MRS. MOUNTAIN IS HEAD OF P-T GROUP

AUMSVILLE, May 20.—The last meeting of the Parent-Teachers association was held Wednesday at the school house. New officers were elected. Mrs. T. C. Mountain, president to succeed Mr. A. A. Nicholson who has held the place two years; vice president, Mrs. Fred Steiner; treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Bradley; secretary, Miss Grace Richards; sergeant-at-arms, Chris Jensen.

This was followed by a program prepared by Miss Gladys Burgess; school song by Cleo Barry and Thelma McDonald; a mock wedding event. The wedding march played by Mrs. Ella England, the minister, Merle Martin, now at the school, Mrs. Margaret Martin and Mrs. Susie Ransom, the bride; Charles Martin, the groom; Frank Bowers; they were followed by their grand parents, Sam Wets, Charles Fardee who went profusely; Mrs. M. Bowers carried the large ring. The bride, Mrs. Donald Riches was train bearer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Dyer and three sons of Yerington, Nevada, spent two days recently at the J. H. Nichols home. They are looking for a location and like

NORMAL TRAINING SCHOOL RETAINED

RICKREAL, May 20.—At a special school meeting Wednesday it was voted by a large majority to retain the normal training school in the grades for a period of one year. The school at that time if not satisfactory, J. A. Churchill, newly-elected president of the Oregon Normal school at Monmouth, was present and explained the plan on which the work would be carried on.

Clever posters have been put up by the pupils at the grade school calling attention to their opera to be presented Friday night, May 20, in the high school auditorium. "Mulligan's Magic" is the title of the play and all pupils of the upper room are included.

Mrs. Dew plays the accompaniment as well as directing the setting.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

"The Official System" as Adopted by Leading Authorities

By E. V. SHEPARD

Reading a Novel Bid.

Sometimes a player unexpectedly springs a novel bid upon his partner. If that bid can be read without difficulty, and if the bid means a long-felt want, thereafter it becomes a regular part of the proceedings of those two players. Such a bid of great utility was first employed in contracting the hands shown below.

I passed. I occupied A's position. My hand was not worth a semi-forcing bid of 3-Spades, so I bid only 1-Spade. I passed. My partner, M. L. Coleman, was an expert at feature showing, so that we were employing that system of bidding powerful hands. He jumped his declaration to 3-Spades, saying: "Show your lowest side ace; I can see a sure game, and probably a slam." I did as directed, by bidding 4-Diamonds, thereby showing holding the Ace of clubs.

I had to show my features in regular order. My partner, having given the slam signal, was at liberty to show his features in any way that he deemed best calculated to obtain from me the information he desired.

Coleman said nothing about clubs. He bid 4-Hearts, to announce possession of the ace. Having no more side ace, he showed a sure showing kings. As my partner had stated that he held the best trick winner in hearts, my bid

INGALLS HAILED BY WETS, VETS

DAVID S. INGALLS THE LATE THEODORE ROOSEVELT

Though it is regarded as a victory for the foes of prohibition, the recent triumph of David S. Ingalls, youthful Assistant Secretary of the Navy for aeronautics, in winning the Republican nomination for Governor of Ohio, has a far more ominous significance for the keen student of politics. A glance back through the political pages of United States history since the Civil War will show that the American people have shown a growing tendency to signify their recognition of the fighting man by letting the man who upholds his country's honor by force of arms have a hand in governing it. It was on such a wave of patriotic sentiment that the late President Roosevelt rode into the White House. The nomination of Ingalls is something similar. Ingalls fought for his country in the World War as an aviator and came out with a brilliant record, having five enemy planes to his credit for which he was decorated with the Distinguished Service Cross and the British Flying Cross. His first fling in politics was when he was elected to membership in the Ohio Legislature in 1927. His appointment as Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Aeronautics in 1929 by President Hoover was a personal triumph for Ingalls and a tribute to his ability as an aviation expert. Since then he has become one of the most popular members of the Hoover Administration. His great popularity in his own State of Ohio is attested to by his victory over C. J. Brown, Ohio Secretary of State, who is a bone dry in a dry state, while Ingalls is an outright opponent of prohibition.

