KENNEDY FAILS TO MAKE GOOD CLAIM

Dr. W. L. Mercer and J. F. Ulrich, defendants in a suit for $5000 brought by Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Kennedy, both were acquitted of all legal liability when a circuit court jury here yesterday returned a directed verdict in their behalf.

Judge Howard F. Zimmerman, presiding, said there was no evidence shown in the case to establish the value of the score of 5 to 1. A wet diamond slowed up the game considerably.

property traded by the defendants to the plaintiffs when the exchange was made. Mercer, through Ulrich, exchanged shares of American Fidelity Investment company stock for town property owned by the Kennedys.

The court then began its consideration of the case of Mrs. J. F. Mollenkop against the city of Salem. She asks a $5000 award for damages, allegedly received in a fall at the municipal airport March 30, 1930. She is said to have tripped over a wire which had been erected there during the showing of some visiting airplanes.

In a former suit, Mrs. Mollenkop was non-suited but her counsel appealed the decision of the lower court to the state supreme court and won a reversal. William H. Trindle, city attorney, represents the municipality in the pending action which is being tried before Judge Zimmerman.

AT TYPING CONTEST HUBBARD, April 28—Mrs. Cornell, the commercial teacher, took Mildred Ott and Betty Brown to Corvallis Saturday to compete in the state typing contest and while the girls did not win they spent a very enjoyable day about the campus.

DOERFFER HOME BURNS MARION, April 28—The house belonging to Joe Doerfler living one half mile south of Marion on the Marion-Jefferson road was completely destroyed by fire Tuesday shortly after midnight. It was thought to have been caused from the electric wiring. It was partially covered by insurance.
