

CLARK ENCOURAGES MORE PRODUCTION

Brush College Grange Session Attended by Nearly 80 Persons

BRUSH COLLEGE, Jan. 12.—"Men's night" at Brush College grange Friday was a decided success, with between 75 and 80 present for the 6:30 o'clock supper. On the summer committee were A. R. Ewing, Roy E. Barker, Cash Roberts, Clifford Smith and Charles McCarter, assisted by Dr. C. L. Blodgett, Oliver Whitney and Donald Ewing. A. E. Uley was in charge of the program.

A. G. Clark, manager of the Oregon production department of the East Side Commercial club of Portland, gave a splendid talk on marketing Oregon products and the advantages to the working classes in raising more products in this thriving state. Russel Hurlbert, a member of the board of directors of the Commercial club of Portland, also gave a fine talk encouraging producers to greater effort this year.

A short recess preceded the usual grange meeting at which Elmer Cook, grange master, presided. Mrs. John Simmons, chaplain, appointed as her assistants Mrs. Charles McCarter and Mrs. Jesse Worthington.

It was decided to rehearse ritualistic work at the home of Elmer Cook January 26. Impressive memorial services were held for a highly respected member, W. F. McCall, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Scott sang "Whispering Hope" and the charter was draped as a token of respect.

Mrs. Charles McCarter and W. J. Henry were appointed by Elmer Cook to be in charge of the spelling match at the next grange meeting.

WOULD WHIP WIFE-BEATERS

LASHING A WIFE BEATER IN BALTIMORE JAIL.

Viewing with alarm the increase in the number of cases of wife-beating which have recently come before the courts, Judge Lewis L. Fawcett, presiding judge in New York's first matrimonial court, laments the passing of the whipping post as a corrective for the bullying husband. Many jurists and psychologists in the country agree with Judge Fawcett when he says that ten lashes across the back would be more effective than a short jail sentence in combating the practice. The humiliation of being stripped, trussed up like a chicken and flogged like a stubborn mule has often worked wonders with the so-called "tough guy" to whom prison is just a vacation. The value of the whipping post as a crime deterrent has long been recognized in Maryland, where it is employed with good effect in punishment for various offenses. Our photo shows a delinquent "taking the cure" in a Baltimore prison. Strangely enough, Judge Fawcett, whose job it is to arbitrate on marital tangles, is a bachelor. But that, he thinks, is an advantage. Maybe he's right. An onlooker does see more of the game than the player.

Stricklin, state engineer, according to an audit report of his office completed this week by Hal E. Hoss, secretary of state.

Attorney General VanWinkle recommended the handling of prior recording fees in this manner in order to clear the way for the operation of the new statute.

The audit, covering the period October 1, 1930, to September 30, 1931, showed 33 applications filed for preliminary permits to appropriate water of this state for generating power, under the 1931 law.

The progress of refinancing the Warm Springs irrigation district in Malheur county was included in the audit. All of their clerical work has been completed, it was said, and each bond holder has received a cash dividend of 25 per cent and a 29 per cent refunding bond on his 100 per cent investment.
