mr. Patton most of which have been spent in the home to which his many friends are being invited between the hours of 4 and 10 o'clock January 10.

It will take the form of a "picnic" event because of the many pioneer connections of Mr. Patton through both his own life here and that of his people.

All in all there will be several things of interest to keep the first month of the new year moving rapidly.

Mrs. Jessie Bush Entertains Students

Graves, Jack and Richard Graves, Mrs. Fannie Campbell, Sam Phillips, and Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Campbell, all of Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will make their home in Eugene when they return from a wedding tour.

Two Marriages of Interest in Crabtree

Crabtree—The marriage of Miss Ingh Bilyeu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ingh Woodard of Klamath Falls, which took place December 28, was made known to their many friends in Crabtree.

The ceremony was read in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Bilyeu, Warren Woodard, Marjory Moses, Lucile Bilyeu, and Perry Ray Shelton.

The bride wore a dress of brown silk and Marjory Moses, her only attendant, wore a dress of black satin and lace. Warren Woodard, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride and groom left on their honeymoon.

They are expected back at the home of the bride's parents the last of this week where an old fashioned charivari awaits them.

They will make their home in Klamath Falls.

Mrs. Woodard is a graduate of Crabtree high school and Oregon State Normal school. Hugh Woodard is a graduate of Stayton high school.

Burl Betzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Betzer, of Crabtree, and Frances Patricia of Portland were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Betzer.

The ceremony was read by Rev. Father Betzer, father of the groom. The bride is a graduate of the Good Samaritan hospital of Portland, where her husband is an interne. Mr. Betzer last year graduated from medical college. He also is a graduate of the Crabtree high school.

Walker-Wintermute Nuptials Solemnized

An attractive wedding was that which united in marriage Miss Vada Wintermute daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wintermute and Albert J. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Walker, Wednesday evening, Dr. C. C. Poling read the impressive ceremony in the presence of nearly 100 guests.

Miss Pearl Osterman played the wedding music. Miss Olive Shurt, cousin of the bride, was the only attendant of the bride and Clarence Walker was best man.

The bride was gowned in white satin crepe and wore a long tulle veil caught about her head in a circle of flowers. Her bouquet was a shower of yellow, pink and white carnations and sweetpeas. Miss Shurt wore pale orchid crepe and carried a similar bouquet.

An informal reception followed the wedding ceremony and later the young people left for a wedding trip which will take them east as far as New Orleans.

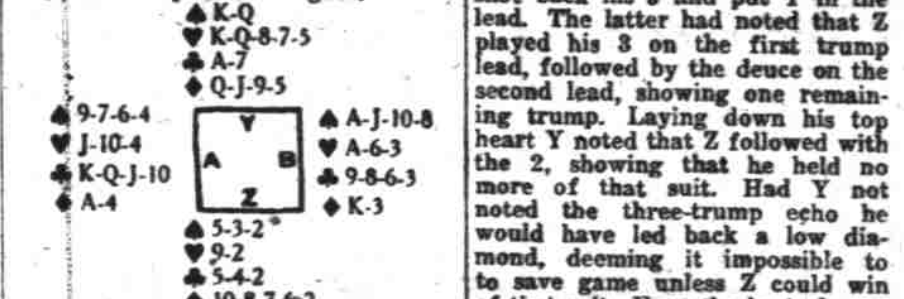

They will return to make their home in Salem.

CONTRACT BRIDGE "The Official System"

As Adopted by Leading Authorities By E. V. SHEPARD

The Three-Trump Echo.

The three-trump echo consists of the play of a useless middle trump upon declarer's first lead, followed by your lowest trump upon his second lead. This enables your partner to count the declarer's trumps, and also shows that you have a trump left in case partner can win the second trump trick and wants you to ruff a suit of which he knows you are void. The following hand shows the possible great utility of this signal.

