

COSHOW TRIAL STARTS TODAY

Four Women and Eight men To Hear Second Case In Empire Series

John Carson, district attorney of Marion county, and Elmer Barnhart, district attorney of Polk county, Judge Coshow has secured Walter Keyes of Salem and Oscar Hayter of Dallas as his attorneys.

Following the selection of the jury, opening statements were made by Goldstein and Keyes after which the court adjourned until 9:30 tomorrow morning.

Frank Lonsger, one of the attorneys for Frank Keller Jr., first to come to trial in the Empire Holding cases, was in Dallas today and sought of and received from Judge Arlie Walker 25 days in which to file motion for new trial in the case. Judge Walker is sitting in the Empire cases, in which defendants are charged with devising a scheme to defraud the public, on change of venue from Marion county.

Judge Walker agreed that the time should be extended so the other cases might be disposed of before a retrial is sought. There is still 60 days time in which the case may be appealed to the supreme court.

STATE'S DUTY TO CHILDREN VOICED

special education to your needs be available?

"This is no time," Mr. Hastings added, "for indiscriminate economy. We may not spend more, but we must spend wisely. Women and children first has always been civilization's code in time of danger. In time of poverty we should protect the children first. Let us not add the poverty of a lack of opportunity, of health protection and of other safeguards to money poverty."

"Look before you leap is a time honored admonition. Look before you slash is even more important. It is unquestionably better policy to spend money today in helping the handicapped child to help himself, than it is to spend many times as much tomorrow in supporting him at public expense."

Mr. Hastings spoke approvingly of the work already being done by the Oregon child welfare commission and other official and social organizations that are caring for children, both in their own and foster homes and in state institutions. He commended heartily the projected plan of the Oregon Mental Hygiene society in seeking to establish a traveling mental hygiene clinic.

April of 1931 with an average of 3.38 inches. Clouds made the month a gloomy one with 15 days recorded as rainy. April 17 had the heaviest rainfall for the month with .75 inches recorded and April 5 there was .55 inches. April 7 and 19 had .40 inches recorded each.

Oregon History Pageant Given Salem Heights

An Oregon historical pageant of unusual merit was held yesterday afternoon by the sixth grade class at Salem Heights school, according to Mrs. Mary L. Fulker, county school superintendent who attended.

The pageant held outdoors depleted all salient phases of the trip from St. Louis, Mo., to Oregon, each of these being presented in an episode, the total of which were arranged in successive order in an outdoor panorama. Customs of the pioneer days enhanced the scenes.

This pageant was held following the regular 4-H achievement program, which took place early in the afternoon in the school building.

Four Couples Start Trip to Marital Seas

The rush for marriage licenses which was noted Friday with four couples applying, continued Saturday when County Clerk Boyer granted four more couples permits to embark on marital seas. Two of the brides-to-be are teachers. Licenses granted were:

Robert V. Brown, 28, 1815 Broadway, Seattle; millwright, and Emily E. Ivanoff, 25, 523 Third avenue, West Seattle, teacher.

Lee S. Ross, 23, 1547 Court street, engineer, and Edna P. Faust, 21, Mill City, stenographer.

F. A. Thayer, 30, Salem route 2, farmer, and Ethel M. Zysset, 23, Klamath Falls, teacher.

Joe H. Begimbal, 29, Salem route 6, and Ida Beaver, 18, Jefferson, housekeeper.

PLANS OCEAN HOP TO PARIS

In order to prove the reliability of the airplane and show the future of high speed travel across the ocean, Lou Reichers (above), well-known American aviator, will take off some time in the next two weeks in an attempt to fly from New York to Paris in 18 hours. Reichers' plans for the flight, on which he has been quietly working for months, include a take-off from New York at midnight; a refueling stop at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, at dawn; then a 200-mile-an-hour dash across the Atlantic in daylight, another refueling stop in Ireland, and on to Paris. Above map shows the probable route which will be followed by the daring aviator.

