

65 PERSONS ATTEND MEETING OF GRANGE

Ray Glatt Tells About Mt. Vernon as he saw it On Journey

STAYTON, Feb. 22.—There were 65 persons present at the grange meeting here Saturday, 19 of whom were visitors. Various phases of grange work were brought up in the morning session, one of which was draping the charter in commemoration of Mrs. Minnie Perry, Mrs. Jessie Stegmann and Chris Geibler, who met death in an auto accident several weeks ago. This service was most impressive and was followed by an old favorite hymn, sung by Mrs. Rena Tate, Mrs. Jessie Carter and Clem Crane.

Afternoon session opened with a talk by Mr. Wagner of the Kelly-Springfield tire company, who told how grange members in good standing may buy tires at a special discount. This plan has been worked out for some time in Washington, but is rather new in Oregon.

M. E. Townsend of the Turner grange gave a humorous reading. Fred Steiner, of the Turner played several numbers on his accordion, which were very much enjoyed.

The principal address of the afternoon was made by Ray J. Glatt, secretary-manager of the fruit growers association of Woodburn. Mr. Glatt told about the visit of himself and wife, last year to Mt. Vernon, the home of George and Martha Washington. One thing he brought out, that is probably not known to many citizens, was that Mt. Vernon does not belong to the government. It is owned by the Ladies union organization, with 48 representative women, one in each state. Following the death of the first president and later his wife, their property went to heirs, in all parts of the world. The Ladies Union have been successful in securing a number of things belonging to the Washingtons and replacing them in the home.

However not all have been returned and there are some rooms with but few of the original articles. In some cases reproductions of the original have been used. He told of the simplicity of Washington's tomb, on the banks of the Potomac river, in comparison with the tombs of Grant and other presidents. There is a guard on duty at the tomb, 24 hours a day. He also told of the wine cellar, the slave quarters and other things at Mt. Vernon. His talk was most interesting. Mr. Glatt was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Larson prominent in grange circles at Woodburn.

The meeting was brought to a close, by members drawing valentines from the large box, made and handsomely decorated for that purpose by Mrs. Rena Tate.

N. P. WILLIAMSON REBUILDING HOUSE

HAZEL GREEN, Feb. 22 — N. P. Williamson, whose home was burned Feb. 14, is having a double garage built. Roy Minster of Salem is the contractor. The building material is being hauled by C. A. Kobow. The garage will be of wood with a cement floor. The family intends to use garage for house while their new home is being constructed.

At present the family is in Salem. Mr. Williamson and son Victor, a son-in-law, Harold Burns and Miss Carolyn with her sister, Miss Bertha Williamson, who is a telephone employe, living on State street.

C. W. Kobow and brother-in-law, Perry Sanders, are hauling cedar posts from Scotts Mills.

Move Building James Yada and H. Hashemito are helping move the community house near Chemawa to the northeast corner where the Chemawa and Hazel Green road leaves the Pacific highway six miles north of Salem.

The building will be used by the Japanese congregation, who have been meeting with the Hayesville Sunday school. H. Hashemito is superintendent of this school. The building, moved, was built about six years ago for a kindergarten sponsored by the Missionary council of Salem.

ANOTHER LANDMARK RAZED, SHELBURN

SHELLBURN, Feb. 22 — One of Shelburn's old landmarks, the creamery building, is being torn down.

Heien Miller who attends Salem high school was home last week with the flu.

Albert Merkle is doing some improving to the Bound's property where he is living. Lowell Fox is clearing fence-row, and otherwise improving the Fred Roadman place.

Mrs. Ernest McCrae gave a birthday dinner for her brother Ralph, on his 30th birthday. Those attending were H. O. Shelling, Virgil, Ralph and Opal Shelling and Mr. and Mrs. McCrae and son Archie.

Revival Campaign to Start Monday Night

PRATUA, Feb. 22.—Mrs. J. M. Franz, who underwent an operation at a Salem hospital recently, has returned home and is getting along fine. Homer Welby, who had a severe attack of sinus trouble, is also improving. The Ladies Aid met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gladys Hersch. A large attendance was reported. Revival meetings will begin at the Methodist church Monday night.

SUNSHINE AFTER THE STORM

All the bitterness which Rose Allen showed toward her brother, Edward, when she testified against him in his recent trial for the slaying of her lover, Francis A. Donaldson, was completely forgotten when this picture was made after the jury had acquitted the young society turfdam. Brother and sister were reconciled while the jury was deliberating its verdict, and Rose was the first to embrace her brother when the foreman pronounced the words that lifted the shadow—"Not Guilty."

