MEMORY GONE

A sad echo of the World War took place at Philadelphia recently when Tobias J. Burke (above) visited the mother he had not seen for ten years as she lay on her deathbed. Burke, who knows himself only as Joe Burn, a garage owner of Berwyn, Ill., left his home 10 years ago, lost his memory as a result of shell-shock sustained in the war, and has no recollection of his home, mother or former friends.

Mrs. George Higgins and father J. D. Parker of Salem, were called to Oregon City, by the serious illness of their grandson and nephew. Mrs. A. W. Eldridge of Raton, New Mexico, who has been visiting her father, Mr. S. C. Davenport, also relatives and friends in Portland for the past three months, left by automobile for her home; accompanied by her sister, Mrs. A. Selmar of Portland, who is traveling with her as far as Los Angeles.
