THE THE PAGE FOUR

The OREGON STATESMAN, Salem, Oregon, Friday Morning, April 15, 1932

By EDSON

he Orecon Statesman "No Favor Sways Us; No Fear Shall Aws" From First Statesman, March 28, 1851

THE STATESMAN PUBLISHING CO.

5	CHARLES	A.	SPRAGUE,	SH	14.0	ON	Γ.	SA	CKETT,	Fublishers	ŀ
	CHARLES	A.	SPRAGUE						Edito	m-Manager	r,
ŝ	SHELDON	F	SACKETT	1		•	•		Manag	ring Editor

Member of the Associated Press clated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publica

Pacific Coast Advertising Representatives: Arthur W. Stypes, Inc., Portland, Security Bidg. Sen Francisco, Sharon Bidg. : Los Angeles, W. Pac. Bidg.

Eastern Advertising Representatives: Ford-Parsons-Stecher, Inc., New York, 271 Madison Ave.; Chicago, 360 N Michigan Ave

Entered at the Postoffice at Salem, Oregon, as Second-Class Matter: Published every morning except Monday. Business office, 215 S. Commercial Street.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

Mail Subscription Rates, in Advance. Within Oregon: Daily and nday, 1 Mo. 50 cents; 3 Mo. $1.25; 6 Mo. $2.25; 1 year $4.00. nowhere 50 cents per Mo., or $5.09 for 1 year in advance. By City Carrier: 45 cents a month: $5.00 a year in advance. Per opy 2 cents. On trains and News Stands 5 cents.

A Study in Anatomy and Physiology UNDER the direction of Commissioner Charles M. Thom-U as a study in public utility anatomy and physiology is going forward in Portland. Judge Thomas is undertaking a the wet and dry question, and the case study of the organization and operation of the North- wets will still be wet and the drys Western Electric company. His auditors have examined some will still be dry. 95 boxes of vouchers covering every item of expenditure of the company since its organization. They have examined the delegates were wisely absent when entries on the books and evidence has been introduced re- the roll was called, doubtless realspecting certain arbitrary entries which have been made.

This anatomical study shows first a write-up of capital represent in any sense the Repubby some ten millions of dollars. The chief engineer says this is just "watered stock", and eliminates it from consideration tion of the wet plank took on an amusing aspect when most of the as part of the invested capital of the company. dry speakers devoted their time

The revelation of the physiology part of the investigation is the contract with Electric Bond and Share company, the welfare of the Republican parthe grandpa holding company, by which that company re-ty, while most of the wet speakers ceives 1.5 of the gross earnings of the company for "supervisory services". This amounted to $54,916 in 1931 and to present laxness in the enforcement $67,000 in 1928.

Following these studies in the company's anatomy and physiology Commissioner Thomas will lay down rules of hy- before the convention, and that giene for the health of the company and the community.

In this manner of procedure Commissioner Thomas jus-traffic, and the issue, having tifies the belief of those like ourselves who have faith in been injected into the convention the virtue of utility regulation in lieu of public ownership. by the wets through the insistence He is trying to get at the facts. The company will have full upon the inclusion of a wet plank opportunity to defend its rates and accounting practices. Then the commissioner will issue his order. This order must be one which is reasonable and not arbitrary so that if at- ever the wets attempt to clothe tacked in the courts the commissioner may be able to de- this issue in the angelic vestments fend it.

So far as the write-up of ten millions in capital is concerned company's counsel contends that this has nothing to Republican party, it is unfortundo with the rate base which depends on the plant invest- ate. ment. That is true. The facts about this write-up were fully reported by The Statesman in the 1930 campaign. As we re-ul the common were not excessive after elime. I might be accused of strad-ding if I didn't say frankly that I was strongly in favor of the cies.' Will you kindly return the ager. call the company's earnings were not excessive, after elim-Eighteenth Amendment and the inating this ten millions of watered stock. But it is assured- enforcement of the Volstead Act ly a subject which calls for official inquiry such as is now just as it is, even though it takes 50 years to eradicate the liquor being made. traffic in America.

