

PUBLIC IS BILKED BY FAKE 'EXTRAS'

Sellers, However, Meet up With law in Eugene; Forced to Quit

Astoria and Eugene have both been invaded by "bootjacker" newspaper salesmen, spreading "extras" of a meagre-sized Portland tabloid, "exposing" President Hoover. The Astorian-Budget estimates that 2000 citizens of that community bought the papers at five cents each.

"Investigation revealed that the 'extra' was a postage-stamp tabloid featuring an extremely brief and poorly-written re-hash of some of the anti-Hoover bologna which has appeared in 'Mirrors of Washington' and the 'Strange Career of President Hoover Under Two Flags,' the Astoria paper comments. C izens there are advised to look to their own newspaper for 'extras' when extra news arises and to avoid 'unsubstantiated bologna' at a nickel a piece.

The "extra" sellers who also invaded Salem on Monday, and who brought out the suggestion that an ordinance prohibiting their activities be passed, fared more roughly in Eugene. According to the News there, these sellers did a thriving business about halfway up through the business district. There they met members of the police force who were at sea of the Portlanders' racket as are members of their home town force. At the police station the visitors were informed that they were not to sell their papers in either the business or residence district—which limited their scope of activities in Eugene very materially. Further, the "bootjackers" were told they were to get out of town speedily and without more noise.

IDENTIFIES REED AS KNOTT SLAYER

MEDFORD, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Albert W. Reed of Denver, on trial here for first degree murder, has been identified by Roy Layman as the man who shot and killed Victor Knott, Ashland policeman, last November 18.

Layman, Ashland policeman and companion of Knott the night he was slain, testified Reed was the man who murdered Knott and that he also was the man "who took three shots at me as I lay on the ground."

POLICE GAZETTE LATEST SLUMP VICTIM

After 85 years, during which its pink seductiveness beckoned to the seeker after "the straight dope" from every newswoman in the country, the glamorous Police Gazette has suspended publication. As Kathleen Mavrounes put it, "It may be for years and it may be forever," but the probability is that the final curtain has been rung down upon the only magazine which was considered as essential to the well-equipped barber shop as the shaving brush or razor. The Gazette was founded back in 1845 by George Wilkes and Enoch Camp for the purpose of waging war on crime and crooked politics. In turn, politicians and crooks attacked the crusading paper and several people were killed at one time or another during efforts towards its suppression. When it wasn't crusading, in those early days, the Gazette went in for reporting love affairs, in a manner considered daring at the time, but which is now regarded as quaint. Criminals, burlesque queens, courtesans and playboys chased each other through its pages in a colorful pageant and even up to its last issue it was vaguely reminiscent of the Mauve Decade. The decline of the Gazette is largely due to the world's changed views regarding bathing beauties, crime and sex since the heyday of the old sheet. Then, too, the tabloids have come to stay, featuring gossip columns that were the life-blood of the old Gazette.

Conference on Reorganization Of Schools Set

A conference on junior high schools and other types of reorganization of the upper elementary and lower high school grades will be held in the state educational department here March 4. C. A. Howard, state superintendent of public instruction, announced Thursday.

Special attention will be given to clarifying objectives, setting tentative standards and attacking certain other obvious problems in the junior high school field. There will be a number of prominent educators in attendance.

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—Although blind since childhood, the Rev. Willmoore Kendall, veteran Methodist minister, thrills to "see" a through the eyes of a friend.

LEAGUE OF CITIES CONVENES TODAY

Fred Williams and Trindle To Attend From Salem; Pollution Topic

Salem is to be well represented at the annual meeting of the League of Oregon Cities to convene in Eugene Friday and Saturday.

Fred A. Williams who was appointed seven years ago on the stream pollution committee and who has served on this committee continuously, will take an active part in the discussion of this subject of vital interest to Salem. Indications are that the meeting will arrange to present the matter of stream pollution to the 1933 legislature.

H. Paulus, assistant state treasurer, is on the program Saturday, to speak on "City Funds." Scope of his address will include handling, use and investment of city funds and also touching on the problem of a city investing in its own bonds.

William H. Trindle will attend representing Salem as its city attorney. Subjects to be discussed of interest to Salem include disposal of unsightly buildings, forced cleaning of vacant lots, peddler control, unemployment and occupational licenses.

CURBING EXPENSES OF BOARDS VIEWED

Whether it will be possible to curb the expenditures of various state boards, which operate by means of fees collected from members of the professions they represent, is the question that is being investigated by W. W. Ridehaigh, director of state transportation. Ridehaigh has a desk in the state treasury department.