Woodburn News

WOODBURN, May 20.—May day will be celebrated by the Washington grade school here Tuesday night, May 24, at the school grounds. The program will begin at 6:30 p. m. Mary Jane May will be crowned queen. Attendants are Mildred Tehle and Floris Nelson of the eighth grade, and Sylvia Tehle and Mildred Howe of the seventh grade.

Others in the court of the queen will be: Crown bearer, Billie Bladorn; train bearers, Junior Durant and Fred Corn; flower girls, Virginia Olson, Bonnie Susan Scott, Virginia Whitman and Ruth Bain; lord of May, Wesley Strubhar; heralds, Robert Bonney and Charles Roberts.

The program will be: Tag dance, Barbara Espy, Billie Chase and Marie Strike; spring dance, Lois Volker and Evelyn Block; private dance, Rognar Anonby, Leo Miller, Jack Holcomb, Don Rerick and Ray Tresidder; scarf dance, Lois Volker, Evelyn Block, Thelma How and Irene Jones; Margaret Tangent, Oneta Haar, Lois Volker, Evelyn Block, Edna Mathieson, Hilda Trullinger, Hazel Trullinger, Lillian Kiewer, Rosemary Corey, Fern Hermanson, Marjorie Ericson, Thelma Benson, Helen Hicks, Helen Lindsey and Katherine Howe.

Japanese to Speak Richard Funi, Japanese, will speak at the morning service of the Woodburn Christian church Sunday, talking on the subject, "Christ and the Japanese." Mr. Funi speaks the English language fluently, and a real treat is promised. He will also play and sing in his native tongue.

Rev. Chester L. Ward, superintendent of Hubbard schools, will continue his series of sermons given at the Woodburn Presbyterian church. Members of the church have expressed much satisfaction in Mr. Ward's speeches.

No churches are holding services in the evening, as baccalaureate services for the graduating class of the high school are to be held in the auditorium of the school at that time.

All political candidates were given a chance to talk Wednesday night, when the regular meeting of the Woodburn chamber of commerce was held at the Mt. Luke's community hall. A large number of political aspirants were present and several sent letters stating that they were unable to attend. The letters were read by Ray Glatt. Twenty-five candidates spoke.

TEXTBOOKS CLOSED BY MORE STUDENTS

CENTRAL HOWELL, May 20.—The last day of school Wednesday was enjoyed by the community with the usual picnic dinner and ball game.

The 4-H cooking and bachelor sewing club exhibits were judged. Lucille Wood won first on bread, Ida Scharer first on angel food cake and on cookies, first, Jo Wood; second, Lucille Hall, and third, Emmaline Nafziger. The first place in bachelor sewing was won by Glen Beals, Vernon Beals second and Donald Stoffen third.

Mrs. Robert Janz, Mrs. R. C. Ramsden and Mrs. Thomas Lovre acted as judges of the cooking exhibit. The girls of the cooking club presented their leader, Mrs. A. A. Hall, with a lovely vase.

Mrs. A. E. Janz fell and cut her leg and is unable to be on her feet for a time.

Eighth grade graduates this year are Lucille Wood, Helen Palleesen, Irene Nafziger, Grover Lichty, Delbert Lovre, James Lichty, Henry Rudishauser, Harry Palleesen and Edgar Nafziger.

Morrison Planning Tour of Portland For Grade Pupils

AURORA, May 20.—Professor and Mrs. Morrison gave the upper class of the grade school an educational tour of places of interest in Portland Saturday. The Mutual Benefit Health and Accident Association, Northwestern School of Commerce and other places were visited.

A special police officer was assigned to the class at the Harbor Patrol. He took them aboard a French liner from which they witnessed unloading of boats. At the Monarch Forge company, iron curbs from passenger coach rails were given as souvenirs.

