Mott Talk on tax Readjustment Gets Enthusiastic Hearing

CHEMAWA, Feb. 12—James Mott, state corporation commissioner addressed an enthusiastic audience on the readjustment of taxes at the regular meeting of the grange. The subject, usually a dry one, was chosen by those present as being of most interest and Mr. Mott made one of the most interesting expositions of the present system of taxation, its ills and cures, that this grange has been privileged to hear. Mr. Mott was introduced by Fred McCall of the agricultural committee.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. Anna Beaty and a large crowd of grangers and their friends were in attendance.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Clara Girod, with Ernest Savage at the piano, the new drill team very creditably executed some intricate floor work. The following musical numbers and readings were given; accordion solo by Gus Hessman, vocal numbers by the Christian church male quartette, reading by Truman Cummings, vocal solo by Muriel Bartruff and a vocal solo by Joseph White accompanied by Mrs. Dan Kleihege.

O. E. Palmateer explained a proposition on co-operative buying.

S. H. Franciso, chairman, Cal Mason and Lester Evens were appointed on the athletic committee with instructions to organize a baseball team. As the grange has plenty of "hot" material available a good team is in prospect.

AIRPLANE LANDS IN MUDDY GRAIN FIELD

SPRING VALLEY, Feb. 12.—A rather unusual occurrence was the landing of a tiny one-passenger airplane in a grain field here about 11:45 Thursday. The plane developed a plugged gas line and a forced landing was immediately necessary. The field looked clear but was very muddy and the ship nosed into the mud but no damage resulted. Virgil Lenny of Portland was the occupant on his way to Corvallis. The plane is the property of the Paragon Flying Co. of Portland. The owners came and took it back in the evening.

The students of the Spring Valley school and the community club will combine their programs honoring George Washington and will have their meeting Feb. 22 in the evening. A pie social will be the final feature. The proceeds to help toward buying needed play equipment for the students.