HERE'S HOW

GEORGE'S CROWN GLISTEN - WILLE THE CROWN IS GEING CLEANER. SOLDIERS GUA

Tomorrow: "Hot Coffee In a Cold Cup"

BITS for BREAKFAST By R. J. HENDRICKS

Prophecies of '88: * * *

ous magazine at Eola. This position seems to suit him remarkably, for he is looked up to and The Bits man some days ago requoted in that neighborhood more eived from Mrs. Gertrude Kruse, route 3, box 6, Oregon City, who than any other man. He is runwas formerly Miss Gertrude Savning for school superintendent on the prohibition ticket. For many in bachelorhood.

that he had been disappointed in to spend his few remaining days

ceived a letter from Ella. saying that she enjoyed the work very "Passing down the street, we

"We were surprised, too, to

SMALL METAL CYLINDERS FASTENED TO ARROW TIPS, EKPLOPE WILEN THEY HIT THE MARK! INVENTED BY CALIF. MAN FOR BIG-GAME ARCHERS!

age of Salem, member of the 1888 years he taught music. He sucgraduating class of the East Sathough there was just one issue lem school, the following letter: ceeded well in this position, and was in great demand among the * * * ladies, until it was discovered was whether or not we should go "I just received from Mrs. Thos. Holman (Salem), a elipping from the Feb. 27th issue, 'Bits for Breakfast.' I cannot express in words how I enjoyed the news. Those good old days! If only the the Republican platform, remainder of our class could have should have been fought out on a reunion! I am enclosing the orstrictly a wet and dry issue. Wheniginal class prophecies, written by myself and Ruth Harrington-Stafford. Seattle (not Portland.) Her of law enforcement, or the drys husband is principal of one of attempt to evade the issue by inthe Seattle schools-Prof. E. H. sisting that it isn't good for the Stafford. The fun, fun, fun we had in composing all our 'jingles.' We found that the store formerly had no assistance, and we surely owned by Rosenburg & Co. had

cies.' Will you kindly return the 'prophecies' to me, by insured mail, as money could not buy

of for an e

"EMBERS of LOVE" By HAZEL LIVINGSTON

to often as she must practic he leaves in anger.

CHAPTER FIVE

She walked on to work. Walked to the offices of Fox, Johansen and Durney, attorneys at law. She was the switchboard operator. It wasn't very interesting work, and it didn't pay very well. She had chosen it deliberately, because it deliberately, because it gave her time to study during the quiet

Today there was little to do. She learned the words of an Italian song. Read through the score of Manon. She wouldn't let Ken come into her mind. She could hardly wait to get home, to practice. Scales tonight. Exercises. Careful, hard, exacting work.

In the dining room, stretched out on the couch, May lay, listening. It was Raymond's night for lodge. Raymond's sister Irene came over. She had with her some silk that she wanted May to help her

From her place at the plane in the front room Lily Lou heard them talking. . . . May's bored "Of course

... Yes, I think you did tell me ... mmm . . . wasn't that nice." Irene's simpering chatter, "He said . . . swell fellow . . . I nearly died . . .

cises. "Silly thing!" she thought all the hours and hours of studyesentfully, "always imagining she's ing. . . . engaged.'

couldn't keep her mind on it, after

She reached for the Butterfly love so many times that he had become discouraged and decided thought of Butterfly waiting, for at a girl in green at the wheel. the lover who would never come back any more . . . and ioneliness Green, to match the car. seemed to coze out of the very learn that Lyon Adolph and wife throat hurt. walls, and settle on her, in a fog of had gone to the Fiji islands as pain. missionaries. Bun had just re-

She got up from the piano and "Un bel di vedremo. . . . " "Some day he'll come," she sang, her voice help May with the ironing. rich with emotion. "I'd much rather you went on

"Gee, Lily Lou can sure sing," with your practicing, honey," May would . . . despising herself for a said, touched because Lily Lou was fool . . . Irene said. She dashed a sentimental tear out of her eye. She offering to help with Raymond's "Why, Lily Lou! Awfuly glad to had weak, pale blue eyes, and was shirts. always wiping her glasses. "I can't practice all the time!"

"She does pretty well. She'd do "Why, Lily Lou, you're all face all alight w

When she got on the train, she slipped into the first vacant sent.

And now he had decided she it at random, started reading, not wasn't worth getting up half an hour early for. Well, that was all right. She didn't have time to worry she was sure she heard Ken's voice. awful crush on me. . . . We're not about Ken Sargent. Some day, per-really engaged, but he said . . ." haps, but now now. . . . Not with lars getting red, but she wouldn't all the studying she had to do . . . turn.

He walked right past her. He was with a man, a big, pompous, heavy-Once, singing over a gay little set man, with thick eyebrows, and Up and down the scale . . . her French song, with the window open a darkly weatherbeaten, reddish voice clear, limpid. . . . But she to the sweet April evening, she face . . . something familiar about looked up just in time to see the Sargent's Cadillac go by. him. . . . Oh! It was because there was a sort of resemblance to Ken. Ken wasn't driving. He was sit-... Ken's father-no doubt about it. score . . . the "waiting theme." She ting low in the seat, laughing back Kentfield Carey Sargent, who owned the steamship line. . . . She A green sport outfit the girl had. caught his eye. He looked at her, with slow, impersonal interest. She Lily Lou's voice tightened. Her turned away.

