

Bearcats Beat Staters 6 to 2, Peterson Allows 3 Hits

MOORE TRIPLES TO CLINCH WIN

All Willamette Runs Made After Two Out; Series To Wind Up Today

By RALPH CURTIS
Three-hit pitching by Andy Peterson and a "never say die" spirit which scored all of the Bearcats' runs after two men were out in three separate innings, gave Willamette its "annual" baseball victory over Oregon State college, 6 to 2, Tuesday afternoon on Olinger field. The third game of the series, now tied, will be played at Corvallis today.

Peterson was slightly off form in the first few innings and in the second yielded a single to Baechtel, which with a squeeze play netted the Staters their two runs. From there on Andy allowed only one bingle, collected by Jensen in the sixth. He struck out 12 men, including three in the third inning. It was a "never say die" game in that technically speaking, only one of Willamette's runs was earned; that in the third when Woodyard walked, Gibson singled and Wait Erickson hit a two bagger. Errors when perfect play would have retired the side, let in three runs in the sixth and two in the seventh, though those two bobbles were the only ones charged to Oregon State.

Gus Moore Drives In Winning Tally
Gus Moore, Bearcat left fielder, was the star of the day when in the sixth he smacked a mighty triple to center field, scoring Gribble and Peterson for the runs that put Willamette ahead. Many fans thought Moore could have stretched it to a homer, but the third base coach flagged him down. As it was, he scored on a single by George Erickson who pinch hit and then went into center field, Wait Erickson moving to first base.

In the seventh, McCann was safe on a dropped third strike and after two were out, Woodyard and Gribble singled in quick succession. McCann came home on Gribble's hit and Erickson who was on first base sprinted home on the same swing while the Staters were lobbing the ball in, confident he would stay on third.

Staters' Blows
For Walt's Blows
The Stater outfielders backed up close to the fence when Wait came to bat, and thus robbed him of one and perhaps two more safeties. Wait retaliated by robbing a couple of bases out of hand on a sprinting and abetted snagging before moving to the infield.

"Honolulu" Hughes, Oregon State hurler, pitched nice ball for the most part but was benched in favor of Woodard in the seventh. Woodard, who pitched the first two games, was out of luck and Gribble singled in quick succession. McCann came home on Gribble's hit and Erickson who was on first base sprinted home on the same swing while the Staters were lobbing the ball in, confident he would stay on third.

YEW PARK TOSSERS WIN OPENING GAME

By driving out extra base hits and playing unusually good baseball in their opening game, the Yew Park nine of the Mid-Willamette valley league took a 10-inning struggle from Hopewell Sunday afternoon by a score of 5 to 3. The game was played at Amity due to the flooded condition of the playing field at Hopewell and in spite of this handicap a fairly large crowd of fans witnessed the game.

A hard hitting rally in the first half of the 10th inning with the score at 3-all, enabled Yew Park to score two runs to give themselves a 5 to 3 lead. Merle Johnson, Yew Park hurler, held a group of Hopewell pinch hitters down in the last half of the 10th to give his team the game.

JUNIORS WILL REPORT TODAY

Legion Tossers to Engage In Second Workout on Olinger Diamond

The Salem American Legion junior baseball squad will report this afternoon at 4 o'clock on Olinger field for its second practice session of the year. The turnout is expected to be bigger than on the first occasion as many boys figured it would be too wet to practice Sunday and failed to report.

Thursday night a second meeting of managers of the four teams in the county will be held to iron out zoning problems and to arrange the schedule, which will probably be a round robin, each team meeting all the others twice. The zoning plan for allotting players to the four posts will probably be modified somewhat, as Salem has given notice it will not abide by the tentative arrangement inasmuch as under a later ruling it would deprive the local post of some of the local high school and junior high students.

Pleasant Wins Boys' Tennis Tournay Final

DALLAS, April 26.—J. C. Pleasant won the city tennis championship in the boys' division Sunday when he defeated Lloyd Hunter 6-0, 6-1. This match was the only championship match left after the play last Sunday when the finals in the other divisions were played. Consolation matches will be played whenever the weather permits with the last six in the men's division forming a team to represent Dallas in inter-city matches.

Carl Gerlinger, Jr., will be number one man on the city team as he won the city championship and the remaining five will be decided through elimination.

CURT COMMENTS

Canby had its "tully day" Sunday and hundreds of people rallied around to "tuptoe through the tulips." Don't know whether we have permission of the copyright owners or not.