A movie completed the day. The previous night the seventh grade gave the eighth grade a party at the Morrison home.

BOY TO BRETAGNOS ST. PAUL, May 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bretano are proud parents of their second child, a boy born Tuesday, May 17,

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES OCCUPY ISLANDERS

Grade Pupils Finish Work; Dayton Seniors' Class Sermon Sunday

GRAND ISLAND, May 20.—The students of the four upper grades in the island school bid farewell Thursday to all school activities until the re-opening next fall. Their instructor, Mrs. Pauline Fowler, had planned a pleasant wieners roast to be held in the woods as a surprise for her pupils but due to the hard rain showers they were forced to enjoy their seats in the basement of the school building. The extension of time for the upper grades was due to days missed in March through illness of the teacher, Mrs. Fowler.

The Dayton high school student body annual election resulted in the following officers for the ensuing year: president, Melvin Blanchard; vice president, Kenneth Hadaway; secretary, Grace Carlson; treasurer, Pete Reichenstein; athletic manager, John Clow; editor, Harry Tompkins.

Class Sermon Sunday The program for the Dayton high school baccalaureate services to be held Sunday night, May 22, at the Methodist church is as follows:

Processional; invocation, Rev. F. E. Fisher; hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers"; congregation; vocal solo, "Memories," Mrs. Yelene Coburn; male quartet, "That Beautiful Land," Ray Warren, Ed Grabenhorst, Rex Peffer, Lynn Guber; duet, "A Perfect Day," Mrs. Iva Willard, Mrs. Alice Hensley; baccalaureate sermon, John Runyan; solo, "Sundown," Roy Warren; instrumental "Castle Chimes," junior mandolin orchestra; male quartet, "Glorious Things of Thee are Spoken," Messrs. Warren, Grabenhorst, Peffer, Guber; hymn, "When We All Get to Heaven"; congregation; benediction, Rev. Chester Finkblinder; recessional.

Mrs. M. L. Prunk Killed by Machine Near Amity Home

AMITY, May 20.—Mrs. M. L. Prunk, who came here from Salem with her husband six years ago, was killed about midnight Tuesday when struck by a car driven by a local man, A. W. Newby, who operates a meat market and who was returning from McMinnville.

Mrs. Prunk's mother and other relatives live in Salem. Mr. Prunk is a druggist here. Newby says the accident could not be avoided. The accident happened as Mrs. Prunk was returning to her home after playing bridge at a neighbor's home.

WEST SALEM, May 20.—The elaborate May day festival that was to have been given Thursday night for the Cascade area, four West Salem youths received advancement. A. C. Henningson is scout leader here and the boys to advance were Robert Armstrong, promoted to second class, and Harvey Griffin, Winston Gosser and Raymond Griffin, promoted to first class scouts. A considerable interest is felt for the annual scout rally to be held at Sweetland field May 27.

At the silver tea held at the home of Mrs. L. F. Wallace Wednesday afternoon, a very pleasant social time was spent. Seasonal flowers were effectively used in the rooms and Mrs. Phil Hathaway and Mrs. Darral T. Bradford had charge of the entertainment at which proverbs, a comical reading by Mrs. Jed Austin, a question and answer game and other games were played.

Mrs. Edward Brock, whose birthday it happened to be, was complimented and surprised by a coin shower by the matrons, and a delightful social hour followed.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. W. D. Phillips and Mrs. Emmett A. Dickson. Those present included Mrs. J. I. Miller, Mrs. C. R. Brown, Mrs. Edward Brock, Mrs. Guy Newgent, Mrs. Darral T. Bradford, Mrs. Phil Hathaway, Mrs. Harold Davis, Mrs. C. R. Dark, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Frank Walls, Mrs. Arthur Hathaway, Mrs. Jed Austin, Mrs. Frank Forrester, Mrs. John Evans, Mrs. S. Pfeiffanf, Mrs. J. R. Brown, Mrs. George Lothrop, Mrs. J. R. Bedford, Mrs. A. T. Keiso, Mrs. Elmer Rierison, Mrs. Bertha Englehorn, Mrs. Hrris, Mrs. Emmett Dickson, Mrs. Jack A. Gosser, Mrs. W. D. Phillips, Miss Lottie McAdams and the hostess, Mrs. Wallace.

