yesterday, in fact all kinds of apologies except the right kindthe kind demanded Tuesday because several newspapers commented upon the absence from Salem of the members of the board of control. It seemed about everybody was apologetic.

However the comments apparently were not taken very seriously, or no immediate change in office hours resulted. The only member of the board here yesterday was Hal E. Hoss, secretary of state. Both the governor and state treasurer, Rufus Holman, were not in Salem, although perhaps attending to business in Portland or elsewhere.

Newell Williams presented one of the apologies, in fact the only formal one received. It reads "On behalf of the Southeast Salem Improvement club, now defunct (the club, not myself), I as the last president wish to apologize for the editorial appearing in the local paper. I am sure that the statement that these men were in their offices 8, 10 and 15 days is in error. My count was less."

It looks like assault and battery charges and subsequent suspensions made a Cross boy still more cross. In fact he became so cross he handed a single handed beating, reports state, to Victor DeJardin, because the latter chose to report action taken against him. It looks further as though some boys were attempting to get into some institution at least even if the high school won't take them.

Yesterday was certainly an deal circus day, and lots of men it was noted, including state officials and employes, found it imperative to take theirs or someone's children to one of the performances. More power to circuses if they bring that kind of weather.

Bids for the state power plant, which Senator W. E. Burke proposes to have built for $150,000 to save a lot of money for somebody or something, or for some other reason not yet determined, will be opened here today-that is if there are any bids. So far only one firm has qualified, and no bids are on hand.

HERE were a lot of apologies | solidate the two state institutions floating around the capitol as well as other proposed changes in the education system, was filed yesterday, After a title is secured all supporters have to do is get 17,000 names by July 7. Then it will go on the November ballot.

> The consolidation plan would join the two state institutions with headquarters at Corvallis, and make Eugene a normal school center. Eugene is expected to fight the plan, and one informed citizen said it would cost the state $16,000,000 to effect the consolidation. So the plan presents much food for

One citizen of the state, a woman, gave Hal Hoss a piece of her mind for the appearance of Jo-"why in the name of common sense" does his announcement apbooklet."

The woman asks further if France is a particular friend of Hal's because he published his face. Hoss answered that the booklet was not his own, and the only reason France's picture and announcement appeared is that he paid $400 to the state to have the work done.

If his optimism is any indication of the outcome, Ben Wing will not be an employe of the state after November. Ben bebacking up his remarks by logical arguments. Well good luck, Ben. And incidentally Mr. Wing has about recovered from the gout.

SCOTTS MILLS, May 11-The senior class will hold its class night Friday night, May 13 in the gymnasium. The salutatory will be given by Merle Haskins and the valedictory by Ruthanna McCracken. A short one act comedy "When the Darby's Dieted" will also be given by the senior class, and several musical numbers. Members of the senior class are: Ruthanna McCracken, Cleo Saueressig, Verda Miller, Dorls Hogg, Walter Thurman, Merle Haskins and Willie Kellogg.

The traveling library the P. T. . had charge of, has been discontinued and the books taken back to Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Smith and daughter Gale, and Mrs. Addie Smith attended a family reunion at Monitor Sunday, it being also a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Brougher who leave this month for Alaska.

A large appreciative audience attended the musical at the Christian church given by Miss Phyllis Macy, vocalist, Miss Violet Herigstad planist and Miss Beryl Ottoway, violinist, with Miss Margaret Coulson and Mrs. Fern Davenport as accompanist. Each one did her part splendidly. All the programs given, in observance of music week were well attended and enjoyed.