HAMMILL'S NEPHEW GIVEN PROMOTION

JEFFERSON, Feb. 22 — D. Y. Hammill of Jefferson has received word from Kansas that his nephew, Arthur G. Stellar, Davidson school superintendent, has been transferred to Jolo, Sulu, as acting governor of the province of Sulu, and took up his duties about December 25. Mr. Stellar has served for more than 22 years in the bureau of education in the islands, and has been for many years one of the leading group of division superintendents. The promotion which he received was given him as the result of long years of efficient service rendered.

Mrs. J. R. McKee was called to Portland Saturday on account of the death of her uncle, Perry Magness, 83, who died in Portland Feb. 18. He has been an invalid for 11 months.

An enjoyable affair of the week was the "Heart" party Friday night, given by the social committee of the Christian Endeavor society of the Evangelical church, at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kihns, on the Marion road. The rooms were beautifully decorated with red hearts and Kewpies for the occasion. Helen Kihns won the prize in the Heart contest, and Florence Liening was winner in the music contest.

At a late hour, refreshments were served by the social committee. Present, beside members of the Karl Kihns family, were Rev. and Mrs. G. F. Liening, Jr., and daughter Florence, Beulah and Virgil Wilson, Geraldine Davis, Eva and Gladys Oakley, Carl Henderson, Evelyn and Robert Gulvin, Geraldine and Shirley Jones, Frances and Marjorie Weddie, and Mrs. Nettie Reeves.

RAYMOND'S SINGING CAPTIVATES CROWD

RICKY, Feb. 22.—With a picture of Washington on one side and one of Lincoln on the other, a large flag in the center and the footlights covered with Oregon grape, the stage formed a pretty setting for the Washington's Birthday program put on at the community club meeting Friday night under the direction of the teachers, Mrs. Minnie Joekel and Mrs. Tressie Carlson.

R. Raymond, Ricky's well known blind tenor, again captured his audience with his number, "Red, White and Blue." At the close of the last note there was a storm of applause.

Another Ricky artist, Paul Brown, made his first appearance. He, with Veneta LaBranche, gave a group of violin duets that were enthusiastically received. Miss Laura Crabb was pianist for the school; readings by Hazel Magee, Gladys Brant, Raymond Beard, Esther Cadwallader, Doris Brown; several plays by the primary grades and upper grades; Götterburg address by Hazel Doll Sheridan; violin duets by Veneta LaBranche and Paul Brown; violin solo, Veneta LaBranche; vocal solo, R. Raymond; American's Creed, Leo Bixeth, and closing tribute by Carrie Kenney.

Lunch was served by Mrs. O. D. Binegar and Mrs. A. E. LaBranche, aided by Gladys Crabb and Patricia Fitzpatrick. The Spinners' convention will be given at the March meeting by the community women.

BIRTHDAY AT SCHOOL

PERRYDALE, Feb. 22—James Yoakum celebrated his tenth birthday Friday afternoon with a party for the entire intermediate grades. Mrs. Yoakum came to school laden with two huge angel cakes, ice cream and punch for the pupils. School was dismissed by Mr. Ramsey for the remainder of the afternoon.

MAX-I-MUM SYRUP

In the Kitchen

A New Angel Food Cake
1 1/2 cups egg whites
1/2 cup cane sugar
1 1/2 cups syrup
1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons cream tartar
Boil syrup to soft ball stage when tested in cold water (232°F.). While boiling syrup, sift some flour and carefully measure 1 1/2 cups. Sift several times. Add salt to egg whites. Use rotary egg beater and beat until foamy. Add cream tartar. Continue beating until mixture "peaks," but is not stiff. Fold in the sugar with an egg whip. When syrup has cooled to 180°F., or until bottom of pan is just warm, pour in a fine stream into the egg whites, folding it in steadily to prevent settling to bottom of mixing bowl. Sift in a small portion of the flour. Fold this in and continue until all of the flour has been added. Pour batter into a water-treated angel food pan. Oven is preheated to 200 degrees—a slow oven. Cake is put in and temperature increased to 325 degrees—a moderate oven. Bake 60 minutes.

Max-i-mum Syrup is used exclusively in recipes demonstrated at the Statesman-Safeway Cooking School.
