

STUDENTS GET TEXAS GIFTS

Exchange Letters With Rio Vista Children; Other Events Told

JEFFERSON, Jan. 28 — The pupils of the sixth grade all received letters, as well as a box of nuts from the school at Rio Vista, Texas. They are now writing letters to each of the pupils of the Texas school.

The pupils of Miss Dillon's room have sent flowers, and are now writing letters to Gary Barnes, who is ill at the Albany general hospital. Gary is a pupil in Miss Dillon's room.

The students of the third and fourth grades have been coloring tooth-brush posters. After they were finished, they were judged. The winner was: First, Florence Linsing; second, Donna June Powell; third, Beverly Wells; fourth, Marjorie Norton; fifth, Grace Wardley.

The Alpha Book club of the Dever community was entertained at the home of Mrs. Sam Thomas, with eight members present. A short meeting was held, owing to the absence of so many of the members, election of officers was postponed. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. A. E. Campbell and Mrs. Dale Gronso.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Campbell. The affair will be a covered dish supper followed by a social evening. Families of the club members will be special guests.

Violet Bright re-entered the junior class at high school after a long absence. Beulah Wilson from Dever, Ruth and Evelyn Goy, from Astoria, entered the sophomore class which now has 29 students.

Rev. and Mrs. F. B. Culver of Portland were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Jones over the weekend. They left for their home Tuesday. On account of car trouble, they remained here longer than they expected. Rev. Culver conducted services in the Evangelical church Sunday morning, and Rev. G. F. Liening Jr., preached in the Albany Evangelical church at the same time, on account of the death of the pastor, Rev. Launer.

88 Children Examined at Keizer Clinic

KEIZER, Jan. 28 — Eighty-four children, 46 of them from Keizer school, were examined in an all-day health clinic held Wednesday at the schoolhouse here for pupils of the Hayesville, Labish and Ketter schools. Dr. Vernon A. Douglas and Miss Juanita Johnston of the county health department were in charge. They reported finding 12 physically perfect children in the group.

Forty-three parents attended the clinic, which was the only clinic held here this year, except that this clinic will be completed later with immunization treatments.

As a special feature in compliment to Dr. Douglas, Miss Johnston and the four teachers of the school, Mrs. Madalene Callin, Mrs. Eva Kelso, Miss Bernice Zielke and Mrs. R. H. Polanski, women of the district served a dinner at the schoolhouse during the noon hour. Others at this event were Mrs. Lester Pearline, Mrs. Roy Nelson, Mrs. David Saucy, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Savage, Mrs. E. A. Kurtz and Robert McClay.

ATTEND CLINIC
HAYESVILLE, Jan. 28 — Ruth and Kathleen Shepherd, Mary, Helen Shroeder, Matsui Ishida, and Jimmie Stettler of the first grade, and Eugene George of the fifth grade attended the health clinic at Kaiser Wednesday. All received the health examination, and Jimmie Stettler received toxin-antitoxin.
Elsie Stettler, Ollie and Jennie Jory of pre-school age were also examined.

HOLLYWOOD
Today — Primitive love story, "Tabu."

Tossing a taunt to organized outlawry, stealing a beautiful girl from under the very nose of a bandit gang, George O'Brien is said to make everyone's ideal of manhood come true in the new Fox filmization of Zane Grey's popular novel, "The Rainbow Trail," at Warner Bros. Capitol today.

Laid in a section of the old West where corruption was as deeply entrenched as it is in our cities today, the new film is said to teach a much needed lesson to members of the present generation. The one way to break up organized outlawry is to send in some man who is strong enough to break it up.

"Union Depot," at Warner Bros. Elsinore, the Douglas Fairbanks Jr., special seems to run into superlatives any way you view it from the press books.

For one thing, it is a one set picture, with the entire drama transpiring in a union station; the set is the largest interior ever built in Hollywood. Its cast of 90 players includes, besides Fairbanks and Joan Blondell, Guy Kibbee, Alan Hale, Junior Coghlan, Little Dickie Moore, Polly Walters, Mae Madison, Lillian Bond, David Landau and George Ernest, boy star. It was directed by Alfred E. Green.

HOLMAN TOUCHES ON AUTO RULING

DALLAS, Jan. 28 — Rufus C. Holman, state treasurer, addressed some 45 members of the chamber of commerce and their wives at a meeting in Dallas, Wednesday night. His talk covered the activities and responsibilities of the board of control, particularly the management of the state institutions.

He cited instances where material savings have been made in administration expense by a careful check up on management. He also touched upon the recent order effecting use of state owned automobiles before and after regular hours, stating that provision had been made to cover cases where duties did not come within the allotted period.

Mr. Holman was accompanied by his secretary, Miss Austin, and W. W. Ridehalgh, supervisor of transportation representing the board of control.

The chamber of commerce will hold another dinner meeting in February which will be in the nature of a round table discussion of local problems.

Albert Markles in Shelburn to Live; Repair Phone Line

SHELburn, Jan. 28 — Opal Shilling and Evelyn Bronson are both on the sick list this week. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Markles are moving into Shelburn. They are occupying the house formerly owned by Mrs. Bonds.
The telephone line between Selo and Shelburn is being placed in good condition; new poles are replacing the old ones.
Delbert Chrisman has returned to school after a four-week absence. Delbert has had a severe attack of pneumonia.

