Woman Plunges All Way Down Cement Stairs; Uninjured

SILVERTON, May 4.—Mrs. Alf N. Nelson, miraculously escaped serious injury this week when her foot caught on the top step of the cement basement stairway and she plunged the entire length to the basement, landing on her head.

For a moment, she said, she had lost her sense of direction, but outside of several bruises, she was uninjured. The marvel was, she reported, that no bones were broken.

Harry Seim, Ida May Summers, Lucile Waltman, Evelyn Coomier, Frances and Myrtle Kurre, Celia, Eleanor and Raymond Jefferson, Paul Hagan, Helen Schmidt, Doris Rickard, Grace Wood, Edith Mayte, Margaret Woelke, Amanda Hopfer.

Those receiving merit buttons, Celia and Raymond Jefferson, Paul Hagan, Grace Wood and Myrtle Kurre, Margaret Woelke, Progress pins—Celia Jefferson, Margaret Woelke, Myrtle Kurre and Grace Wood.

The only improvement certificate awarded went to Grace Wood.

MACLEAY, May 4.—C. A. Ratcliff will give a talk on China at the grange lecture hour Friday night. The lecture hour will be open to the public.

CO-OP BUYING HELD BOON TO FARMERS

Bethel Local Hears Several Speakers on Phases Of Purchasing

BETHEL, May 4.—The Bethel local of the Farmers' Union met at the school Monday night. W. L. Creech presided. Don Madison of Salem brought sample tires and addressed the meeting regarding the contract between the state executive board and the tire company which he represents, whereby members of the union can receive substantial reductions on the purchase of tires.

Charles Hottinger of Stayton spoke regarding fire insurance. Mr. Foster of Dallas reported on the success of the Polk county bulk oil station. People are making good savings in purchasing through the union, he said.

L. H. McBees, state president, of Dallas spoke, warning Marion county locals to be careful in expenditures in entertaining the state convention, to avoid debt and an attendant slump in interest in the organization following the convention.

Ronald Jones of Brooks urged members to patronize the Farmers' Union gas truck and oil station. J. G. Lauderback gave report on co-operative purchasing

IN CONSTANT MEMORY OF DAD

Day by day, night by night in our hearts is the love for one departed. Though we can not see him We know he is saved In the beautiful Isles of somewhere.

II
His speech started on the long journey Before his soul with us did part Although we know If he could have spoken His love was for us all His kind dear face did show.

III
His honest eyes His pleasant look, Showed us he was satisfied He looked up at us all With tears in his eyes And a broad sweet smile for bay.

IV
He found the path The glorious road, Where sorrows are no more His struggles are ended In peace he can rest While his memory shall linger on.

V
His flowers were many Beautiful and sweet On his grave was covered deep. He is now at rest In a peaceful plot In the little white church on the hill.

GERALDINE RODGERS CHOICE FOR QUEEN

SCIO, May 4.—By a large majority vote Geraldine Rodgers was chosen as a candidate from Scio high school for queen of the Lebanon strawberry festival to be held the first week in June. The queen will be chosen Friday night, May 28. The other candidates will be made to the queen. Maxine Arnold and Deloris Godwin were also nominated.

The first of a series of programs sponsored by the P. T. A. for National Music week, held Monday, May 2, was a big success despite the bad weather. A good crowd gathered at the Christian church, where a program of American music was presented, under the direction of Miss Genevieve Sines. Groups then went to the various homes, where music from different countries was played.

Mrs. Fred Bilyeu, assisted by the Misses Rebecca Morgan, Wuanita Stepanek, and Virginia Bilyeu, presented a Spanish program; Mrs. Jesse Rodgers, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Glen Thurston, Norman Long, R. S. Thurston, and the Misses Opal Shilling and Geraldine Rodgers, represented Ireland; Mrs. Fred Macpelt and Mrs. R. V. Carlson, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Freitag, Mr. Freitag, and Mrs. E. F. Caldwell, had charge of the German program; and Mrs. and Mrs. Roger Cain, assisted by Mrs. Helen Krosman, were hosts in Hawaii.

In each home, refreshments, typical of the country represented, were served. Mrs. E. Phillips, Mrs. F. A. Galleghy, Miss June Pakke, and Miss Doris Neptune acted as guides.

Pupils' Trip Adds Zest to History Book

KEIZER, May 4.—The fifth and sixth grade pupils with their teachers, Mrs. Eva Kelsa and a number of guests visited Monday at Champeog park and the McLoughlin home and tomb at Oregon City. At the park, the hostess, Mrs. Edyth Tozier Weathered, gave them an interesting talk on the acquisition of the Oregon country. The children and parents then explored the park, hunting especially for the spring where the pioneers got their drinking water. The visit was made on the 89th anniversary.

At Oregon City, they visited the Dr. John McLoughlin home and tomb. At the home they had the added pleasure and honor of greeting Mrs. Eva Emery Dye, who wrote the book "McLoughlin and Old Oregon." The class had picture as a token of appreciation for her work. Several mothers were present.
