LOS ANGELES, April 5-(AP) -Los Angeles and Portland put on an old time sand lot slugging exhibition today to open the Coast league season. It so happened that Los Angeles won 18 to 14, but the way things went, it seemed largey accidental and unimportant. The Angels had five pitchers in the fray at various times.

Portland amassed a lead of 11 to 4 as early as the third inning, but the Angels came back in the fourth to score six runs. This was not the record, however. Portland had scored seven in the third. It was in this riotous frame that LeRoy Herrmann, recent Cub castoff, who opened for the Angels, was yanked and the parade of Los Angeles pitching talent over the Seattle Indians. Primed for the initial contest of the thirtieth annual pennant race, the players turned in faultless performances with the game developing into a pitching duel between Rudy Kallio of the Indians and Bill Henderson, local right hander. Henderson's fast ball was working in top form and he blanked the visitors for seven innings. The Seals scored both runs in the third, off three singles. Spectacular Winner of Agua Caliente Classic Victim of Colic

MENLO PARK, Cal., April 5 .-(AP) - With the suddenness of the lightning from which he took his name, the career of Phar Lap in Senegalese, "wink of the sky" - ended here today when the wonder horse of Australia died

The big red gelding, whose feat of traveling nearly 10,000 miles to win the $50,000 Agua Caliente handicap without a preliminary race captured the admiration of lovers of horseflesh throughout America, died about 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Pending the arrival of his owner, David J. Davis, en route by airplane from Los Angeles, no arrangements had been made to analyze the contents of the animal's stomach. It was said at the Perry stables that cause of death was plain. The illness developed under the watchful eye of Tommy Woodcock, faithful trainer who has scarcely been out of arm's reach of his charge since the arrival of the famous horse in San Francisco last January 15. It is believed to have come from a small amount of green feed which was a part of the horse's customary diet.

Henry Jones Beats Krueger But Fans Insist Matheny is Entitled to Claim One Fall

Both falls taken by Jones were unpopular, with the crowd because Krueger's shoulders weren't pressed to the mat for long and some believed not the full three seconds required. On the final fall Matheny lay on top of the two grapplers, to get close for the count and his weight might have helped in pinning the Seattle man, according to the belief of many fans, Krueger took a lot of punishment on his bare feet during the bout, but managed to take the first fall in 25 minutes with a

A team from the grade school will either compete in the tournament or will play the winners of the class games . Drawings for playing will be made soon and the first game will probably be played Wednes-May, April 13.

Friday the boys' baseball team will go to Harrisburg for their second Linn county B league game. on Friday night. At Portland last

The Coast league race is under way. As usual, loyal Oregonians are pulling for the enigmatic Ducks. One such loyal fan betrayed a lot of disappointment on hearing the result of Tuesday's opener at Los Angeles, and sug-gested that we hadn't ought to put it in the paper. To us, Portland's defeat didn't seem a bad sign. The Ducks used to have a habit of winning openers and then dropping a couple of dozen almost without interruption.

Anyway, those boys surely can hit.

A while back we related what the guiding spirits of the Salem Golf club were doing in the way of beautifying the already beautiful landscape out there, and broadcast their appeal for trees that people would be willing to donate to the cause. Yesterday we went out there and found Graham Sharkey in the general condition of the doughboy privates described in the first verse of that wartime chant, that starts "If you want to find the-"

But what Sharkey was doing was setting out, temporarily until a landscape gardener can show him where they ought to be put, some highly attractive evergreens, a gift to the club from Mrs. Henry Cornoyer. We understand there was some sen-timent attached to the gift, inasmuch as a portion of the golfcourse is situated on part of the old homestead of her family, the Clarks.

Anyway the trees include about four quite symmetrical junipers, some Irish yews, a couple of arbor vitae and a Lawson cypresssome really handsome trees which the club couldn't have obtained without a rather large expenditure, except for the friendly interest shown by Mrs. Cornoyer.

Johnny Kitzmiller is to be an assistant coach at Oregon, which means he's out of pro-football. He was getting such a nice start, too, Wouldn't be surprised if marriage had some-thing to do with it. The Flying Dutchman married a Dallas girl, and it may be that she didn't want to follow Johnny around the eastern grid circuit and patch him up between games. That's a tough racket anyway, and some other noted ex-collegians we can name have gotten out of it before they were carried out on a stretcher.

Kitten Ball to Start Today if Pluvius is Kind

If rain does not again frustrate their plans, the Kay Woolen Mills and postoffice teams in the new kitten ball league will play the first practice game on Sweetland field at six o'clock this evening. The Salem Linen mills and Wranglers are scheduled to meet tomorrow evening and the Western Paper Converters and state printers on Friday.

Three more teams have entered the league: Associated off, Bill Giggy's squad and Dr. Stockwell's Rabbits. A $5 entry fee is charged to pay the umpires.