FRED HECKER HERE IN WOODBURN PLAY

WOODBURN, Jan. 28 — Fred Hecker has the title role in the play "Private Eagen," which is to be given in the St. Luke's community hall Thursday and Friday nights, February 4 and 5. Corporal Eagen gets "a bad" with his hard-boiled sergeant, which is a part played by Pete Brasel, and is relegated with his Hebrew partner, Izzy (Edwin Becker), to the most abhorred job in the army, kitchen police, known in domestic households merely as "peeling potatoes."

Corporal Eagen has written to his sweetheart Sally that he is a general in the army, and is worried about how to actually get his promotion from the potato sacks, because Sally is scheduled to appear on the scene very soon. The part of Sally is played by Gelta Mae Hunt.

About 150 local people are to be included in the play's cast.

Silver tea Today
A silver tea, the proceeds from which will go to the aid of the Children's Farm home near Corvallis, is to be given in the Woodburn Methodist Episcopal church Friday afternoon. A special dinner is to be prepared by the members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, which is sponsoring the tea. The affair will last from 3 to 6 o'clock.

A program has been arranged. Mrs. Ray Trullinger will talk about the farm home and point out the work of the W. C. T. U. in doing to help that institution. The Rural club trio will sing. Little five-year-old Donna Dean will play a piano solo. Mrs. Perle Love will sing a soprano solo and Miss Wilma Morrison will play a piano solo.

A trio, consisting of Joyce and Helen Wadell and Mrs. Paul Pemberton, will sing. A play, in which various members of the W. C. T. U. take parts, will be presented.

CHANGES MADE IN RESIDENTIAL AREA

AURORA, Jan. 28 — Numerous changes in the residential district have been made here recently. William Nagl who purchased the Zeno Schwab property has had the interior remodeled and has taken possession.
L. E. Ratcliff who occupied the house moved to what is known as the John Damm property, which was left vacant when Carl Brammer and family left for California to make their home.

When Lyle Yergen purchased the meat market he moved to town and occupied the house on Main street owned by Louis Weibert. He has returned to the farm to live and drives to his business each morning.

Harvey Hinkle, a hop buyer of Portland, has moved into the house vacated by Yergen. Hinkle is well known in these parts having been reared in Hubbard, and has been a hop buyer for many years.

George Winchell Will Resume Job First of Month

SILVERTON, Jan. 28 — George Winchell who was injured while on duty as a lineman for the Portland General Electric company last July, will be able to resume his duties on February 1.

Mr. Winchell's accident here last July attracted considerable attention at the time. He was injured while working at the cement plant by an unusual surge of power caused, investigators later said was their belief, by a shock of hay across the wires between Silvertown and Mount Angel.

The shock threw Mr. Winchell several feet, injuring him seriously. Skin grafting was necessary to save his life.

Mickey Mouse NOTES

"Out to toys" this week are the funniest ones yet. They are "The Fisherman" and "The Rocker." And when you put them together you will have a laugh coming.

M M C
Big Chief Rice left for Los Angeles Sunday, and he told me to be sure and tell you all goodbye for him. The new Chief will be James Carey. We will initiate him next Saturday.

M M C
Wouldn't you like to be Chief Minnie Mouse, or song leader, color bearer, or a sergeant at arms. Bring your friends; have them vote for you. Anyone can be one of these officers. If he is a Mickey Mouse club member.

M M C
The Mickey Mouse orchestra sounded well last week, a special selection for this Saturday was written especially for Mickey Mouse members.

M M C
And also this Saturday, we're going to sing Doctor Epley's song entitled "Dream Memories."

M M C
Miss Barnes said, "We Mother Martha," and "Sailors" would entertain us this week, wonder what they are?"

MUSICAL PROGRAM IS CHURCH FEATURE

DALLAS, Jan. 28 — An all request musical program will be featured at the Dallas Christian church Sunday evening. The people in the audience and choir will make requests for the different musical numbers. The soloists of the choir will be ready to respond, those who sing duets will also be ready to respond at the request of members of the congregation.

All songs used during the song service will be at the request of those attending the service. The sermon topic for the evening will be "I Was Not Disobedient to the Heavenly Vision."

At the morning hour of worship the pastor, K. E. Burke, will deliver the last of the series of sermons dealing with "Jesus in His Relationship to Man." The sermon Sunday morning will be "Jesus as Lord—What He Saith Unto You Do It."

TEEPLE ESCAPES ACCIDENT INJURY

SPRING VALLEY, Jan. 28 — The frosty snow covered roads were the cause of what could have easily been a fatal accident Wednesday morning at about 7:30 when Howard Teeple was driving to Salem to take exams at Willamette university where he is a freshman. On the Petty's hill the car skidded and finally catapulted over the steep fill on the east side landing top down.

The sedan was quite badly wrecked but Howard managed to get out and continue on to town. His head was scratched and he was badly shaken. The car narrowly missed the creek which is now bank full, and the concrete culvert.
