Social Functions Freshman Glee Adjunct

Twenty-four years ago Willamette university students originated "freshman glee," and tonight the traditional event will be celebrated in the university gymnasium. The traditional challenge was made February 8 by the sophomore class, and since that time each class has been busy preparing its representative song and practicing both the song and the feature activities which will accompany the songs.

The general plans for the affair are in the hands of Jack Simpson, and he has been assisted by a number of sub-committees.

In addition to the four songs which will be presented in the contest there will be a string quartet number by Chris Seely, Al King, Verne Wilson and Chester McCain; a reading by Dorothy Dalk, and a vocal quartet number by Lois Magin, Earl Henry, Maurice Dean and Vernon Bushnell, with Robert Magin accompanying.

As has been the custom for according to the winner. Each charter. class has planned its activities if it wins, but if it does not then other entertainment will be substituted. The freshman class will have its party in the gymnasium following the program. Anna Jo Fleming is in charge of arrangements. Sophomores will celebrate with a supper party in the Green Gate room of the Spa. Reservations for about 80 people have been made. The juniors and alumni groups will meet at the Gray Belle. The juniors have taken the the Silver Grille room and the alumni will have the Japanese room.

The seniors will have a supper party at the Rose cafe following the program. Miss Maxine Ulrich has had charge of arrangements.