> There were no seats left in the front of the boat, so Lily Lou stood went into the kitchen to offer to near the rail, glad of the wind that cooled her hot cheeks, hoping Ken wouldn't see her . . . hoping he see you!' Ken's voice. ... There he was, his Fees for supervisory services are always subject to criticism. In some cases the services rendered may deserve compensation. In other cases it is merely a scheme to siphon into holding company treasuries money which is labeled "operating expenses" of the subsidiary companies.

The state should follow the progress of this case with interest. Commissioner Thomas has an opportunity in it to enough to overcome its adverse demonstrate the virtue of state regulation. He should be fair to the company and to those who have honestly invested money in the property. He should not seek to render a political decision. He must also keep faith with the public and make his rate order in accordance with the facts which a thorough investigation discloses. He is on trial as well as the company; and so is state regulation.

X Marks the Spot

THOSE who were foolhardy enough to venture into the riffles of political candidacy now find themselves caught in the full current and are gasping for breath to find out whether they are being swept over the falls or whether they are being carried on a flood tide to victory at the polls. For they are now getting letters from various groups seeking definite and unequivocal answers to specific questions. For instance: "Are you wet or dry; and if so how dry or wet are you?" Candidates for dog-catcher are being given the third prefer spring to the other seadegree on their stand for resubmission.

The militant hopgrowers first took the field and by repeated solemn declaration they have warned the candidates what to expect if their breath is sirroco. The church groups all the buds and blossoms come." and W. C. T. U. long familiar with the questionnaire test are challenging candidates to make their stand known on the great question of prohibition.

"X marks the spot"; and it is a hot spot for many who spring clothes." want to run with foxes and hunt with hounds. Others however resent being catechised on an issue which they feel does not arise over the offices which they aspire to. For example the office of county recorder isn't one where the matter of one's stand on the prohibition question would affect the administration of the duties of the office. This class of candidates naturally doesn't like to be nailed to the cross on what is to them an extraneous issue.

Oregon is to have a referendum this fall on the question of state prohibition. The real test will come in this vote. Both sides do well to reserve their heavy ammunition for the fall election. The candidates in the primaries may boldly declare their allegiance; or they may, as many probably will ignore the questions from both sides and make the best of the situation. Right now the candidates are undergoing the blindfold test, they would like to take a peek to see just what is the wise thing for them to do, politically speaking.

Disbanding the Shock Troops

MASCIST HITLER is getting a taste of his own medicine. He has extolled force and bemeaned the German government for lack of positive action. Now the government bolstered by the overwhelming vote in reelection of President von Hindenburg, has moved swiftly and decisively. It has ordered Hitler's "shock troops" to disband. It is breaking up their headquarters and supply depots and threatens summary action against those who interfere with the functioning of the legally constituted government.

If the German people stand fast in this trying hour it means the triumph of government and the defeat of Adolph Hitler and fascism in Germany. Just as ten years and more ago Germany resisted the blandishments of communism, so now it refuses to go the road of fascism. Either one is a dictatorship, a rule by a powerful few. Germany prefers to take the middle ground of orderly, responsible, constitutional government rather than the dictatorship of the "Man on horseback" or of the proletariat headed by some Stalin or Lenin. Germany's crisis is not hers alone. It is that of constito print the 'prophecies,' as you are interested in the class. Personally, I think it would be "Bun Parrish, a sister of Nina a good thing for the Republican Parrish, was one of our class. I party and everybody concerned if believe she lives in Seattle, Floda the so-called convention was en-Catterlin was one of our class; tirely forgotten and no candidate also Milford Darr and Wilford reminded of it during the primary election. It will be difficult ton lives in Vancouver, Wash. John Reynolds, attorney, Porteffects on the Republican candiland, and Dr. Wilson McNary dates in the general election. Percy A. Cupper. of the class may see the 'prophe-

5 5 5

Candidates for office who were unfortunate enough to be izing the convention would not

The discussion over the adop-to an expression of solicitude for

It looked to a bystander as of the Prohibition law.

questions . were asked yesterday had no love for him." by Statesman reporters.