Ridehaigh's report will be filed with Governor Meier and probably will be the basis for proposed legislation at the next session of the Oregon legislature. These so-called self-sustaining state boards are not required to go before the legislature for biennial appropriations, and their expenditures apparently are restricted only by the amount of fees they collect. Several attempts have been made to place these boards on a legislative budget system, but without any degree of success. Records show that in some cases these boards have paid as much as $50 for the services of a speaker at a convention, and in other instances the vouchers for traveling expenses were said to be unreasonable. Other alleged extravagances in connection with the conduct of these boards are under investigation.

Oral Argument On Boloff Case Denied Goodman

The state supreme court Wednesday denied the motion of Irvin Goodman, Portland attorney, for permission to make an oral argument in support of a petition for rehearing of the case involving Ben Boloff who is under 10 years penitentiary sentence for violation of the state criminal syndicalism act. The court previously had denied three petitions for rehearing by a four to three vote.

Friends of Boloff said they would place the case before Governor Meier, in an effort to obtain a pardon for the defendant.

Opinion Upholds Tokstad Verdict

The state supreme court Wednesday affirmed Judge McMahan of the Marion county circuit court in the case involving Simon Tokstad, charged with being the father of an illegitimate child born to Fay Dickerson, an unmarried woman. The lower court found Tokstad guilty. The opinion was written by Justice Rand.

AMONG THE PRIZES you will always find

SAFEWAY Extra Grade

DAIRYLAND Standard Grade

BUTTER

being demonstrated at the STATESMAN - SAFEWAY cooking school manufactured by the

Mt. Angel Cooperative Creamery

In independent stores call for ROSE VALLEY SWEET CREAM BUTTER

The Talk of the Town Bishop's State Street Closing Out Sale

WHAT PRICES! WHAT SAVINGS! Heard from every one who attended this sale the open-day—but no wonder these are positively the most astounding values in clothing history.

Yesterday when this sale opened hundreds of people jammed the doors, far exceeding all expectations and making this one of the biggest days in the history of this store.

And folks we thank you and assure you that these great values will continue until we close these doors.

MEN! WE SAY WITH ALL EARNESTNESS—THESE ASTOUNDING VALUES HAVE NEVER BEEN EQUALLED. SEE OUR WINDOWS, THEY TELL THE STORY, THEN BE HERE WITH THE CROWDS FRIDAY - SATURDAY

Shirts & Shorts
All new colors, broadcloth and rayon. Reg. Values to 75c. Now 35c -- 3 for $1.

Pajamas
Fine makes. Good patterns. Values to $2.00. Now to close out
95c

Sweaters
Coat style. Real sweaters for all wear. Close out
$1.

Suits and O'Coats
All good styles, good colors—Real suits for all wear. Now to close out
$11

Suits and O'Coats
Finest all wool, good styles, good patterns—Conservative and young men's. Now to close out...
$16

SHIRTS
Broadcloth, plain and fancy. A real shirt and a real price
55c

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY
Bishop's State Street

TIES
New patterns, many formerly $1.00 values. Now to close out
45c

SAFEWAY STORES

DISTRIBUTION WITHOUT WASTE

Royally Received!
by the City of Salem
HOMEMAKERS' COOKING SCHOOL

For the past 2 days Helen Elizabeth Brown and Amelia Sansom have been conducting the Saffeway-Statesman Cooking School at the Armory. The last session will be held today; you are cordially invited to attend. We want our friends to know we sincerely appreciate their enthusiasm and we invite you to make free use of the Home-maker's Bureau at all times through the mail.

Saturday & Monday Savings - Feb. 27 - 29

SUGAR
Pure cane fine granulated
Buy all you want at this low price
8 lbs. 35c

FIG BARS fresh stock, so healthy for the children
2 lbs. . . 19c

NAPHTHA SOAP Feldman's, the large yellow bar
10 bar carton 39c

EGGS
Fresh extras, right from the farm
2 dozen 29c

Salad Dressing
Gold Medal, it will make fat people thin
Just think a full qt. for
- 28c

PANCRUST
for all cooking, baking, frying purposes—Now demonstrated in cooking school
3 lb. can 49c

CRACKERS
Snowflakes crisp, lightly salted crackers at a saving
2 lb. box 23c

BANANAS Large, yellow, ripe fruit
pound . . 5c

LETTUCE Solid crisp heads
2 for . . . 9c

COFFEE
Max-i-mum, it's quality through and through
Vacuum packed. Buy all you want
1 lb. tin 29c

Choice Meats
Market Features

ROASTS . . 12 1/2c
Pork Loin or Leg to Roast. Extra Choice from tender young pigs; nice and lean

RABBITS lb. . 19c
Young and tender to fry or bake

Chickens lb. . 24c
Fresh in from the country. All drawn.

STEAKS lb. . . 15c
Sirloin T-Bone Rib. All cut from young tender beef

SMELT - 4 lbs. 15c
Fresh dipped

FRESH GROUND BEEF lb. 10c
Made from our choice young beef

162 N. Commercial . . Phone 6169 270 N. Commercial . . Phone 9432