COMPANIONS FOR HIRE!

The lonely young man or woman need no longer sit "all alone by a telephone" in big-hearted New York, bemoaning the fact that there is no one to go out with. For a small fee, a companion for the evening may now be secured through the good offices of the new Guide and Hostess Bureau. The young man may choose the partner that comes nearest to his idea of the ideal girl, or the young woman can pick the type of lovely male she most desires from the stack of photographs on file at the bureau and all that's necessary for a pleasant evening is money. The agency prices itself on its respectability. All the men on its books are educated, well-bred and proper. The hostesses are lady-like, interesting girls, delightful dinner companions or bridge partners, who have no other engagements on certain evenings and go out "just for a lark"—for a fee. The proprietors say that their army of professional companions are of a "high type," being recruited from musicians, artists, psychologists, dietitians and writers. The organizers themselves are two former bankers.

KIN OF MISSOURI DESPERADOES

Here are some of the women members of the Young family that has leaped into notoriety rivaling that acquired by the Jesse James clan some years ago. Mrs. Alber Conley (left) and Vinita Young (right) are sisters of the desperadoes who killed six law officers at Springfield, Mo., when a posse surrounded the farmhouse where they were hiding in an attempt to arrest Harry Young, wanted for murder. Inset is Mrs. J. D. Young, mother of the killers.

Woodburn News

WOODBURN, Jan. 12—The regular monthly meeting of the Presbyterian Ladies Aid society of the local church is to be held at the home of Mrs. H. F. Butterfield Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Butterfield lives on the Pacific highway south of the city. Mrs. Katherine Powell, keeper of the library, will give a book review.

Tax Still Lower
Woodburn's millage tax this year will be lower than was estimated recently when the city budget was made out. At that time it was figured that there would be a reduction of a mill, but instead there is a reduction of 1/2 mill. This is due to the increased valuation of property in Woodburn. The increase in the valuation is caused by the new gas lines built in Woodburn this year and the new underground telephone line.

Assessed valuations of other property in Woodburn is much lower than last year. The city will pay a greater amount of the county taxes this year, but the public utilities companies and not the people, will bear the burden.

Officers Installed
Officers of the Woodburn assembly of the United Artisans were installed at the regular meeting last week. Past Master Artisan, Wylas Freeman; Master Artisan, David D. Jackson; Superintendent, Mrs. Sydney Stridke; Conductor, Mrs. Dorothy Wolhuter; Junior Conductor, Ervin Falconer; master of ceremonies, John Zumstein; inspector, Elmer Aline, and instructor, Bert Broyles.
