JAFSIE RANSOM NOTES QUOTED

Proof Baby was Kidnaped by Group That got Money Deemed Absolute

ing the baby first or note. Let us know about that we don't want another way. Because we don't like to give up. If you are willing to accept this deal put those in the paper.

"I accept money is ready!"

Was to be Told Eight Hours Later

The note said that within eight hours after the money was paid Condon would be advised where to find the baby.

There were additional negotiations after which the money — $50,000 instead of $70,000—was paid. One letter was mailed from station "E" at Atlantic avenue in Brooklyn and another from station "N" at 203 West 69th street in New York. Each letter was addressed to Mr. Dr. John Condon.

Dr. Condon received on March 8 a letter bearing the strange smybol which later served as the signature for further communications with the supposed kidnapers. The letter askd Dr. Condon to obtain authorization to act as intermediary and to pay over $70,000 as ransom, an increase of $20,000 over the sum asked in the original note left at the Lindbergh home on the night of the kidnaping, according to the Bronx Home News story.

Dr. Condon obtained such authorization., Colonel Lindbergh was said to have been convinced that he was in communication with the kidnapers. But Dr. Condon proceeded cautiously. He obtained from Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh two large pins with which the baby's blanket had been fastened to the crib. He also learned from Colonel Lindbergh about the child's favorite toys—a lion, an elephant and a double humped camel. Colonel Lindbergh said the baby was able to pronounce the names of these toys clearly.

On the night of March 12 Dr. Condon met the messenger purporting to come from the kidnapers in Woodlawn cemetery. He carried with him the three toys and the two safety pins. He showed the man the pins and asked him if he knew where they came from.

"Sure I do," the messenger said. "They were used to pin the blanket to the crib."

Pleaded for Look At Infant Prisoner

Dr. Condon pleaded to be taken to the child. He wanted to be sure of identifying the baby. The messenger refused.

"Take me to the baby," Dr. Condon begged. "You have an automobile. Take me there. You are armed. You could shoot me, or your friends could shoot me. I will go alone with you to any place. Let me see the child and I will see that you get your money."

The messenger looked out on Jerome avenue as if trying to see someone in the darkness.

"Your friend is with you?" asked Dr. Condon. "Yes I might have known. Why not call him. I will go with both of you. Two against one. The only thing I want is the baby."

"No," the messenger is quoted as saying. "I must not call my friend. He would kill him, and I must not bring you back with me."

He assured Dr. Condon, however, that he would send him the baby's overall sleeping garment.

On March 16, according to the Bronx newspapers, Dr. Condon received the suit and it was identified by Colonel Lindbergh as the baby's. Then the kidnapers' "program" was outlined in a letter and subsequently the $50,000 ransom was paid over after several other communications with the supposed abductors.

Mrs. Lindbergh Had Urged Payment

Mrs. Lindbergh, it was said, was one of the first to urge payment of the money. Colonel Lindbergh gave Dr. Condon written authorization to pay $70,000. This was the sum Dr. Condon carried with him to the cemetery at the next meeting with the supposed kidnapers.

"You know," Dr. Condon is quoted as saying to the kidnapers' representative, "the reason why there was delay is that we had a hard time scraping up money. Colonel Lindbergh hasn't all the money the newspapers say he has."

"We will be satisfied with $50,000,'" the mesenger is said to have blurted out, nervously.

"That's fine," said Dr. Condon. I'll get the money for you right away. Wait."

He returned to the automobile in which Colonel Lindbergh was seated, told him of the developments, removed $20,000 from the package containing the ransom money and returned with $50,000 which he paid to the kidnaper, according to the copyrighted story published today.

LEWELLING TAKES OFFICE AS JUDGE

L. G. Lewelling, newly named judge of the third judicial district of Oregon, took his oath of office Friday at Albany and resigned as district attorney of Linn county, sending both his resignation and his oath to Salem late yesterday afternoon. The new judge expects to begin his duties Monday. His oath was administered by A. K. McMahan, member of the law firm of Marks, McMahan and Lewelling. The judge is withdrawing as a member of the firm.

M. D. Shanks of Lebanon, newly named district attorney of Linn county, took his oath of office Friday before his law partner, Senator Samuel M. Garland. He sent his oath of office to Salem last night. He said yesterday he would name a deputy for his office within a few days.

STEIWER CLUB FOR COUNTY IS FORMED

committee was also elected, consisting of Mrs. Clifford W. Brown, M. Clifford Moynihan, both of Salem, Keith Powell of Woodburn, David H. Looney of Jefferson, Custer E. Ross of Silverton, Henry C. Porter of Aumsville and E. M. Page of Salem.

