

PROBLEMS OF HOP INDUSTRY TALKED

New Organization Meets in Salem; Progress Made In Member Drive

Oregon Hopgrowers, newly organized association of growers of hops in the state, held an enthusiastic meeting here yesterday afternoon with Dean Walker, president, in charge. Forty-five men, most of them officers in some of the 11 district organizations which have been formed in the last two months, attended the gathering which was held at the Marlon hotel.

The association is not formed primarily to agitate legislative reform; this is only one objective of the group, said Mr. Walker in addressing to members and to their guests the purpose of which the hopgrowers have affiliated themselves.

Better methods of production, elimination of control of diseases and pests which menace the hop crop, improvement of standards and brands for marketing purposes — these are major reasons for the organization of the hop men, Walker emphasized in a desire to correct what he termed a false public impression of the motives of the organization.

Depression in Sale
In Other Farm Lines
"The hop industry has not gone to the dogs," Dean W. A. Schoenfeld of the department of agriculture at Oregon State college, told the growers. "Rather it is having conditions which prevail in other branches of agriculture. This means high marketing costs must come down, production losses must be eliminated and our markets improved."

The dean said the local growers need not expect help from foreign research workers who were improving the quality of hops; the job is a local one to be carried on through local research bureaus. The dean said his department was now busy investigating methods of hop disease prevention and treatment but indicated that the work was new, having only been asked two years ago by the hop growers.

Max Gehlhar, state director of agriculture, discussed grades and standards as adopted in other lines of agriculture and predicted it was only a matter of a short time until all agricultural products selling in an inter-state or foreign market would have to be state inspected. The daily output of state certified products in Oregon averaged 200 cars, said Gehlhar. "The price cutter in every business is invariably the quality cutter," Gehlhar said. "The way to meet him is to establish and enforce standards which are unenforceably accepted and on which the buyer can rely. Such standards greatly facilitate the sale of our products."

Offers to Assist in Establishing Grades
Gehlhar said his knowledge of the hop grower's problems was limited but offered to cooperate in full with the organization's committee on standards with the view of working out internationally recognized brands of hops.

Professor G. H. Horner of the state college outlined methods of treating downy mildew which are being experimented with in his department. Bordeaux mixture used with a spreader of skim milk has been most effective, a dry powder not being very effective, he said. He recommended to growers that they read college bulletin 440 which deals extensively with the treatment of downy mildew. He said he thought the experiments at the college would soon develop a fairly satisfactory method of treating the disease which last year is thought to have affected 20 per cent of the hop acreage in the valley. More sunlight, more ventilation and less moisture for hop fields will reduce the mildew, he overred. Fields should be kept extremely clean, as the disease is very contagious.

Mildew-Resistant Stock Is Sought
Dr. E. M. Bressman told the growers of success his department was meeting in producing hop plants from seed which would eventually be crossed in a manner to make possible a stock not subject to mildew. Ordinary methods require five years to bring hop seed to flower but the use of greenhouses have cut this time down to a few months, Bressman said. He read letters from foreign research workers telling of the success they have had in developing hops resistant to downy mildew. Foreign governments will not permit the release of these varieties, Bressman said.

Harry A. Cornoyer, secretary of the association, announced that 195 out of more than 500 hop growers in the valley had become members of the organization. Walker said he was encouraged by this report. He urged the district organizations to busy themselves in enlisting more members.

Committees of Group are Named
Standing committees named by President Walker were:
Legislation: W. A. Livensley, Salem, chairman; Louis Lachmund, Salem; J. R. Linn, Salem; R. M. Walker, Independence; P. J. Kober, Mt. Angel; Ross Wood, Dayton; Lloyd Plaster, Dallas. Local presidents are to appoint one member from each district.
Research: Frank Needham, Salem, chairman; Louis Lachmund, Salem; Frank Kennedy, Independence; A. W. Crocker, Albany; Curtis Coleman, St. Paul; Oscar Love, Forest Grove; Ed Smith, St. Paul; John Seavey, Eugene; John Morley, Silverton.
Grades and standards: Clifford Noakes, Salem, chairman; D. P. McCarthy, Independence; A. M. Jerman, Salem; Phil Isaacson, Portland.

Organization and membership: H. A. Cornoyer, Salem, chairman; W. J. Bishop, The membership of all district organizations are ex-officio members of this central committee.

White Currant Draws Interest at Silverton

SILVERTON, April 27 — Attracting considerable attention from flower lovers at Silverton is the flowering white currant at the home of Mr. and Mrs. June Drake on South Water street. The currant is identical to the common wild red currant but its flowers are snow white.

The currant was found in the Silver Falls Timber company logging regions a few years ago and brought to Silverton, Mr. Drake, who is quite a flower fancier, has four or five of the bushes of white currants growing at his home.

RECEPTION HONORS C. WOOD AND BRIDE

LYONS, April 27 — A reception and miscellaneous pound shower was given for the Methodist minister and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Wood, at the Lyons Community hall, Monday night. About 75 relatives, friends and acquaintances of the newly wedded couple gathered for the occasion. Games and a program were enjoyed. The Mill City representatives sang "Belle Sammie," Fox Valley sang "Love Lifted Me." Lyons responded with "There is Sunshine in My Soul." Mehana was represented by Mrs. Landers who was organist for the evening.

Two Permits to Wed Are Issued Here Wednesday

Two marriage licenses were issued, yesterday at the county clerk's office here. Emil Minch, 39, 827 North Liberty street, received a license to wed Blanche Elizabeth Wilder, 26, 703 West Tenth street, The Dalles. He is a machinist and she is a dressmaker. Walter Dozier, 23, Aumsville, received a license to marry Marian Schlieder, 22, Shaw. He is a farmer; she is a housekeeper. Marcellus Moles is to marry

Mrs. Wood expressed their appreciation for the good will and kind remembrances of their many friends which had a part in making the party a success. Mr. and Mrs. Wood will reside in Mill City until school closes at least, which will be the last of May. Mr. Wood is attending the university in Salem. Mr. and Mrs. Scharf and baby and Mrs. Scharf's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Crabtree all of Kington, and a Seattle woman who was a girlhood friend of Mrs. Crabtree in Kentucky, were Lyons visitors Sunday.

RESEARCH REVEALS ALL-BRAN RICH IN HEALTH-ELEMENTS

Helps Correct Constipation with "Bulk" and Vitamin B; Also Has Iron
Recent scientific research shows that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains two things needed to overcome temporary and recurring constipation. It has "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract.

These two important food-elements promote regular habits, and help do away with the headaches, loss of appetite and energy, so often the result of constipation. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is mild in action—much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable. Isn't this pleasant "cereal way" far more healthful than using pills and drugs—so often habit-forming? Just eat two table-spoons of Kellogg's daily—enough for most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor. Besides, ALL-BRAN brings four body twins as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver. Equally tasty as a cereal with milk or cream, or used in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green packages. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
