enforce the city ordinance requiring every property owner to construct a sidewalk along the front of his lots. City paving equipment now is lying idle and could well be put to this use, it was pointed out. Objections made to enforcement of the ordinance a number of years ago, it was said, were that the construction work should fall into the hands of only two contractors.

Laying of the sidewalks would be not only an unemployment relief move but also a safety measure, it was declared. Mention was made, as an example of the hazard to pupils of the blind school who are forced to walk to and from the school in the streets.

from various sections of Portland. The shock came at 8:20 a. m. and lasted only about two seconds.

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 14 — (AP) — Snow fell throughout Oregon today and more snow and continued cold weather was forecast for Friday.

Highways generally were passable but the Oregon state motor association issued a general warning to motorists to exercise extreme caution on highways in the uplands. In some sections of the state the highways were coated with solid sheets of ice. Temperatures ranged from 8 below zero at Crater Lake to 35 degrees above at Portland.

Hospital Meet At Seattle to Be January 18

The Northwest Hospital association will meet at Harborview Hospital auditorium in Seattle January 18 for a conference and many local doctors and nurses from Salem and the nearby valley towns will be in attendance. Among these will be Mrs. Mildred Lenoir, superintendent of Salem General hospital.

Miss Carolyn Davis, R. N., is president of the association. Registration will begin at 9:45 o'clock and the program at 10 o'clock. Among the speakers will be Dr. Frederick Slyfield, Mrs. Dorothy Gilman, Miss Helen Thompson, Dr. J. Tate Mason, Miss Mary Northrup, Dr. S. C. Sharples, and Dr. H. J. Whitner, president of Washington State Medical society as guest speaker.

A dietetic section will meet at 11 o'clock with Miss Aileen Johnson, in charge.

Elderly Miner Held Guilty in Deputy's Death

MOUNT STERLING, Ky., Jan. 14 — (AP) — A jury of blue grass farmers and a barber today convicted William Hightower, 77 year old Everts coal digger, of counselling the death of a Harlan county deputy sheriff. They fixed his penalty at life imprisonment.

The verdict was the second conviction in the prosecution of thirty strikers on charges of murder and conspiracy growing out of the slaying of Jim Daniels, a deputy sheriff-mine guard, in a gun battle between strikers and officers.

Warner Bros. Elsinore Today — Warner Baxter in "Surrender".

Warner Bros. Capitol Today — Lionel Barrymore in "The Yellow Ticket".

The Hollywood Today — Ken Maynard in "Branded Men".

The Grand Today — Jack Holt in "Subway Express".

WILLAMETTE CHAPEL Today — Theta Alpha Phi fraternity play, "Children of the Moon", 8:15 o'clock.

Said to be one of the big productions of the year, "Surrender," directed for Fox Films by Willard K. Howard, will be the screen attraction today at the Elsinore. The always popular Warner Baxter portrays the leading role and the supporting cast includes Lela Runcorn, Ralph Bellamy, C. Aubrey Smith, Alexander Kirkland, William Pawley, Howard Phillips, Bert Hanlon and Bodil Roising.

"Surrender" is a romantic drama in a background of war and tells the story of a beautiful Prussian girl who falls in love with a French prisoner in a German war camp.

The cast of "The Yellow Ticket," the much heralded Fox drama, which opens today at the Capitol, to some degree resembles a page from Burke's Peerage.

Elissa Landi, who portrays the stellar role, is a daughter of royalty, her mother being the Countess Zenardi-Landi of Austria and daughter of the glamorous Miss Landi modestly managed to conceal until recently.

Another descendant of royalty is Rita LaRoy, who plays an important role in the dramatic photoplay. She is a direct descendant of Mary, Queen of Scots, and daughter of a member of the Royal Family of England.

And to go on Lionel Barrymore, who enacts the leading male role, is a member of the Royal Family of Broadway, while Laurence Olivier, also featured, comes of aristocratic English parentage.

The cast is completed with Walter Byron, also of English birth, Sarah Padden, Arnold Korff, Mischa Auer, grandson of Leopold Auer, celebrated violinist, Edwin Maxwell and Boris Karloff.

Third Grade Has Most Parents at Meet; Prizes Won

The prize basket for the class having the highest percentage of parents attending the Lincoln Parent-Teacher association meeting at the school building on Wednesday was won by the third grade pupils.

The evening's entertainment consisted of Dr. David B. Hill's motion pictures of Oregon, and his health film illustrating a day in the life of a healthy child.

AUDACITY CITED AS FACTOR IN SUCCESS

"People who make a success are audacious."

"The man who fears to attempt now is the man who is a failure."

"The only thing that stops you from getting what you want is laziness and fear."

It was Claude W. Bristol, vice-president of a Portland bond house and former newspaperman, speaking before the Salem Lions club at the noon luncheon who made these declarations and many more like them.

"There's a great theme of fear," he continued, "but there is no such and can't be in our organization." He added that his concern has shown a large increase in business within the past year.

