Annual Meet Co-op Creamery Will be Saturday Afternoon

MONMOUTH, Jan. 28 — The annual meeting of directors and stockholders of the Monmouth Co-operative creamery will be held at 1:30 p.m. in the I. O. O. F. hall, Saturday, Jan. 30. This creamery plant was opened on March 1, 1908. In May 1916 it became the property of cooperative interests and has continued under this management.

F. E. Murdock, manager, says that 1931 was a record breaker for volume of business with a 63 per cent increase in butter poundage produced over the previous highest year's record.

struck the water I washed off, but held on to the bridle. They said from the shore, 'Don't pull the bridle!' I knew just what to do and the horse went over all right. The Indian said, 'White man cumtux.' (Probably he grabbed the horse's tail.)

"When we were across the river the company that made the boat had organized, and decided that no one man should have more than 10 head of cattle. There were some of the company that had 30 or 40 cattle, so we formed another company with Jesse Applegate for captain. We moved on finely until we got across the Little and Big Blues. We had just got over the two streams and camped when a rain storm came up and blew down all the tents, and ran one wagon 20 feet. The next morning Big Blue river was over its banks. We learned that John Ford was behind with his wife and baby with Daniel Waldo. Bennett O'Neil, William H. Wilson and myself went back to meet them. We made a raft and got across Big Blue. When we got to Little Blue we found it was over its banks and Waldo was on the other side. We had to swim to get over. The river was down next day, and the Waldos camped, but John Ford, his wife and baby crossed the river in a bark canoe that John Ford had made. When we got back to Big Blue our raft was water soaked; it would hold only one up. They gave me the raft and they swam over. O'Neil was nearly drowned but we all got safe to camp and resumed our march. While we lay by one day to rest and wash, I went hunting and killed an antelope. While getting it ready to put on the horse I heard a noise on the hill above me; I thought 'Indian,'-but I got my game fixed for carrying, skinned each side in the middle and broke the back and laid it on the saddle, then made tracks for camp. I dressed and roasted one shoulder and invited Doctor (Dr. Marcus Whitman) to help eat it. The doctor said it was the best roasted meat he ever ate.

"When we got to Fort Laramie, Platte river had to be ferried. We got some boats, tied them together and got all the barrels we could and lashed by the sides of the boats to help hold them up. We crossed one wagon at a time till all were over. At the next river, North Platte, we tied all the wagons together. Some one had a long rope which was tied to the ring of the first wagon and men on the other side helped the train to cross. We made a good crossing except that McHaley's wagon broke loose and washed off. (Mr. Penter's memory was evidently a little hazy here. Fort Laramie was (and the town is) on the Laramie river. At Laramie (Fort Laramie) I got a pair of moccasins for a pint bottle from an Indian woman, a white man's wife.

"We traveled up the Sweetwater till we got to Independence Rock; the train stopped there. Hiram Straight, Bob Smith and myself went hunting and were out all night. In the morning we killed a fine fat buffalo cow, and started to get ahead of the wagons. We got on top of the Black hills where we could see the wagons; we then unpacked our horses and let them graze, while we roasted buffalo meat and ate without bread or salt, then went on to meet the train. So that ends the hunt for that time.

Fellowship Dinner Will be Held for Dallas Christians

DALLAS, Jan. 28 — The Dallas Christian church will hold a fellowship dinner Friday night at the church. This is to be the rally dinner for the evangelistic meeting which begins in the church the first Sunday in February. Arrangements have been made for a program of songs, music, stunts and talks. Hugh Black will act as toastmaster, talks will be made by R. R. Imbler, Homer Dashiell, Mrs. O. G. Hinamon and K. E. Burke.

The young people will put on a mock wedding. Clyde Robbins, and other members of the choir will provide both instrumental and vocal selections. Invitations have been extended to every member and friend of the church and Bible school to be present for this dinner. Each one attending has been asked to bring a covered dish, sandwiches and the necessary eating implements.

ANTIQUE DISPLAYS ARE HIT AT MEET

OAK POINT, Jan. 28—Independence Rural Woman's club held an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. J. W. Graber, with quilting in the morning, a dinner at noon and a program at 2 o'clock. A letter from Mrs. Young of the State Federation announced the club 100 per cent and its name on the honor roll.

The lookout committee was instructed to find out the best way to assist the Independence Charities in caring for the needy.

A collection of antiques were brought by the members and articles from France, Hawaiian Islands, Alaska, Mexico, an old bible from Ohio and a powder horn were among the collection.

Mrs. G. A. Peterson, Jr., gave a very interesting talk on glass. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson visited the Heix Glass factory in Newark, Ohio, four years ago. Mrs. Robert Seegar invited the club to meet with her at the next meeting Tuesday, Feb. 9.

The fourth meeting of the Farmers' evening school being held at the Oak Point school house each Wednesday night was held last night. Dairy farming was the major topic.

MRS. E. SCHMIDT GETS 4TH PRIZE

SHAW, Jan. 28 — The many friends of Mrs. Emelia Schmidt are congratulating her on her success of winning fourth prize in the Booster contest of the Southern Farmer.

The Woman's Community club met at the home of Mrs. Fred Gilbert. The afternoon was spent in sewing and social conversation. The members present were Mrs. Joe Perry, Mrs. Ed Goffin, Mrs. Ed Amort, Mrs. William Berg, Mrs. Elton Brownell, Mrs. John Batliner, Mrs. Loyd Keene and Miss Amanda Mathews. Visitors were Mrs. Ed Gilbert and children, Mrs. Howard Gilbert and son, and Mrs. Andrew Fieber.

Miss K. Arbuthnot Tells Assembly of Travels in Spain

MONMOUTH, Jan. 28. — Miss Katherine Arbuthnot, faculty member of the normal school, delighted the students and faculty at convocation Tuesday with the story of Philura, with its captivating theme: "In the all-encircling good, one can have anything he wants."

Miss Hazel Top and Miss Frances Kirk, of the department of physical education, added color and vividness to Miss Arbuthnot's story by impersonating respectively, the senorita, and a Spanish dancer, both in costume.

Miss Arbuthnot told of her travels in Spain in her usual charming way, until her audience were all quite sure that Spanish castles are delightful realities which no one can afford to miss pleasuring about in.

REMOVE MENACING TREES FROM ROAD

SUNNYSIDE, Jan. 28—Heavy snow has caused the stoppage of the county employment road work on the highway until better weather. Snow has been falling for the last four days and still snowing and now is all over the hills to the depth of 12 inches.

Carl Meloney of Mt. Arrat, Iowa, is visiting at the home of his cousin, C. R. Gregg. Mr. Meloney has been touring the coast for the last six weeks and sees nothing new in the big snow storms here.

Miss Helene Gregg surprised her home folks last night in arriving by train from Glendale, Ore., where she is teaching in the high school. The heavy snow fall had made the school bus travel impossible, so vacation.

Twelve or fifteen big fir trees have been cut down along the highway south of Sunnyside and are being cut into cord wood thus removing a danger of trees falling across the highway, which has happened many times in the past years.

A pruning demonstration will be held on February 1 by Prof. McWhorten of State college, at 10 a. m., in the G. T. Heckart orchards and at 1:30 p. m. at the Westenhouse orchards in the Liberty district.