Z and A passed; Y opened with 1-Heart, which was overcalled with 1-Spade. They were not playing that game where Z's four deuces might have won the pot, so he passed. A's hand counted 11 points (1 for four trumps; 6 for three club tricks; 3 for the ace of diamonds plus 1 point for the doubleton). That 5% probable tricks made the situation look gamish, and A jumped to 4-Spades. After it was all over Y admitted that game would have been made except for the fact that he noted Z's three-trump echo, proving that the declarer held only four trumps, instead of the five spades for which Y gave him credit. Z's opening lead was the 9 of hearts; this was covered by splitting A's honors; the 10 forced the Q and the A won the trick. A lead of a low diamond put dummy in; he led his top spade; Y put up his Q and B won with his ace. He shot back his J and put Y in the lead. The latter had noted that Z played his 8 on the first trump lead, followed by the deuce on the second lead, showing one remaining trump. Laying down his top heart Y noted that Z followed with the 2, showing that he held no more of that suit. Had Y not noted the three-trump echo he would have led back a low diamond, deeming it impossible to save game unless Z could win of that suit. Even the best players at times make up their minds that certain things must be so, and Y had a first deemed it impossible to save game unless Z could win a diamond trick, only the trump echo made him change his mind. Y led back his lowest heart and Z won the trick with his last trump, returning a club for Y's ace to gather in, making their fourth and last trick won.

Remember to echo only with three trumps—never with either two or four.

FLOORS IMPROVED IN BRIEF VACATION

WEST STAYTON, Dec. 31—Members of the West Stayton school board spent several days of the vacation oiling the floors in the school building.

Children started back to school Tuesday, December 29 after having a short vacation.

Miss Helen Kohl has been in Lyons several days taking care of her aged grandmother who is ill. The community club has planned the annual all-day meeting for New Year's day. A potluck dinner will be served at noon and a short program will start at 2 o'clock.

Miss Rose Darby is spending the vacation at her home here. She plans to return to Portland, where she is attending the northwestern school of commerce, the last of this week.

Okie Snyder spent several of the holidays visiting his sister, Mrs. C. E. Wise and many friends. Mrs. Snyder is formerly of West Stayton but is now living in California.

Harvey and Beth Downer are spending their vacation at the home of their mother, Mrs. A. Downer. They have been working in California for the past year.

Miss Martha spent several of the holidays in Portland visiting friends.

New Year's Parties Make Gala Advent for New Year

THE New Year came in with all the color and excitement to be desired Thursday night in homes, at clubs, in churches and in theatres.

Dances, parties, some formal, some informal, all merged in one gala and festive carnival to welcome 1932 and bid adieu to 1931. Dances took the lead for large parties with the Subscription club dancing at Masonic temple, the Wisteria club at Castilian hall, Tillicum club at the Marion hotel and the Illahee country club dancing at the clubhouse.

Watch parties in the form of bridge and small dancing parties were enjoyed in many homes. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pope entertained with an attractive evening of bridge and late supper. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McKay, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Huston, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Smith, Miss Dorothy Steustoff, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Barr, and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hayes.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Locke entertained with an informal party at their home at which time a group of friends were asked to meet Dr. and Mrs. C. Vandevort and Mrs. Donald Stuart of Bend, guests in Salem for over the New Year's holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles McKay entertained in compliment to members of their Sunday night club with a watch party. Bridge and a midnight supper were enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith of Vancouver, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Boyd of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. James Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Forristell.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Deckebach were hosts for a dinner party New Year's eve in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hixson, Dr. and Mrs. Dolph Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Breyer Boise, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Griffith.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Duncaen were hosts for a watch party complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cooley, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Knapp and Mr. and Mrs. George Rhoten.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hansen were supper hosts following the Wisteria dance in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Victor S. Bovelle, inviting as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKibbinney, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kissel, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Graag, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Polka, Yakima, Wash.

Tommy and Rederick Livesley entertained with a dancing party at the Livesley home and a line party at one of the theatres and this was followed with a supper party at the Curtis Cross home as their New Year's compliment to a group of the younger circle.

Add to these and more informal parties the many theatre parties for midnight matinees, and the many church parties and the total is a gay compliment of festivity to the New Year.

Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Pound entertained with their annual Christmas party in compliment to members of the Leslie Can-Do class Wednesday evening at their home. At the brief business meeting preceding the social hours all officers of the preceding year were re-elected for 1932. Mrs. B. F. Pound is president, Mrs. Ward Davis, vice president, Mrs. Wayne Greenwood secretary and Mrs. B. F. Pound, treasurer. Present Wednesday night for the festive social hours following the business meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Greenwood, Mrs. B. E. Otjen, Mrs. Ward Davis, Mr. and Mrs. John Bertelson, Mr. and Mrs. Mason Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Conner, Mr. and Mrs. John Ulrich, Rev. and Mrs. S. Darlow Johnson, and Dr. and Mrs. Pound.

Miss Beatrice Johnson of Vancouver, Wash., house guest of Miss Virginia Cross, was compli-
