ed in the commission offices for the past 30 days for the purpose of studying departmental activities.

Representatives of sportsmen's organizations appeared before the commission and told of alleged game law violations in eastern Linn and Lane counties. Charges included killing deer out of season, gaffing and clubbing salmon in the Santiam river and taking trout under six inches long. All this without interference on the part of game wardens.

Dr. I. E. Vining, commissioner, said the commission is "virtually helpless" because it has no control over wardens. All the commission can do is to recommend the appointment of men they believe capable but the wardens are under the jurisdiction of the state police department.

Members of the commission, however, expressed the opinion that a solution of the difficulty might be reached within the near future.

Leather Boots of 50 Years Ago are Worn by A. J. Mott
AMITY, April 11 — A. J. Mott of this city has an old-fashioned pair of leather boots. He had the boots made for him by a man in Iowa about 50 years ago. This leather which the boots were made from was tanned in France and they were still in excellent condition. The original cost of the boots was $20.00. Mott wears the boots occasionally.

At the Commercial club meeting held recently at the Baptist church, a fine audience greeted Senator Milton Miller. This luncheon was held in the evening. Miller spoke on historical events and gave an interesting address, full of plenty of thought and was enjoyed by all present. Will Graham of Portland, formerly of Amity, talked. Other visitors present were Arthur McPhillips and Dr. Wisecarver of McMinnville.

KEIZER, April 11 — John Fritz and children, Dora, Roy and Irene Fritz, and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Fritz and children Wilbur, Lee, Kenneth and Dolores, from Oregon City, spent Saturday at the A. W. Thomas home. Mrs. John Fritz was a daughter of the Thomases who recently passed away.

minded, and later was transferred to the state hospital. Officials said he was troublesome at the feeble minded home, which resulted in his transfer to the insane institution. Larson was received at the feeble minded home from Columbia county.

Use Hackman's Key
Officials said that Swelder and Larson first severed a bar of their cell with a hacksaw, doubled back an adjoining bar, and escaped into the corridor. The men then attacked Roberts, the guard, and beat him severely. Swelder later removed Robert's keys from his pockets, unlocked the main door of the criminal insane ward, and the two men walked out to the hall.

Roberts was then locked in the criminal insane ward by the fugitives, who later ran down two flights of stairs and out of the front door of the main hospital building.

The escapes were discovered within a few minutes and the police were notified. A posse of hospital attendants joined in the search.

Republicans at Church Protest Party's Action

The congregation of 600 at the First Methodist church Sunday morning rose to challenge the right of the republican county convention to commit the party to a "wet" plank, was reported by the pastor, Dr. B. Earle Parker.

"Most of our congregation are republicans," Dr. Parker asserted. "The congregation reaffirmed its desire to maintain and enforce the 18th amendment and not to make any retreat on prohibition."

The action of the congregation followed the vote of the republican county convention of Saturday which by a poll of 25 to 13 endorsed the resubmission of the prohibition amendment.

TRAFFIC SAFETY IS TALKED BY LANSING

Greater Oregon Group Hears Commendation of Home Products Given

"We teach our children the rules of health such as the necessity of brushing their teeth, but forget to teach them not to roller skate across busy street intersections or keep them from playing in the street," said Lieutenant Walter Lansing, in speaking of traffic safety before the Monday night meeting of the Women's Greater Oregon association.

"Letting them loose in the street is just about as safe as to give them a box of dynamite," said the speaker. "Three per cent of all children killed are roller skating in the street, and 20 per cent are playing in the street."

Education is the fundamental necessity required in making traffic safe, according to the lieutenant, and that is the reason he has been making a concerted effort to get the school children indoctrinated with the rules of safety in traffic. Schools in Salem and between Salem and Aurora have been the special spots for work on this problem by Lieutenant Lansing.

Results have been accomplished through essays written by the children and talks by members of the traffic squad in school rooms.

A round table of interesting questions and answers followed the talk by the traffic officer.

The Greater Oregon association went on record as approving the choice of sycamore trees for the initial planting in the landscaping of the courthouse grounds. The trees were grown in Oregon by Oregon nurseries.

Plans were discussed at this meeting for promoting sightseeing buses for Salem by means of which visitors could easily become aware of the beauties of the city and vicinity.

Sectional maps of Salem to be placed in conspicuous and easily accessible spots were also discussed.

Letters of commendation were read commending upon the success of the recent Oregon products dinner and fair, and letters of thanks for cooperation were arranged to be sent from the association.

HINDENBURG WINS NOTABLE VICTORY

BERLIN, April 11 — (AP) — Having weathered one election by returning Paul Von Hindenburg to the presidential palace for seven more years, political Germany today started preparations for another one.

On April 24, the strength of Adolf Hitler's opposition national socialist will be tested again in the election of members of the diets—the state assemblies—of Prussia, Bavaria, Wurttemberg, Hamburg and Anhalt.

The election in Prussia is by far the most important. "Whoever has Prussia, has the Reich," is an old German political maxim. Its population is 33,000,000, against 24,000,000 in the other 17 German States, and its area is two-thirds of the nation.

President Von Hindenburg, who topped Hitler by almost 4,000,000 votes in yesterday's run-off presidential election, achieving an absolute majority, issued an "allocation" today thanking the nation for its support and calling for unity in facing the problems of the future.

Advocates federal assistance in hydro-electric development, the energy produced to go to the states.

Advocates debenture or equalization fee for wheat and cotton; denounces farm board as colossal failure.

Urges federal government to get out of business; limits tariffs to equalize cost of production.

Favors repeal of 18th amendment; modification of Volstead act to permit sale of 4 per cent beer.

Would establish federal board to pass on foreign securities before they could be offered here.

Favors national old-age pensions; federal compensation to states for public lands withdrawn; immediate payment of compensation by issuing $5 bonds due in 1945, bearing interest.
