STOCKS PULL OUT OF RECENT SLUMP

More Than Cancel Loss of Early Session; Close Fraction Higher

NEW YORK, May 26—(AP)—

Stocks pulled out of their slump today with a rally that more than cancelled many early losses of 1 to 5 points.

The market closed fractionally higher, on the average, thanks to brisk afternoon covering stimulated, apparently, by Washington advises to the effect that congress appeared more kindly disposed to a sales tax.

Tobacco and food shares had to take most of the morning selling, although by noon utilities, chemicals, rails and merchandising issues were feeling the pinch, however, U. S. Steel, American Can and Standard Oil of New Jersey were able to hold their own. The market closed fractionally higher, on the average, thanks to brisk afternoon covering stimulated, apparently, by Washington
