Five Join Club — The W. C. Kautner chapter of Comrades of the Way received five new members into the group at the meeting Wednesday night at the Congregational church, at which Constance Kautner and Vurty Grant were in charge. Those receiving the admission step were Lena Cox, Ruth Powell, Clarence McKenzie, Kenneth Martin and Dee Himes. The next meeting will be held Friday, May 13, instead of the regular date, because of the Congregational state conference in Portland. At that time new members will receive the ritual of the banner.

Complete Line of Thrifty, Hardy, Bedding Plants — Salem's Potland.

Teachers' Bulletin — Articles by local and outside educators appear in the April issue of the Salem Teachers' association bulletin which came off the press yesterday. Violet T. Swanson, teacher of penmanship, spelling and social science at Leale junior high school is editor. Among the articles are some written by Professor James T. Matthews of Willamette university, Othniel R. Chamber of Oregon State college and Superintendent George W. Hug.

Red Cross Will Again Offer its Aquatic School

Through the generosity and public spirit of Mr. A. N. Bush of Ladd and Bush bank, Salem chapter of the American Red Cross has been enabled to resume for this year its annual swimming and life saving campaign. Last year 807 residents of Salem and vicinity registered for this course, of whom 458 were school children. Sixty qualified as junior life savers and 45 as senior life savers.

This year, as last, the courses will be held in the Salem Y. M. C. A. swimming tank, that institution having generously contributed the use of its tank for that purpose. Charles Gill of Willamette university, who has supervised similar courses for the past several years, will have charge of the present course. The campaign will commence May 16 and continue until May 28.

Prize in Radio Rexall Contest Is Won Locally

State prize of $30 in cash in the recent Rexall radio contest went to Mrs. C. G. Pursley, 1545 Trade street, according to word received here Wednesday by J. C. Perry, Rexall druggist. Mrs. Pursley wrote the best 50-word statement of any received from Oregon on the theme of "Unusual Advantages Secured by Trading with the Local Rexall Store."

As a requisite in the contest, Mrs. Pursley described tersely one of Rexall's products: Agreax compound. She was much pleased this week when Mr. Perry presented her with her prize check. Thirty nine hundred and eight dollars in cash prizes were distributed in the contest. Second prize in the state was $20; third prize was $10.

HOP MEN ENDORSE FOUR CANDIDATES

Mott, Stanfield, Martin, Galloway Supported in Resolution Passed

The Oregon Hopgrowers association definitely jumped into the political arena by endorsing candidates for congress at the meeting held here Wednesday afternoon. For U. S. senator Robert N. Stanfield, who is running on an out-and-out wet platform, was endorsed, although Stetler's candidacy had some strong individual support before the ballot was taken. For congress James W. Mott, first district, Gen. Chas. H. Martin, second district, and Francis Galloway, third district was endorsed. Mott and Stanfield are republicans and Martin and Galloway democrats, which indicates that the hopmen do not intend to be bound by party lines in their voting. Emmett Howard of Eugene who made a bid for wet support was turned down for Jim Mott who previously had refused the conditions of the hopgrowers for endorsement.

The resolutions drawn up by the executive committee of the association were as follows:

Whereas, the necessity for the concerted action on the part of the hop industry is essential for its preservation and, Whereas, the 15,000 acres under cultivation represents an investment of $8,000,000 which pays a tax in excess of $100,000 annually and employs upwards of 60,000 people during the growing and harvesting season, expending over $1,000,000 for production costs, which immense sum of money finds its way into the pocket-books of a worthy but needy class of people and which eventually is expended among the merchants and store-keepers of the state, thereby contributing to the general welfare of all and, Whereas, adverse legislation through the enactment of the 18th Amendment and the Volstead act has seriously curtailed our market for hops, with the accompanying low prices, and has caused the destruction of 11,000 acres once in hops which has been planted to other crops in competition with other farm products, and, Whereas, the future of the hop industry is in grave danger of being destroyed, unless the 18th Amendment is repealed or amended, therefore be it,

Resolved, That the OREGON HOP GROWERS, in support of our efforts to bring about the repeal of the 18th Amendment or modification of the Volstead act, thus permitting the manufacture and sale of 3% beer, as recommended by the

FARM SEED LOANS TOTAL IS $15,400

County Committee to Hold Last Meeting Today; Red Cross Helps

A total of $15,400 has been loaned in Marion county through the national farm seed loan established as part of the scheme of the National Reconstruction Finance corporation, according to Miss Thora Boesen, head of the Salem branch of the Red Cross, through which office all applications for loans passed.

The Red Cross donated the service of its office and secretarial force as part of its scheme of community service. All services on the part of the committees working on the applications have also been donated. The Marion county committee is James Smith, Ray Glat and C. A. Bear. They have met twice a week since the opening date of the loan, April 1, and will have the final meeting Friday after which time no more applications will be received.

There were 115 loans on record Wednesday night, with a few more expected before the closing hour Friday. Of these 115 there have been 70 passed on and it is expected that the most of the entire number will be accepted upon examination.

The loan requests are checked carefully first by a community committee, then the county committee and then by the district committee, which is located in Spokane. In addition to this the requests are given under oath and the manner in which the money will be spent is itemized so that little chance for any fraud exists. The person requesting a loan must also have been a farmer in 1931 and give an account of his crop results for that year.

Out of the applications so far examined 15 have been reduced upon the grounds that the requests were in excess of needs. All applications have several forms to fill out and the clerical work has been heavy.

CHAMPOEG DAY AT CHAMBER MONDAY

Residents of Salem for 70 Years or More to be Special Guest

Annual Champeog day, at which time residents of Salem for the past 70 years or more will be honored guests, will be held next Monday noon at the chamber of commerce. Burt Brown Barker, vice-president of the University of Oregon, will be the speaker, and Judge Peter H. D'Arcy, Salem pioneer and past president of the Oregon Historical society, will preside.

As a special feature, a picture of Thomas Cox, first Salem merchant, will be presented at this time by Chester Cox, great great grandson of the early merchant.

Breeze through traffic with the new TEXACO FIRE-CHIEF SUPER-OCTANE GASOLINE

Shrieking sirens—the roar of a powerful engine—a red streak flashes by and she's on her way! There's power for you—real honest-to-goodness power—the kind of power you'd like to have right under your own accelerator!

Today you can have it. Not the fire engine, of course, nor the siren for the bell—but the very same power—gasoline which surpasses federal specifications for distillation range and vapor pressure for use in U. S. Government emergency equipment.

Here's what Uncle Sam uses this type of gasoline for. "ambulances, fire-engines and emergency vehicles." What the Government uses for emergency equipment — you can now have for your own everyday use at no extra price.

Super-octane rating makes Texaco Fire-Chief Gasoline the outstanding anti-knock, non-premium motor fuel. And remember Texaco Fire-Chief plus Ethyl equals Texaco-Ethyl, now more than ever the leading premium gasoline.
