Younger Players Get New Athletic Suits

STAYTON, Jan. 15—The Stayton grade school basketball team is proudly sporting new suits of red and white. An important feature in the grades these cold days is that Mrs. Mae Hull, teacher of the fourth and fifth grades is preparing a hot dish at noon for her pupils who take their lunches.

From the high school comes word that Ruth Brown will take over the duties of business manager for the high school paper, replacing Gardner Bennett, who has resigned. Neal Edgar will be Miss Brown's assistant.

Also, Stayton's next conference basketball game will be played with Aumsville Monday. Having lost her first conference game and as rivalry between the two teams is strong, a good game is anticipated.
