MARKET FOR EGGS REACHES NEW LOW

Extras 15 Cents, Outlook Serious; no Changes In Butter Mart

PORTLAND, March 7—(AP)—The market for eggs reached a new low mark here during the day when the 1c decline in the price named by the co-ops and the general trade touched 15c for extras and 14c for standards and mediums. The condition of the price is serious.

There was no change in the general butter market situation locally for the week's opening. Demand appears able to take care of current offerings. Butterfat is unchanged.

Light weight hens are in best call at the moment with bids Monday up to 10c lb. with mediums 13c and heavy sorts 15c lb. Most retailers are demanding the lightweights.

Apparently the country has been holding out on turkey supplies because late offerings have been more liberal while demand appears to have subsided somewhat. In fact it begins to look as if the consumer is getting fed up on turkey.

Trade in country killed meats is generally without feature for the week's opening. Conditions are much the same as last week, hogs and veal being steady with sheep and lambs steady to firm.

There are increasing supplies of Roseburg cauliflower now offering. Quality is good to just fair — a trifle mixed, which caused more or less complaint. Sales are shown $1.10-1.25 crate generally. Californian at $1.25-1.35.

Barber Buys 5-Acre Tract From Weathers

KEIZER, March 7. — Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Barber of Powers, Ore., are newcomers in Keizer, having purchased a five-acre tract from Charles Weathers on the river road north of the Gidon Slotz place. Mr. Powers has been in the employ of the Coos Bay Lumber company for the past eight years, but decided to try farming for awhile. The place is planted to English walnuts, strawberries and red raspberries.

Hogs Gain, Lambs are Steady; Oats low, Hay Stronger

Eggs dropped another cent Monday, making two consecutive drops, a cent drop also being announced Saturday. The new price paid to producers is nine cents on mediums and 11 cents on standards.

A 25 cent raise was recorded for hogs, the new top being $4.50. Lambs remain steady at $5.50 a hundred.

Oats was quoted weaker here yesterday, at $21 a ton. Barley and hay remain unchanged, although the hay market is somewhat stronger.

LAMBING PROSPECT IS REPORTED GOOD

Any drive into the country these days will reveal one of the real signs of spring: tiny lambs wandering about among the flocks of sheep. The lambing season is well started, with indications that there will be a good crop this year according to buyers at the Valley Packing company here who are in the country daily.

The end of the lambing season will fall about Easter time.

Breeders now are hoping for warm days with abundance of sunshine, in order that sheep and lambs may reach good fat condition.

Many of the grazing fields are still quite wet, but with the real sunshine of any duration will afford good pasture for the flocks.

Lamb prices have boosted considerably on the local market within the past two weeks.

STOCKS SET 1932 HIGH, LATER DROP

Food Issues Brought Ahead Due to Exemption In House tax Bill

NEW YORK, Mar. 7—(AP)—After making a new average high for the year in the first hour stocks backed water today and finished with moderate net losses.

It was a dull market, conforming closely to recent patterns in that the advance was unable to hold enough power to penetrate high ground by a decisive margin. Transfers totaled 1,582,579 shares.

Food issues were brought forward as leaders of the early rise, doubtless because the new tax bill introduced in the house exempts their products. American Telephone closed 3½ points lower.

Peoples gas was strong, rallying half a dozen points of nebulous reports of prospective refunding for some of the Insull companies' loans, which were later denied. Lambert rose after declaration of the regular dividend.

U. S. Steel, American Can, Bethlehem, Westinghouse, Union Carbide, General Motors, Du Pont, Consolidated Gas, International Telephone and Woolworth sagged from a major fraction to about 1½ points, Canadian Pacific's recent advance was interrupted. Central railroad of New Jersey lost 16 on a few sales.