The club was organized with a signed up membership of approximately 250 names, and more are to be obtained. Those who circulated the petitions and called for the meeting reported much enthusiasm among the signers and stated that little opposition was encountered, indicating that Steiwer would run in this county abreast of the field, with probably a majority over all other candidates.

Upon Mr. McGilchrist's election as president, he responded, calling the club's attention to the fact that Senator Steiwer was at his desk in Washington, attending to the business of the voters of Oregon, and that his friends in Oregon owed it to him to carry on the campaign with no less enthusiasm because of the senator's absence from the state.

Reports were given from different parts of the state, one report coming from Douglas county, indicating that the senator was strong there. Another report from Wasco and Hood River counties indicated that he would come out of that territory with a substantial majority. Reports also came in from Linn, Benton and Lincoln counties. In all these places, reports indicated that Senator Steiwer would far outdistance any other candidate in the race.

Gehlhar Wants Quarantine on Berries Lifted

Max Gehlhar, state director of agriculture, Friday sent a telegram to the minister of agriculture, Ottawa, Canada, urging that the quarantine established there April 29, which affects the importation of strawberries and vegetables produced in Wasco and Hood River counties, be lifted or modified.

Gehlhar requested that the importation of these crops into Canada be allowed, provided they were certificated by the state agricultural department.

The telegram said the infestation, upon which the quarantine order was based, was discovered approximately 1000 miles from Hood River and Wasco counties.

Five Industrial Fatalities Noted

There were five fatalities in Oregon due to industrial accidents during the week ending May 12, according to a report prepared by the state industrial accident commission.

The victims were Glen E. Lloyd, Tillamook; Kenneth Parker, Hammond; Arvo M. Rinell, Astoria, and Grant Taylor, Shaniko.

There were 418 accidents reported to the commission during the week.

Vehicle Charge Bill Supported

Petitions to place a measure providing for redistribution of motor vehicle charges on the November ballot will be circulated within the next few days, Oswald West, sponsor, announced Friday.

It will require 17,060 signatures to insure the measure being referred to the voters in November.

adults ran several blocks to see which way the automobile was going. The car, driven by Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, state police head, was preceded to a crematory in Linden by a hearse bearing the little oak casket.

Fifty or more outsiders who had gathered around the place were requested to leave.

Body Cremated; Father Looks On

When the grounds had been cleared the casket was taken from the hearse into the building, followed by Colonel Lindbergh, Colonel Schwarzkopf and Colonel Breckenridge.

The three silently witnessed the cremation. They saw the body lowered into the retorts by three engineers and assistants.

Without visible emotion, they peered for a moment through the transparent opening provided for special witnesses.

Then the bereaved father turned to the superintendent of the crematory, shook his hand, and said:

"I thank you."

The party left in the same automobile in which they had arrived. It was understood the ashes of the baby would be left there overnight. A Trenton undertaking establishment was instructed to call for them tomorrow. Where they will be taken was not revealed.

Thus was written the last chapter in the tragic story of the world famous Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., whose life was snuffed out before he was 21 months old.

But officialdom — backed by outraged public opinion and spurred by President Hoover himself into making this the most intensive manhunt the world has ever known — displayed a desire to write a sequel to the story.

The call from the White House for a search "never to be relaxed until those criminals are implacably brought to justice" was their campaign cry.

lowering her ship's ladder and maneuvering it as near as possible to the lifeboat.

Captain Manning and his crew caught the ladder and the flier was carried aboard. The sea was running too high to salvage either the lifeboat or the plane.

The pilot, Reichers, was placed immediately under the case of Surgeon Mulligan.

Captain George Fried and Harry Manning have been often involved in Atlantic rescue operations, and probably their most noteworthy effort was the rescue of the entire crew of the steamship Florida 700 miles off the Virginia capes January 24, 1929.

Brief Statements on Their Training and Their Platforms

Charles K. Spaulding
Candidate for Republican Nomination for State Senator

Statement made by Charles K. Spaulding in support of his candidacy for the republican nomination as state senator from Marion county:

"I was born in Leavenworth, Kansas, January 28, 1865. Moved to San Francisco eight years later and on to Portland, Oregon, at the age of 11 years. My education was obtained in the Portland public schools. Later I moved to my father's farm near Dayton. Next I worked in Dayton, in A. L. Saylor's drug store as druggist and on The Dayton Herald as typesetter.

