Reed Opposes Jackson and Jones Meets Bond in Bargain Program

A new venture in wrestling promotion is being executed by Matchmaker Harry Plant who offers a double main event grappling card at the armory tonight starting at

Robin Reed, world's welterweight champion, will meet Percy Jackson of Texas in an hour and a half match and Henry Jones of Provo, Utah, will meet Jimmy Bond of Boston in a match of the same scheduled duration, the flip of a coin to determine which bout will come first. Two out of three falls will decide the matches.

Harry Plant took a lesson from the hubbub and discontent arising from the McCann - Metropoulos bout in Portland the other night and is being careful to match no grapplers who are likely to make

Tonight's bouts will be in the nature of a trial and if they are popular, Plant indicates that he may continue the double main event program. For tonight's bouts Plant states that the pass list is strictly limited.

Percy Jackson made such a good showing against Robin Reed in Albany last month that Plant has billed him to meet the Reedsport editor here. Either Reed has just been lucky in taking the odd falls from his opponents here or he is superior to his opponents and exerts just enough to win by close Jackson is the tenacious type of wrestler who will stop Reed's winning streak if anyone will. Jackson wears his glasses clear up into the ring and takes them off just before the starting bell rings out. The optics give him the appearance of a professor but if he took his wrestling course by correspondence, it must have been a complete course.

Young Jimmy Bond from Boston will endeavor to use his head scissors and leg split holds to good advantage against Henry Jones in the other main event to be featured. Jones generally uses the whip wristlock predominantly in his bouts, but took a fall from Snarling Wolf with a backward

Bond is a fine specimen wrestler, possessing power and perfection of muscles. He couldn't quite turn the trick against Robin Reed, but may do so against

PLAYGROUND BALL PLANS COMING UP

Whether or not playground ball will invade Salem as a substitute for regulation baseball in the spring and summer leagues probably will be determined at a meeting of representative of all prospective teams which has been called for tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. The proposed league will be open to all teams, according to R. R.

Present plans are for organization of a six-team league which will play on Sweetland field after working hours. Teams in prospect will be from the national guard. Western Paper Converting company, Oregon Pulp and Paper company, statehouse employes, Elks club, postoffice force, Southern Pacific and Kay Woolen mills. In Portland and other of the larger cities, the soft ball game is becoming increasingly favored, Boardman says. He expects the same will be the case here.

TENNIȘ COURTS TO

At a conference Sunday with Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner, superintendent of the state hospital, officers of the Salem Tennis association were informed that playing on the asylum courts will be banned at least for the present season and probably indefinitely.

The reason for this order, Dr. Steiner explained, is that last year, in the absence of association members, rowdies often took possession of the courts and disturbed not only state hospital inmates but also those at Salem general hospital, a block's distance away. The superintendent, at request of the association officers, conceded the organization the privilege of holding scheduled matches and tournaments.

These two asphalt courts, of doubles size, were built in 1915 with funds provided by the tennis association. Rights of their use belonged to the association mem-

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 14-(AP)-Baseball's most famous holdout, remained deadlocked today with Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees over salary terms for 1932.

After a half hour's conference in the training field club house, the home run monarch and the man who has paid him nearly $700,000 in the past dozen years, apparently were not much nearer agreement than they were two months ago when the Babe turned down a $70,000 contract, representing a $10,000 "cut". The only hint of compromise newspapermen:

'About all I can say is that we are a little warmer, maybe with a little better understanding, but we have not yet reached any basis for a definite agreement."

EUGENE, Ore., March 14-(AP)-Clarence W. Spears, football coach at the University of Oregon, telephoned University of Wisconsin officials today he had decided to remain at Oregon. Wisconsin had invited him to become head coach there.

Spears' decision was made, he said, after he had been assured there were no plans to curtail intercollegiate athletics here. Commenting on reports he had promised to accept the Wisconsin offer and then declined it, Spears "I did not promise the Wiscon-

When Wisconsin opened negotiations with me I merely said that the situation at Oregon was indefinite at the present time and that I did not know what the future program of intercollegiate athletics would be. I asked for a few days to study the situation and that was granted."