Dr. Brewer Will Erect Building On Office Site

STAYTON, May 2.—Men have been at work for the past few days getting the lots north of Dr. Brewer's office in readiness for the fine new building he is going to build at once.

The doctor's present office has been built about 20 years, and while still in good condition is not quite adequate for his present needs.

The new building will be 25x70 feet, built of tile with a brick front and concrete floor. It will contain several rooms—a waiting room, front office, x-ray room, laboratory, surgery and a rear office and library room, besides dressing rooms and lavatories.

Everson Family Is Reunited But Still Destitute

DETROIT, May 2.—(AP)—Through a newspaper story, Austin Everson was reunited today with his wife and nine children, who drove to Detroit from Kellier, Minn., only to be informed that he had gone to some other city in search of work.

Everson had not left the city and sought out his family at police headquarters, where they spent the night, as their capital had been reduced to 60 cents.

The welfare department took the Eversons in charge and is seeking contributions from relatives to send them back to Salem, Ore., their home.

the examiner's hands, and was made to cover up shortage in other accounts of the bank.

The substitution on the books was not made to cover up misuse of funds of Dixon, personally, it is said, but rather to hide bad accounts, and losses sustained by the bank.

The bank was chartered in 1920 and had a capital stock of $15,000. Resources totaled $32,000 and deposits April 1, $56,000.

Albert Rich is president and A. L. Brougher, vice-president, of the bank.

Dixon's bond as cashier was $5,000. Dixon was bound over to the grand jury.

At the national convention, there will be 1,000 committees at work, according to Tom Delaney who manages the local end of the affair. He reported that these committees involved 5,000 men.

Delaney said also that between fifteen and twenty thousand Legionnaires would go to the convention from California, the majority of them passing through Salem. Commander McSherry will appoint soon a committee to assist with entertaining and guiding of these visitors.

With the auxiliary of the Capitol Post Number 9 joining in following the business meeting, the group heard a program Monday night.

Mrs. LoDochia Cobb, state president of the auxiliary, was present and spoke a few words. Other state officers were also present.

The program was as follows: chairman, Bill Brazeau; accordion solo—Robert Brown, special Brown, Fern Hecker, Ruth Vogel, Barbara Cornell, Duana Hatcher, Jack Dempsey, Marie Zelinka, Carol Erickson, Shirley Bontrager, Nell English, Hazel Shank, Oreta Long, Marie Boje, Howard Hopkins, Carol Moomaw, Ruth Walkoski, Richard Watkins, Harold Wolfer, Jack Sprague and Max Moomaw; in the seventh and eighth grades were Ernest Zelinka and Gladys Ingalls.

JUST AN OLD ENGLISH CUSTOM

A. R. Garner may be truly said to carry his responsibilities lightly as he observes an old English custom and carries his bride, the former Miss Marjorie Prestwell, through the door of St. Cuthbert's Church, York, after the ceremony. However, an old American custom was also observed as the bride and groom bombarded the couple with confetti.

state police visited him Sunday morning. He saw them coming and attempted to lose the evidence down the bathtub drain after smashing a jug with a hammer.

Technically, Dick O'Leary is out on bail awaiting trial in circuit court on a liquor possession charge appealed from justice court; actually he is in the city jail starting to serve out a $50 fine administered by Judge Paulsen Monday after his home was raided early Sunday morning.

Three charges were filed against O'Leary: unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor, disorderly conduct and destroying evidence. He was arrested at a residence, 345 Academy street, and was accompanied by Harry Bunth on his trip downtown; Bunth is accused of unlawful possession and disorderly conduct.

About a month ago, O'Leary was arrested for unlawful possession in rooms that he then occupied above the restaurant operated by him on State street. After 10 days in a hospital with flu, three sessions in justice and circuit court, Judge L. H. McMahon lowered his bail to $500 which was furnished.

Since O'Leary's freedom was granted him, he has been watched by the police and when they became suspicious, the city and
