

Local News Briefs

Montgomery Case—Case of state vs. G. E. Montgomery was before Judge L. H. McMahon yesterday, with defendant filing demurrer following arraignment. He is then accused of making a false financial statement to a bank, to effect that he was worth $12,400, about four times his alleged worth. In demurrer, which will be argued next Saturday, he alleges the case is not triable in this county; that indictment does not state sufficient facts to constitute a crime; that more than one crime is charged; and that indictment if true, would constitute legal justification of the crime alleged.

Fine New Case—Voluntary non-suit was allowed in case of Elvin Allen, minor, vs. J. A. Livestock and company, seeking $10,000 damages for injuries sustained at the defendant's hop yard. Following this judgment, new complaint was filed by Allen against Livestock and company, seeking $10,000 judgment. The accident occurred August 23 at the entertainment hall at the hop yards when Elvin Allen, 12, fell through portion of a platform had been removed.

Occurrences and Gossip at the center of Oregon's state government

The capitol press boys were not forgotten on this Valentine's day, and the three regulars each received a fine (?) Valentine in an envelope addressed in a feminine hand. The donor has not been identified, but really such thoughtfulness is appreciated, even if they were comic and not so complimentary.

Today being St. Valentine's day this column should wish readers something or other, but that is hard to do unless we knew whether we were talking to blondes, brunettes or just men. But anyhow we do hope your favorites or secret sorrows or what have you, did not forget you.

Filings for office are coming in at a more rapid pace nowadays. Yesterday saw at least three, and a possible fourth. The fourth was the announced candidacy of J. T. Brand, circuit court judge of Clatsop county, for state supreme justice. Brand is one of the leading jurists of the state, and will undoubtedly make a good run.

In Jackson county there is a hot race for district attorney, with both W. W. Briggs of Astoria and District Attorney Cook.

continued the case on condition that Williams repair damages to Brown's car and provide a car for the plaintiff's use until his own car would be ready.

Williams' automobile Friday night crashed into Brown's car which was parked along the West Salem-Rickreall highway. Brown charged. Before Williams drove away, a neighbor to Brown obtained the license number of his car. Officer Farley Mogan of the state police appeared in justice court as a witness against Williams.

Many Placed in Jobs by Bureau Here is Report

The U. S.-Y. M. C. A. Employment bureau during January placed 453 persons in jobs, according to the monthly report issued last week by E. A. Kenney, acting agent. Of this number, only 11 were women.

State highway emergency projects furnished work for the largest number of men, 361; and the county emergency projects followed with 149. Seventy-seven men were given jobs as common laborers and five as farm hands.

Circular letters urging the employment only of Willamette valley residents were sent to 469 farmers and hop growers.

BIRTHS IN COUNTY TOTAL 76, JANUARY

Sixty-seven babies were born in Marion county in January, eight less than in January, 1931, the monthly vital statistics report completed yesterday at the county health center shows. Of the 67, 38 were boys and 29 girls.

Deaths occurring during the month were but one less than births, 27 male and 39 female. In January 1931 deaths numbered eight less than births. One maternal death occurred last month, none in January 1931, and two infant deaths, five in January, 1931.

Leading causes of death were: Heart disease 16, kidney disease six, cancer five, and influenza, pneumonia and tuberculosis seven. Seven persons died as the result of automobile accidents, two more than last year.

Called Away by Father's Death

Mrs. Ivy M. Cowgill, 751 Chemeketa street, received word yesterday that her father, Adam Goodman, had died at Lake Alford, Fla. With her small son, Paul, she took the North Coast limited from Portland last night for Sheldon, N. D., where the funeral will be held. She was accompanied by Rev. J. R. Buck, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church, who remain at Sheldon until after the funeral. Mrs. Cowgill will remain there three weeks.