"You can believe anything you want to," he averred. "Eliminate fear, griefs, loss of money and you can only go forward. Jesus Christ was the world's greatest salesman because he had faith and believed in himself. There's a great fundamental theme in life which every man can catch."

"You keep your wish before you and your subconscious mind will show you accurately and scientifically how to get what you want. If a man will throw his chest out and his chin forward, he will go places and do things. It lies within every person here what he is going to do. Let's begin to tell everyone we meet there's nothing wrong with us," the dynamic attorney, salesman and journalist concluded.

CITY LIBRARY USE INCREASED IN 1931

A 19 per cent increase in circulation of books by the Salem public library took place during 1931, the annual report of Librarian Maud E. Covington shows. The total circulation for the year was 142,914 volumes, a gain of 22,876 over 1930.

At the same time the circulation grew 2961 patrons in 1931 were added to the 1930 list of 10,700, making a total of 13,661. The average circulation per patron was 10.4 at a cost of $1. each and per capita in the city, 5.4 at cost of approximately 50 cents each. Fiction comprised 59 per cent of the circulation.

Additions of books for the year numbered 2231, bringing the total in the collection to 25,788 volumes. Of this number, 21,705 are for adults and 5983 for children.

The city council appropriated $13,214 for support of the library in 1931.

At the annual board meeting last Monday, Dr. H. H. Olinger was reelected president; Miss Mabel P. Robertson was elected vice president, and W. H. Burghardt was reelected secretary.

Occurrences and Gossip at the center of Oregon's state government

THE state of Oregon recently got rid of Tusko, the giant elephant for $200, but no sooner has the reaction of the auction sale subsided than the state starts action to secure the body of Portland's whale for $1,000. It seems a whale would be less dangerous, particularly since the whale is a dead one.

At any rate a reprieve action was started by Oregon, through the attorney-general's office against Edward O. Lester and Joseph T. Leonard, alleged harpooners of the whale, to recover the carcass or judgment of $1,000. Perhaps if the carcass is secured it can be displayed at the next state fair, without cost for food.

The genial and popular Harry Niles, who has been deputy superintendent of state police, leave the headquarters here today for Portland where he will resume his work with the Portland police department. But Harry says he will be back occasionally to visit the boys here, and further says he will welcome any of them when they come to Portland, Wash.—perhaps in the city jail. Well, we'll try you out sometime, Harry.

A. L. Lindbeck, the dean of the capitol press room, has finally succumbed. He said he was scheduled to play bridge last night, the first time in his career. He was to explain the game to him, but when they got as far as speaking of the dummy, Al said that was enough, he would be able to play that part well.

And while speaking of bridge, our Oregon Voter editor asks this column to "have a heart." He said he remembered the time he bid three no trump without any diamonds, and adds that he hasn't had any diamonds since. Such seems to be the fate of newspaper men. But when do we play another game, Chapman or bid up the memory of that wife?

It seems that the new supervisor of transportation W. W. Rider (ride-haul) has been unfortunately named. A supervisor of transportation so far he has been unable to get means for a ride, or to be hauled. He is without a state-owned car, and since the police department rule of carrying no passengers in patrol cars has become effective, this means of investigation is also closed to him.

It looks like the board of control will either have to spend more money for state-owned cars, or the "auto detective" will have to do his detecting on foot. Also he will have to operate at the time when the board says no state-owned cars should operate. Oh, well.

An impressive ceremony took place in the state police department late yesterday prior to the departure of Harry Niles. The members of the state police presented him with a 12-gauge shotgun in a hand-carved leather case, as a token of appreciation for what he had done during his six months stay here.

With the gun was a letter written by Charles F. Pray expressing the high regard in which Niles is held by the officials and personnel of the department. The police officials were present when Harry received the gun. It was not an occasion for speeches. The letter expressed the police attitude toward Niles.

"I suppose one should say something," Harry said, "but it is hard to do. It was I who was honored by being selected to do what I could in assisting the state police, and I only hope I have done something. The friends I have made here will always be my friends. I can't express my appreciation of this gift," he said.

Niles further commented that it was hard enough leaving the state department, without making it harder "by doing this." Those present at the occasion outside of several newspapermen were Superintendent Pray, Assistant Superintendent Alexander, Captain McLean, Lieutenant Lansing and Mr. Mason of the headquarters office.

Willard Marks was one of the voluntary contributors of a day's pay of state employees toward the unemployment fund. Marks in a letter to William Elzing said Governor Meier had turned over his check for December to him, and he therefore enclosed $25 toward the fund. Marks was governor in December while Meier was in California.

Salem Debaters Oppose Gresham In First Event

Salem high school debaters will hold their first inter-city contest at the local school at 7:15 o'clock tonight. The negative team, composed of Charles West and Waldo Mills, will meet the affirmative team from Gresham on the unemployment insurance question.

It will be a decision debate but not come under the state competition. Harold Pruitt will preside and judges will be Williamette university students.