Mrs. E. Harper, housewife: "The time for hay fever and housecleaning, but in spite of it all, I like spring the best, espe-cially in the Willamette valley." read:

Mrs. G. Farley, stenographer; "Spring in Salem can almost be compared with spring in Hawaii Oregon, just 20 years from our -it's so beautiful-that's why I

Joseph E. Barber, real estate salesman: "Yes, I love it. Because the morning I went down town, Edith May, student: "It's a an acute con-tagious and in-fectious disease. While no age is exempt from the infec-tion, about 90 per cent of the cases occur in children from one to fifteen thews, Dealer in Buns.' I went in great time of the year, especially and had quite a talk with Bun. I if one can come out in all new learned from her that Percy Wililis is at present editing a prosper-

CARLET FEVER is prevalent | which may continue for from for Scarlet fever, or scarlatina, is an a cute con-

Involved. A very frequent compli-cation is an attack of acute Bright's disease. To avoid these untoward results the diet of the patient should be bland, consisting largely of milk, with the exclusion of meat and meat with the exclusion of meat and meat soups. The disease is communicated from the sick to the well through the se-cretions of the mouth, ness and dis-charging ears, as well as by direct contact with the patient. It is barefy possible that sonles from the peeling skin are dangerous and health de-partments quarantime the patient until desquamation is completed and all discharges have been arrested. Prevention of the spread of scaries fever depends largely upon the care-ful inspection of school children, ez-cluding all those whe show suspicious symptoms. Various tests and pro-tective incculations have been used, but their action is not always de-void of unpleasant reactions. The "Dick test" has been used to deteryears of age. The disease Dr. Copeland quickly develops after exposure to the fever. The incubation period may be as short as one day, or it may take about a week. In children fever, nausea, vomit-In children fever, nauses, vomit-ing headache and general uncasiness, with severe sore throat, are the first symptoms noted. Occasionally a convulsion may usher in the attack. The eruption appears from twelve to thirty-six hours after the initial symptoms. It is usually first seen in the neck and upper part of the chest, in the form of a uniform red flush. When viswed closely it dis-closes minute spots of a darker hus. This eruption gradually fades, be-ginning on the third or fourth day, and by the end of the walk has a spine on the stard of the set of an epide void or unpleasant reactions. The "Dick test" has been used to deter-mine the susceptibility of children to the disease. In asylums and institu-tions, where there is danger of an epidemic, these precautions have met with considerable success.

"Going into a grocery store at much.

the corner of Commercial and Court, we are waited on by a lady them. I thought you would like whom we used to call Mollie Creighton. She is in partnership with Squire Farrar and son.

"When I get near home, I hear several children quarreling. On inquiry, I find that one is the son of Hon. Charlie Hellenbrand, Jr., Sappingfield. Edith Adair-Moul- and the other the daughter of her whom we used to know as Gertrude Savage. Like their parents. they can never agree, and are alwere other members. Hope many ways pulling each other's hair. "My mail is brought me by Miss Jessie Creighton, who is soon to be assistant mail carrier north of "At the time of writing these 'prophecies,' Percy Willis was Court street. In the afternoon as quite sweet on Ida Purvine, whom we were passing up Court street. we were passing up Court street, he afterward married, and she on our way to visit the asylum. got all the easy questions; so we our horses were frightened, and we were startled by a very loud and peculiar noise. The neighbors told us that it was just Ruth Har-Under the original heading. rington trying to play on the cor-Prophecies of the East Salem net, 'No one to love, none to car-Graduating Class of '88, Twenty ess. Roaming alone through this Years Hence," the 'prophecies' vast wilderness." "Since Ada was 18, she and

Pitzer have been very happy, be-"My wife and I and seven chilcause Fred has decided that he dren started from Roseburg June likes Minnie best after all. 21st, 1908, for a trip through "Oregon is now a woman's rights state and Miss Lena Crump graduation from East Salem and Miss Laura Starr are editors school. We stopped at Salem over of The Statesman. Every day the night, and stayed at a boarding readers are treated to an adverhouse north of Court street. In tisement of a lost purs-e (Percy.) Looking through the personals, I and passing a bakery, I looked up and saw the sign, 'Frank Mat- see that Fred Williams is making stoves for the state, and that Nellie Southwick is teacher in the conservatory of music, also that Johnnie Reynolds is keeping a candy store, and Frank Sellwood is leading the choir in the largest church of New York City.

