BEARCAT BEATS LOGGER 7 TO 3

Tougher Game Expected for Today; Erickson Will Try Mound Stunt

TACOMA, Wash., May 10. (AP)—Willamette university defeated College of Puget Sound, 7 to 3, in a Northwest conference baseball game here today. Andy Peterson, Bearcat mound ace, fanned 18 Loggers, allowed eight hits and contributed two home runs to the Willamette total.

Today the Willamette Bearcats will again face the College of Puget Sound Loggers in a conference baseball game. George Erickson, freshman hurler from Clatskanie, will be on the mound for Willamette.

Coach Roy Sandberg of C. P. S. has Gagnon to pitch today, and it may be that Gagnon is better than Masterson, who chucked in the opening game. This would mean saving the better pitcher to work against Erickson.

Erickson pitched a nice game at Albany against Albany college and brought Willamette its only shutout of the season thus far. He allowed only five scattered hits and gave no walks. He is tall and powerful, though his speed is not extra fast yet this season. His control is good and he has a fine change of pace.

In the outfield today Coach "Spec" Keene will probably start Gus Moore, Walt Erickson and Andy Peterson. Erickson is hard to beat in college circles when it comes to covering ground in the outfield.

Practically all the errors have been made by the infielders this season. In the game Monday against Columbia University Gibson and Gribble each made two errors, while the second stringers in the lineup fielded cleaner.

There will be plenty of hitting power on the team today with Peterson now getting his batting eye and George Erickson in the lineup. The game may resolve itself into a slugfest unless the Bearcats play good defensive ball.

Indians Win Over Albany Second Time

CHEMAWA, May 10.—The Albany college football team here today loaded for revenge upon the Chemawa Indian school baseball team which had defeated them 10 to 2 last week at Albany, and they almost got it. Largely due to the individual efforts of Leonard Vivrette, Chemawa nosed out a 7 to 6 victory.

Two men got on bases in the second inning, then Vivrette went and after letting one of those runners score, shut out the collegians for the remainder of the game.

Chemawa gradually overcame Albany's lead, getting one run each in the first, second and sixth innings, two in the eighth; and then Vivrette slammed out the hit that scored the tying and winning runs in the ninth.

Ineligibility of three Chemawa players, announced just before the game, forced Coach Lavelle to re-amp his lineup greatly. The Indians will entertain Salem high here Saturday.

CURT COMMENTS

If any ball team around here is shy a good pitcher, we suggest the management drive up to Mt. Angel and find out if Johnny Beck is home. Johnny was turned loose by the Angels the other day and started north by boat last Tuesday, but we don't know whether he has arrived or not because he was planning to scout around a little trying to line up a pitching job somewhere.

Our friend Stan Lainson down in Los Angeles remarked in a letter we received the other day that Johnny had shown a lot of stuff down there but didn't have the experience to qualify him for Coast league ball yet. Most any year Johnny could have grabbed a contract in some lesser company, but the woods are full of good ball players looking for jobs and he may find the pickings slim.

So maybe Spencer Abbott won't have to do any groaning on Johnny's account this season.

Howard Maple at latest report was still wearing a "Washington Senator uniform" but, according to word we have received, is not getting any closer to home plate than the bullpen, it being his job as No. 3 catcher to warm up the relief men out there. He might have had a chance, for Walter Johnson rates him as an excellent prospect, had the club not signed Moe Berg, a big league veteran.

The "Big Train" according to our informant is strong for former college football players because, he says, "They have that winning spirit and are not afraid to go out there and put up a battle."

"Howard's arm isn't so good," Johnson is quoted, "but he gets the ball away from him fast and could get by on his pecking. He is right smart behind the plate and is always studying the opposing batters. I believe he knows the weakness of every batter on every team we have played so far and I would not be afraid to start him