Recent guests at the T. C. Gosser home included Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sipe of Kelson, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Gosser, here from Wisconsin, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Chamberlain and son Delbert, Mrs. Frank P. Wells and Mrs. Harley Smalley and son Gene.

JEFFERSON, May 20.—George Allphin, 80, died at his home here Thursday night after a brief illness. He was born in Benton county, Oregon, May 15, 1852 and had lived here for the past six years.

He is survived by a son, William Allphin of Newport, and a daughter, Mrs. May Jones of Crabtree, and several stepchildren. He also leaves three sisters and two brothers. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

TURNER, May 20.—The Baccalaureate sermon for the Turner high school senior class will be given Sunday evening, May 22, at the Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. D. J. Howe of Salem will be the speaker.

Special musical numbers will be given by the high school girls sextette also a violin solo will be given by Louis Fowler, Mrs. Mae Hadley will be the pianist; the invocation will be by Rev. E. J. Gilstrap, with Rev. W. S. Burgoyne giving the benediction.

SLENDER SILHOUETTE STILL THE MODE

Above are a few of the models displayed at a recent exhibition of Summer fashions. Contrary to the predictions of beauty connoisseurs, the slender, boyish silhouette is still enjoying popularity with couturiers. The newest modes are designed to show to the best advantage the tall, slim figure, cut upon boyish lines, but with an effect of statuesque dignity. At left is a Summer frock of organdie, with embroidered batiste, one of the charmingly feminine models on display. The broad high girdle in two tones of blue adds an attractive note. In the center are two gleaming white satin evening gowns, satin still being the popular medium. These gowns have jackets of contrasting colors; one with black and white bolero effect, and the other with orange crepe, fitted to the figure. At the right is a beautiful frock of the more demure type. This model features the longer silhouette. It is of pleated chiffon, with a bodice in two shades of green that crosses and ties in back with long, trailing ends. So now, ladies, get that slender figure. Get up in the morning and p-r-r-e-t-c-h for the sky until you attain the graceful symmetry that is so necessary if body is to harmonize with the clothes.

FOLQUET DIES AT SCHOOL BUS WHEEL

WOODBURN, May 20.—Paul Folquet, 65, died at the wheel of the Lincoln school bus this morning at a point on his route about a half mile east of the highway. He had picked up some of the children. The ignition was turned off by Folquet apparently just before his death, as the machine slowed down and then halted. When the door was opened, Folquet's body fell out.

Mr. Folquet had driven the bus for 13 years. He was in good health when he started out this morning. He was born in St. Pierre-et-Miquelon, France, from where he came to Woodburn 21 years ago. Mrs. Folquet died here five years ago. He leaves three sons, Maurice and Paul, Jr., of Portland and George of Castle Rock, Wash. He was a member of the Catholic church here.

Funeral services will be held Monday, with burial to be in Mt. Calvary cemetery in Portland, where his wife is buried.

On account of Mr. Folquet's death the Lincoln school may exercises, scheduled for tonight, were postponed until next week.

Henry Roberts is Called to Beyond After Long Misery

FALLS CITY, May 20.—Henry Roberts passed away at his home here Wednesday night. Mr. Roberts has been in poor health for some time. He is survived by two sisters, Miss Mary Roberts and Mrs. Frances Barnett, all living in Falls City.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gunn are leaving next Monday for Oklahoma. They plan to drive through with a team of mules. Mr. Gunn is a tinsmith and will follow that trade as they travel along from place to place. They recently lost their home here by fire.

Arthur Landers attempted suicide Tuesday night by shooting himself. The bullet passed clear through his body just missing the heart and lung. He was taken to the hospital at once.