"After vainly trying to civilize the Savages living near Salem, Henry Patty went to sea, and has never been heard from since. Under 'Telegraphic News' I see that Prof. Randle was elected president of the U.S. on the prohibition ficket by a two-thirds majority. Lewis Savage, after trying all three parties, has at last settled on the prohibition party as the place for him, and declares that he never will be a Mug Wump.

the recommendation of the deputy warden of the state has been "Taking the north bound train, the first place we stop is at Brad- appointed by Governor Chamber-bury, where we visit a flourishing lain as a delegate to attend the school taught by Miss Annie Al- ninth annual meeting of the Leaderson. She invited us and our gue of American sportsmen at Norfolk, Virginia. seven children to take dinner with her. On arriving at the house we were introduced to Mrs. John The burning of the Johnson Evans, whom we are surprised to residence in the northeastern part find is our old friend Floda. On of Salem last Sunday night illusinquiry, we find that her hus-band, after failing in business, protection for the city. During the fan off with all the property, fire the city's only hose wagon band, after failing in property, fire the city's only nose use a which consisted of two nickels and its best engine were in use a full mile from the business cen-

Ossian Shirley was one of her boarders and cashier of the bank, April 14, 1923 Six "miners", representing Al until his trip to Canada, and no one knows where he boards now. ber's Milling Co. trademark, "Sunday morning we attended staked out their claims and pitchthe Presbyterian church, and were again forcibly reminded of that advance step Oregon has taken on the question of woman's rights, when Misa Blanche Albert better if she had more time study," May said seriously. bed and rest, instead. Take a book

But she stirred uneasily, sighed a with you if you aren't sleepy, and conscious of the older man, Ken's little as she tried to concentrate on when I'm through I'll bring you a father, watching, and a younger the pattern for Irene's stepin. Lily cup of chocolate and we'll have it man who was with him, too. An-Lou's scales were all right, but she together, shall we ?" didn't like the Butterfly number. Lily Lou shook her head. She It had a little too much feeling in was touched, too. There was little hers. . . it. Time for all that later . . . much show of affection between them, later. . . . What mattered now was though they loved each other dear-study, technique. . . . "Papa said she went out with a iron. You ge to bed. I'm too restfellow last night. He SAID it was less." Kentfield Sargent." Irene's pale eyes were glittering behind the May predicted. But she relin-glasses. Lily Lou's voice sang on. She dead," she admitted.

had got beyond the "waiting theme" May was right. Lily Lou was now, and the score was strange to tired in the morning. Tired and laughing and talking out loud, igher. She ought to stop before she listless. When the clock went off noring the people who might be hits a false note and May shouted she stopped it. Decided to sleep listening, acting as if she were all "You're off key!"... just one minute more. And missed alone ... she and her friends.... But she couldn't stop. Because the train.

if she did she'd weaken and call "He'll think I did it on account Ken, on the telephone. of him," she thought, self-con-Ken Sargent didn't take the train sciously, on the way to the station.

her, 'fear not.' We looked over to Elijah Starr, and he looked quite happy over the text. On the way back to Roseburg we stopped at Portland. On the way to the ho-

(Continued on page 7)

Yesterdays

Town Talks from The Statesman of Bariler Days

April 14, 1907

As the result of installing new pump the C. K. Spaulding sawmill and lumber yard in this city will be in a few days equipped with its own water system, but with the city service retained

Game Warden J. W. Baker on

for fire protection.

.. Of Old Salem

any more. Lily Lou suspected that When she got on the train she he took the later one. He had told slipped into the first vacant seat. her that the later one was his regu- She wouldn't look around for him. It was as if she were dismissing ar train. He had just taken the 8:02 Opened her magazine. It was an him, instead of he leaving her. occasionally before, and then regu- old one, and she had read every story in it. No matter. She opened larly, after he met her.

wrought up. I tell you, you go to managed to say something, to talk back to him brightly. But she was other well dressed man of affairs . . . Ken's kind . . . different from

"That's dad over there," Ken said. There was a look of pride about

"I know," Lily Lou said, "I saw him once, long ago, on the lake, And your mother. Though I don't believe I'd remember her." All she really remembered was Mrs. Sargent's clothes, very pretty ones, and big hats, and a way she had of Ken hesitated. He wasn't getting anywhere with Lily Lou, and, besides, his father and Mr. Johns would rag him. . . . "See you soon," he said. Lily Lou smiled, and turned away.

(To Be Continued) Copyright by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Specialized aid to business-industry

In this day of specialization it is most satisfying to business men, farmers and industrial plant operators to know that the specialty of the United States National is Commercial Banking.

And it is even more satisfying to know that the strength in resources back of the United States National promotes the stability of our customers' businesses or enterprises.

Our experienced officers will be glad to talk this matter over with you at any time.