"I was married in 1884, and two years later started in the logging and lumber business which I have continued to the present time. I have also been connected with banking and with the pulp and paper industries.

"I have held but one electice office—city councilman — before being appointed a member of the Oregon state senate by Governor Meier to succeed the late Senator Reynolds. I had never had any political aspirations—then came the appointment as a member of the Oregon State Highway commission. Both of these appointments came without any solicitation on my part.

"The paramount issue, under the present economic conditions, I believe to be the unemployment situation. I advocate rotation of work which means shorter hours thereby giving more people a chance to earn some money—this should be carried out particularly in state activities.

"I advocate a 50% reduction of automobile license fees with an additional one cent gas tax.

"I advocate no more issuing of bonds by the highway commission without the consent of the people or the legislature.

"I favor further reduction in state and governmental activities and expenditures."

C. A. Ratcliff
Republican Candidate for Nomination as County Sheriff

The statement made by C. A. Ratcliff, candidate for the republican nomination as sheriff, follows:

"For 44 years I have been a resident of Oregon, for the greater part of that time a resident of Marion county.

"As a young man I taught school in this state and later served seven years in the Philippines as district supervisor of schools in a district of 40,000 people which position carried heavy responsibilities for the supervisor was entirely responsible for all school administration, including construction of buildings, employment of teachers and all things incidental to the work.

"I have had four years experience as office manager for a wholesale electrical firm and worked for some time in the cost accounting division of the Oregon State Industrial accident commission.

"For 20 years I have been a taxpayer of this county and my lifetime's savings are invested here. Now the taxes exceed the rental value of my land. Conditions demand that there be retrenchment in the operating costs of government and such reduction must be effected in order to bring the tax burden within the ability of the taxpayer to pay. It is time for some changes that will bring about reductions in governmental costs. I have always worked and voted for what seemed to me to be the best interests of the taxpayers, but have never before been a candidate for office.

"I am a fruit grower and have been active in farmers cooperative associations. For eight years I have been secretary-treasurer of the Salem Cooperative Prune Growers and this year have been actively engaged as manager with the result that the operating costs have been greatly reduced.

"There is need for economy in the operation of the sheriff's office. There is need for active effort to prevent crime, to apprehend criminals, and to give every part of Marion county effective police protection. The sheriff's force should co-ordinate with the state police. If nominated and elected I will make every effort to fully meet these needs and to give the people of Marion county the service to which they are entitled from the sheriff's office.

"I do not and never have used intoxicating liquors. If elected I will fulfill my oath of office to the best of my ability which requires that I enforce all laws with exception to none. I would myself be a criminal if I did otherwise.

"A vote for me is a vote for a new deal in the sheriff's office."

Dave W. Pugh
Candidate for Marion Co. Representative in State Legislature

Dave W. Pugh is well known in Salem where he has lived for many years and where he has been successful in his business experience.

In making public a statement of the program he follows in seeking office, Pugh states:

"Stand for election of Game Commission by vote of the people making it self supported by the license fees.

"Economize by eliminating bureaus and commissions rather than cutting the workingman's wage.

"No new legislation that will increase taxes.

"School tax is getting top heavy, eliminate the school bus, stop turning professional men out of our schools at public expense. Fundamental education is sufficient during these times.

"The best education I have ever received was to learn that hard work was not injurious but necessary.

"I am a native of Marion county."

W. C. Pettyjohn
Candidate for Legislator from Marion County

W. C. Pettyjohn, republican candidate for nomination for representative in Oregon legislature was born on a farm six miles southwest of Salem. He resides at present on a part of the original holding of his grandfather who crossed the plains in 1847.

Mr. Pettyjohn was educated in the schools of Marion county and the Oregon Normal school at Monmouth.

If nominated and elected he pledges himself to "use his best judgment."

LINDBERGH HOAX BY GANGSTERS HINTED

NEW YORK, May 13—(AP)—The Daily News says police are of the belief that one Brooklyn gang leader is marked for speedy death as the result of a $500,000 swindle plot nipped in the bud 45 minutes after the Lindbergh babys body was found.

The paper says the plan was for one beer and alcohol gang to fleece another out of the vast sum on the promise of delivering the Lindbergh baby to their rivals.

The hoax collapsed, the Daily News says, when the plotters were apprised of the ghastly discovery near Lindbergh's home nearly two hours before even the newspapers learned the body had been found.

The deal between the rival gunmen was being discussed when the news came.

Five men are reported under arrest in connection with the strange plot which police believed, the News said, would have precipitated the greatest gang massacre in the history of the east.
