Mrs. George Burnett Heads Nile Club

At the annual election of officers for Salem Nile club Wednesday Mrs. George Burnett was elected president to succeed Mrs. Ted Meach. Mrs. Adolph Bombeck was elected vice-president and Mrs. David Wright secretary-treasurer.

The meeting was an all-day affair with luncheon served at noon following the business meeting. The afternoon was given over to sewing for hospital needs.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Wilson of North Liberty street, with their young son, Austin Jr., have returned following a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stewart of Redwood City. Mrs. H. Grimm, mother of Mrs. Wilson accompanied them on the trip.

Mrs. V. P. McNamara was hostess Wednesday for a one o'clock luncheon and afternoon of cards.

Symphony Plans Appealing Numbers

One of the most unusual of Sunday matinee programs is promised for the concert of Sunday afternoon, January 17, by William van Hoogstraten and the Portland symphony orchestra. Included will be the Sheherazade suite by Rimski-Korsakoff, the "Bartered Bride" by Smetana, and the "Farewell Symphony" by Haydn.

The Haydn work is one of the most astounding of that great composer's contributions to musical literature. As conductor of the palace orchestra for Prince Nicolaus Esterhazy, Haydn became anxious to return to Vienna but found the prince equally desirous of staying at his country place. As a hint, more or less gentle, that a change was needed, Haydn wrote the farewell symphony, in which the players one by one put up their instruments and leave. Two players and the conductor finish the work.

The "Sheherazade" suite is a musical version of the Sinbad the Sailor stories from the Arabian Nights. The music has all the color of that Russian composer would put into an already colorful story, and altogether is one of the most delightful of musical compositions of symphonic caliber. It was played here two years ago.

The "Bartered Bride," by Smetana, is another favorite with Portland audiences, and is played often.

As usual the concert will start at 3 o'clock, and those attending are asked to come early enough to be seated before the music starts.

Seats will go on sale Wednesday at J. K. Gill's but mail orders will be received at any time.

Mrs. Elva Nissen will be hostess Tuesday evening to members of the O. N. S. club at her home, 1045 North Church street.

Social Affairs Loom For Last of Week

The quiet seems to be broken and several social affairs both formal and informal loom on the horizon of social life for the remainder of this week.

Today, Friday and Saturday Mrs. B. B. Black and Mrs. M. C. Pettes will entertain with a series of three parties, bridge luncheon today and Friday and a bridge tea Saturday. About 70 guests will be included in the guest list for these affairs.

Mrs. Paul Wallace will be a dinner hostess Friday night at the Wallace rural home on Wallace road.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. William D. Smith will be hostess for an informal and intimate afternoon and tea at her Center street home.

Friday Willamette university senior women will be hostesses for a charming formal tea in compliment to university women at the Beta Chi sorority house.

Mrs. Lars Bergsvik will be hostess today for a luncheon. Friday Mrs. E. H. Kennedy, Mrs. Reed Rowland, and Mrs. E. B. Gabriel will entertain with the first of a series of two bridge teas at the Masonic temple. Saturday the second affair will be given. In all about 100 guests will be included in the guest lists.

Mrs. Frank Suedecor has been the guest of Mrs. Rudolph Praet in Portland for the past several days. She is expected to return to Salem today.
