ed officers throughout January. February and March, the police department has run $717.09 behind the prorated amount of the salary item in the budget. The chief considers this a good move, in view of the fact that the winter season is the worst for crime. The small deficit can be made up in two ways, he said yesterday: Surplus of funds at the end of the year, which the chief usually has been able to show, or reduction, if necessary, of the force during the summer months. Budgeted this year for police salaries, on the basis of 18 officers, a chief and a matron, was $31,620; for expense, $5000. The expense account at the end of March showed a balance of $4045.87. Jail expense showed a balance of $605.05, out of an $800 appropriation.

Cady is Latest In Contest For Commissioner

Charles W. Cady, farmer, yesterday filed his declaration of candidacy for the county commissionership with a slogan of thoughtful service, qualified by civil engineering service and farming." In addition to Cady, seeking the office are H. E. King, Ed Jory, W. A. Heater and Porter, incumbent. In his declaration Cady says he will "strive to fulfill the du-ties of this office to the best of my ability and work for and in minimum in keeping with efficiency and work for the good of all without fear or favor."

RESCUE FROM DRIFTING FLOE

This spectacular photo shows some of the seven hundred Finnish fishermen who were marooned on an ice floe that broke away from the mainland some time ago, hauling their laden sleds on board the Russian ice breaker that succeeded in ploughing its way to their rescue. The castaways, among whom were women and children, were in grave danger of starvation and death from exposure. Note the huts in the background which housed the fisher folk during their stay on the floating island off the coast of Finland.

NOTHER April Fool's day passed without anybody here getting badly fooled, unless it might be the taxpayers. A survey of the capitol buildings yesterday failed to reveal many of the so-called officials and departmental heads at their offices. Of course they may have been working elsewhere-but they were not Politics no doubt is to blame for some of it. No members of the board of control braved possible jokes in Salem yesterday. Competition has spurred Rufus Holman to new heights in polical campaigning, while Hoss likewise was out. It is understood Governor Meier addressed a large church convention in Portland last night, so he too was busy.

Another unsavory April Fool joke on taxpayers appeared in the form of the last day to make returns and pay the income tax. Yesterday was that day. While many who have to pay income taxes are doing a lot of complaining, they can remember there are a lot of us who would be glad to make enough to pay income taxes.

Here's a good one for General George A. White, although in this case is didn't involve National Guard members. Three youths yesterday lined up 16get that number — soldiers against the wall and robbed them of $800. Likewise this didn't happen in Oregon, but they must have some standing army at Fort Lewis, the scene of the act.

James W. Mott, state corporation commissioner, seeking the con- as precinct committeeman from gressional toga, is now off the the 16th district. He is a republistate payroll until after May 20. can. Mott has a leave of absence in which to campaign. His office will be conducted by his deputies, and he announced he would spend at Shooting Range least one day a week in the office to keep control of the situation.

The secretary of state's office yesterday issued an ultimatum to all prospective candidates that their declarations must be in his office before 5 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon. Filings mailed before that time and not received at the office until Saturday will NOT be accepted, he

Mrs. C. P. Bishop and Frank N. Derby, both of Salem and both republicans, have filed for votes on the state ballots on May 20. Mrs. Bishop seeks to be a presidential elector, while Derby wants to go to the national republican convention in Chicago next June, representing the first district.

strong demand for farm lands with many buyers offering substantial amounts of each for down payments has been noticed here for months, T. A. Roberts of Hawkins and Roberts reported for a long entertainment because of Hawkins and Roberts reported yesterday.

"People are getting back to the farm," he stated. "They re- crowd. alize that here they can have steady work, cheap rent and a chance to produce the food needed for their families."

Roberts outlined the sales activity of his firm in recent months and said scarcely a week had elapsed in which several farm transfers had not been made. In many instances thousands of dollars in cash were involved in the deal.

Where farmers are keeping up taxes and interest, most lenders, whether large insurance companies, or private investors, are not disposing debtors because principal is not paid, Roberts said. Many of the buyers of farm land throughout the valley are newcomers from California and many are tenants who have been working the places.
