Bill Cook Coming—W. H. (Bill) Cook, whose gang had many clashes with police in the days before the war, and who traded the run for a new testament in May, 1914, will speak Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the First German Baptist church, North Cottage and D streets, announces the pastor, Rev. G. W. Rutsch. "Cook is a splendid speaker and well worth hearing," says Rutsch, who heard him several years ago in Portland. Cook served in the World war in the secret service department, and upon honorable discharge and return to this country was arrested for old crimes. These experiences, and his conversion will be theme of his sermon here.

ANNULMENT HELD NOT SQUARE DEAL

Issue Taken up in Serial Story "Embers of Love" in Statesman Soon

"If I were interested in a very young couple who had chosen to marry before reaching their legal majority—and I am interested in all who do that—far from trying to separate them, I would give them every blessing and encouragement!"

This unequivocal statement has come from the lips of Hazel Livingston, the charming and talented lady beneath whose chic Empson hat was hatched the thrilling plot of "Embers of Love." That is the title of her latest and pretty stenographer who interrupted her studies toward an operative career to marry the son of a steamship magnate, only to have the marriage annulled by her "in-laws" in the midst of the honeymoon because her husband was under the age of 21!

"I think a situation like that is deplorable," continued Miss Livingston. "By their own wishes and intentions; by the grace of Heaven, if marriages are still made there, as I am still old-fashioned enough to believe, and by every token except the whim of an over-indulgent parent and a technicality of the law, Lily Lou and Ken in my story were married. The ceremony was performed according to the conventions, and the knot had been consummated. They were on their honeymoon!"

"Lily Lou and Ken, if allowed to make their way unmoored, would have been supremely happy just as their every day prototypes in every village, town and city are when they are left alone. Lily Lou fought her way out of the dilemma, but her success is simply a tribute to her will power."

Default Granted—An order of default was granted in circuit court yesterday to the Mill City bank in its case against E. L. and Elizabeth McCauley. The principal sum is $2248 and interest and costs are to be added.

REALTY ACTIVITY PICKING UP HERE

Coming with the spring season is a lively tendency in real estate, according to members of the Sears and Tucker firm. During the past few weeks, they have completed 10 deals with considerations amounting to $50,100. Farm lands figured in $40,000 worth of the deals and city property, $9300.

The largest sale was of a 215 ranch to Ed R. Henderson for $14,000. Notable among the several deals was a transfer by which a Canadian obtained a 30 acre property. He paid a large exchange consideration, he said, because he sees marked advantages to residence in the Willamette valley.

Because of low prevailing prices and properties available, prospects for the real estate business are brightening up, according to J. D. Sears.

HOWARD DISCUSSES EDUCATION'S COSTS

"Oregon could very well get on with only 150 school districts instead of its present 2500," declared C. A. Howard, state superintendent of public instruction, in addressing members of the Lions club yesterday noon on the subject, "School Costs." The speaker also held for "elimination so far as practical of small school units, not especially the rural ones, smaller classes and school buildings."

"If we could bring together 50 people over the state who want budget cuts, they would not agree as to what to cut. . . . It is always

BYRNE'S STORE TO GET NEW LOCATION

Enlarged Business Planned in Former Quarters of Telephone Company

Byrne's, dealers in toiletries, remedies and tobaccos, who were burned out in the fire in the Breyman building recently will reopen in about three weeks in the former telephone building at 170 North Liberty street. The building is owned by A. A. Keene, but the telephone company's lease did not expire for two and a half years, so it executed a sub-lease with Fred G. Meyer, inc., operators of the Byrne's store. The Lerner company held a long-term lease effective at the beginning of 1932 but they were reported assenting to the deal, so that they might defer opening a store here. The sub-lease was negotiated by W. H.

Grabenhorst & Co. When Byrne's reopens at the new location they will carry a stock of groceries in addition to lines previously carried. The new building gives them a great deal more floor space than they had in the former location.

Remodeling of the building started yesterday and will proceed with two six-hour shifts daily. The job is to be finished in three weeks. Local labor is employed on the job and all steel, lumber, hardware and plumbing and wiring will be furnished by Salem concerns, according to J. A. Worthington, of Portland, representing the firm. The front will be changed. The cost of improvements will run from $3,000 to $15,000.

M. R. Milburn, who was local manager of Byrne's Inc., will be manager of the new store and local sales people will be employed. Those from the Portland office here to close the lease and plan the remodeling were Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Meyer, J. A. Worthington, B. S. Sturgis, E. C. Childs.

Alterations to the structure to accommodate the store will cost $2000 according to a building permit taken out yesterday.

NOMINATIONS MADE BY TEACHER GROUP

Nominees for the Salem Teachers' association were announced yesterday by Miss L. May Rauch, chairman of the nominating committee. The annual business meeting and election will be held at the senior high school April 19.

Names proposed for the several offices are:

Mary Eyre, incumbent, and Anne Bonente, president; Ada Ross and Cecelia Mielke, first vice-president; Ruth Draper and Mildred Christensen, second vice-president; Laura Eaton and Mable Allen, third vice-president; Gladys Tipton and Mary Leitch, financial secretary; Etta White and Ruth S. Goodrich, secretary; Ruth Smith and Madeline Hanna, treasurer; Violet Swanson and Grace Hendrickson, press correspondent.
