TORNADO WIPES OUT FAMILY OF TEN

Townfolk of Trenton, Tenn., are shown searching the ruins of the farmhouse in which ten members of the P. W. Rice family were killed when the building was completely demolished by the disastrous tornado that recently swept Southern States. The family was wiped out before they could even attempt to escape to safety. Scores of other buildings were blown right off their foundations, injuring many of the occupants. The terrific wind struck with such lightning suddenness that the inhabitants of the town were totally unaware of the approaching fury which left a trail of death.

"I know my LUCKIES"

LOVER'S LANE

All Lola was pouncing the Ivories in a lowly chin-ama house. Then came the "breaks"—and her weekly Good News jumped from $45 to $450. Ouch! She's a regular... formerly woman's music champion of the Southwest. Her last picture, "EK-SAD BOY," was Universally acclaimed. Lola Lane has smoked LUCKIES for two years... Her signed statement has no purse-strings attached to it. And so we have good reason to say, "Much obliged, Lola."

"I know my LUCKIES—my throat told me the first time I smoked one how kind they are. And it's been LUCKIES ever since. LUCKIES are the only cigarettes I can smoke before singing that do not give me a sore throat. Your improved Cellophane wrapper is great, too. That easy opening tab is a stroke of genius."