Frances Parks, a senior, has been selected as the final member of the affirmative team, Coach Shannon Hogue announced yesterday.

RANDALL LOSER IN FIGHT WITH DEATH

After a nine day fight for his life, Frank M. Randall, 52, lost out. He died at 12:30 o'clock yesterday morning at a local hospital where he had been cared for since he suffered concussion of the brain as a result of a collision between his coupe and a Southern Pacific train on Monday, January 4.

Funeral services for Randall will be held from the Rigdon chapel at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, under auspices of the Masonic order.

Randall was a member of St. John's lodge, A. F. and A. M., of Albany. Before his injury he was night elevator man at the Masonic building.

Surviving are the invalid widow, Mrs. Emma Randall; four sons, Ray, Fred, Roy and Harry of Washington, and a step-son, Charles Parrish.

REPARATION CLAIMS CONFRONT GERMANY

(Copyright, 1932, The Associated Press)

PARIS, Jan. 14 — (AP) — European participants in the world reparations balance sheets with which to confront Germany when she faces the former allies once again at Lausanne on January 25.

Confused from the beginning, the "reparations muddle," as it often is called, is anybody's guess and each country is preparing its own figures.

Since the Armistice, Germany has paid $4,329,000,000, if the figures of the reparations commissions are accepted, but Germany maintains she has paid something like $9,119,000,000. The truth is that no official statement exists. The figures of the reparations commission, which died with the birth of the Young plan never were official, but were accepted by the allies as the most accurate available.

Mickey Mouse NOTES

Good morning Mice. M M C It looked for a while as though we would be able to get our sleds out and have some fun; but a false hope. M M C

As long as you won't be able to play in the snow tomorrow — he sure I'll meet you at Warner Bros. Elsinore Mickey Mouse club matinee at 1 o'clock sharp. M M C

Do you Mice always read the Mickey Mouse cartoon in the daily Statesman? If you don't, start now. Mickey is just starting on another of his adventures. This time he is helping an orphanage asylum get money, so that they can take care of the orphan mice. M M C

Talking about cartoons, Mickey is in one of his best tomorrow. The name of it is "Mickey Mouse's Beach Party." M M C

Saturday Dorothy Thomas tied the nearest tie around Lyle Heckinger's neck, and won the contest. M M C

The winners in the third limberlock contest were, Lavina Depper, first; Gordon Duval, second; Florence Duval, third; Nona Pasching, fourth; and fifth, Jane MacKenzie. M M C

Find your Mice Write to Warner Bros. Elsinore Mickey Mouse club, give your age and the day you were born; and await results. M M C

No more members needed for the orchestra; it's full now. M M C

But I still want more names of entertainers for the Saturday programs. M M C

Write a song about Mickey and Minney for Mickey Mouse Notes. If it is extra good Big Chief Rice will have a slide made of it and then the Mice may sing it at the matinee. Get busy! M M C

As a tap dancer Delbert Anderson surely knows his stuff, and he also sings well. M M C

And Joan Frigard, tiniest mouse of the club, knows how to sing. Marcelle Herbster, Virginia Larelle, Mildred Heckinger and Pauline Berry all gave pleasing entertainment Saturday. M M C

So Long — Zoille. M M C

Both of Oregon Senators Talked For Holmes' Job

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 — (AP) — Western names got the call today as President Hoover began work on the difficult job of selecting a man to take the seat on the supreme court vacated by Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Among those receiving consideration were Judge William F. James and Judge Curtis D. Wilbur of California; Senators Steiwer and McNary of Oregon, both republicans, and Senators Walsh of Montana and Bratton of New Mexico, both democrats.

New Union 76 Gasoline

AVAILABLE HORSEPOWER

ENGINE SPEED R.P.M.

Average Power Curve of other Non-Premium Fuels

"Here Is More Horsepower ... At No Extra Cost!"

THE chart above, illustrates just how much more power you can expect from New Union 76 over the average non-premium fuel. Only New Union 76 can give you this added power because its octane or anti-knock rating is the greatest of any non-premium fuel ever offered on the Pacific Coast.

Knocks Go

This means that knocks, both audible and inaudible, disappear when you fill with New Union 76. You notice the improvement particularly on hills and hard pulls. Grades that you barely made in high before are now cleared easily with ample reserve.

New Smooth Mileage

New Union Gasoline has always been recognized as the mileage fuel. New Union 76 adds smoothness to this long standing mileage quality. You can test this feature by throttling your car down to five miles an hour in high, then stepping on the throttle to a "wide-open" position.

A New Aroma and Color Identifies the Quality

The aromatic compounds which are responsible for the higher anti-knock qualities in gasoline have a pleasing odor. New Union 76 can be easily identified, not only by this aroma but also by the rich orange color.

Watch for the 76!

Turn in for this new fuel where you see the big orange banners with the 76—the trade name of this New Union Gasoline. Be sure that the pump where you fill has a big 76 on the side. Every pump that dispenses the genuine New Union 76 is labeled for your protection.