Ernie Johnson's son Donald really is a cracking good ball player and likely to grow up and help the Staters out of the cellar some day—but he looked like most anything but, here, with the Oregon State team yesterday.

In the first place the son of the Indians' manager struck out three times; and then when he drew a base on balls, Andy got him again, catching him off first base with a neat throw.

And in the field he was made to look especially bad when he dropped a throw and let Gribble get to the bag, especially since Gribble, figuring he would be out, overran the base and young Donald could have tagged him after picking the ball up, but instead he stood there and looked at it while Gribble dived back to safety.

The ball game had its thrills and also its numerous boners. Hoot Gibson made one too when he failed to stop on second base in his anxiety to complete a double play; but the fans quickly forgave Hoot when he figured strongly in the next Bearcat rally.

Andy pitched phenomenal ball again, but didn't try to do all the work himself this time. Maybe those hard blows in the early frames served notice on the bunch they had to keep heads up and help Andy out.

Joe Mack is just as much the mainspring of the Staters' defense out there at shortstop as he was behind the plate.

"HUNCH HORSE" FOR KENTUCKY

For superstitious followers of the turf who make a close study of signs and portents, the horse above might be a worthwhile prospect. It is "Scotch Gold," which has been nominated for the 1932 Kentucky Derby, to be run at Louisville, Ky., May 7. "Scotch Gold" is quoted in the Winter books at 100-1.

Finnegan Punishes Jones But Loses Deciding Fall; Match Climax is Surprise

Pat Finnegan clinched a place for himself in the hearts of Salem wrestling fans Tuesday night, even if he didn't take the odd fall and win from Henry Jones. Jones won, but took by far the worst beating of the two.

With the first two falls divided, the two went at it like wild men, though they did remember not to slug, as the match was billed to be clean but in the final minutes Finnegan had Jones on the run with flying tackles and sonnerbunns. Jones was in such bad condition that he crawled outside the ropes on one occasion.

It appeared as though all Pat had left to do was to fall on Jones and pin him, but Pat had the use of only one arm and evidently figured to wear Jones down more. Suddenly Jones grabbed Finnegan and sent him over for a whip wristlock so fast that Finnegan was dazed and before the smother cleared Referee Vern Harrington counted him out.

Jones took the first fall in 21 minutes 50 seconds with a Boston crowd hold in which he had Finnegan bent in a reverse arc. "Jones' pride suffered in all the second period when he obtained the same hold and had it broken. Just as he was off balance tightening up the hold, Finnegan pushed from his hands and straightened his legs out with a mighty lunge which set Jones over backward on his head, bringing the fall to Finnegan in 9:45.

The final fall was won by Jones in 7:40. Prof Newton of Oregon City took two out of three falls from Art O'Reilly of Eugene in a will-bee County club's ladder tournament that is possible to stick into one bout. O'Reilly, who delights in making the job hard for the referee and putting him "on the spot," as Harrington expressed it, was handled roughly several times by Harrington when instructions were disregarded.

Once Harrington took O'Reilly by the hair and hoisted him back into the ring and on another occasion sent him sprawling clear across the ring with a whip wristlock when O'Reilly refused to break on the ropes. The bout was not scheduled as a clean match and O'Reilly took the first fall with an "earlock" hold in 18 minutes. The second went to Newton with a series of whip wristlocks which dated Art. Time, 5:50.

Newton finally got his hammer throw hold into action against O'Reilly and took the last fall with it in 10 minutes 20 seconds. An unusually large crowd witnessed the bouts.

SEVEN HERE ENTER OLYMPIC TRYOUTS

Seven Salem amateur wrestlers will weigh in at Multnomah Athletic club, Portland, this afternoon for the northwest Olympic tryouts. They are: Don Hendrie, C. Greig, D. Bural, Shannon Hogan, A. Anderson, F. Amundson and Max Jigby. Wrestling on the Salem Y. M. C. A. team, these men brought home the northwest championship.

Because the local men participated in the Y tournament, Portland groups attempted to bar them from the Olympic tryouts. It was claimed that the Y meet constituted a tryout. After several trips to Portland, R. R. Boardman and others finally convinced officials that the local men have a right to compete in today's and tomorrow's tryouts.

Eighty matmen will participate in this tournament.

"HE MAY BE a great pitcher to some guys, but he's just meat on the table for me."

It can be said that spinach made a star of Melillo. This young man has rarely been mentioned among the great Kopsman sacker of the game, but for the past few years he has been stepping along at a great clip. Last season this peppery young player handled close to a 1,000 chances at second base and figured in 118 double plays to lead the way in the American League.
