

JAY STOCKMAN CASE NEAR END

Arguments to Start Today; McCallister, Allison Testimony Varies

tion. He stated that McCallister had testified that he had not learned of the officers' notes prior to the granting of the permit.

When cross-examined by Dexter Rice, Allison was not certain about other parts of McCallister's testimony. He said he did not keep notes on all the testimony and said Goldstein had called his attention to the testimony regarding the officers' notes during the grand jury session.

Goldstein finished cross-examination of Stockman this morning. Stockman stated the contract for his salary which the state had introduced as evidence was a replacement. The contract is dated October 15, 1930, while the contract was actually signed on December 10 or 11. He said that the salary contracts were authorized by the directors November 13.

In regard to his subscription for stock, Stockman stated he thought he subscribed for his 200 shares prior to November 14. When asked whether he was financially able to do this, the witness answered that he was a paid for his services and was to receive $3000 credit for commission.

Stockman was also questioned about the executive committee of which he was a member. He denied that the work of this committee was to approve the sale of securities as they were received. He said Judge Coshaw had insisted on all important matters be taken up at the directors' meetings. In regard to money loaned by Dr. Clancy, Stockman said that this was not loaned to the Empire Holding company, but to Keller for payment of salesmen.

Admits Inserting "Money Paid" Figures

Stockman admitted he had knowingly inserted the figures shown in the application for a permit and that the matter of the appearance of $20,000 under the head of "actual money paid" had not been discussed in Judge Coshaw's office prior to the filing of the application.

In reply to a question by Goldstein relative to certain specific cases of stock purchases, Stockman said that he had stated several times that where it was a case of speculation, he was opposed to it.

The defense called Ralph W. Wilbur, attorney from Portland, who said he was experienced in the formation of corporations. He said a reasonable fee for the work of investigating the laws and preparing the legal matter relative to the formation of a corporation would be $1000 per month. For a salary contract over a ten year period, he thought that the amount should not be less than $10,000 per year.

Thomas G. Green, attorney from Portland, said his fee for investigating the law and preparing legal matters for such incorporation would be not less than $10,000. He said for a contract for a ten year period the amount would run from $10,000 to $12,000. On cross-examination Green stated that the fee for preparing articles of incorporation for a corporation would vary from $50 to $10,000.

Other witnesses called by the defense as character witnesses and to establish the date that I. H. Fetty arrived in Portland were: C. H. Hall, Portland; Carlos Reed, Portland; Judge Robert Tucker, Portland; Robert Mount, Portland; Murray McCarthy, Tacoma; Paul Steinmetz, Portland; Mrs. I. H. Fetty, Portland; Mrs. W. R. Adams, Portland; Fred J. Melndi, former examiner for the state corporation commission, was recalled by the state as a rebuttal witness.

At the close of the testimony, the defense attorneys again moved for a directed verdict, but Judge Walker denied the motion and ruled that the case should go to the jury.

SPRING SHOW FOR JERSEYS SCHEDULED

BRUSH CREEK, June 1 — Victor Madsen, president of the Marion County Jersey Cattle club, has announced that plans are completed for the spring show which will be held at Salem Friday forenoon and afternoon.

Mrs. M. G. Gunderson of Silverton and Mrs. Madsen are in charge of the sandwiches. Mrs. Fred Rorden of Silverton is assisting in preparing the hot dish. Other members will bring salads and cake. POLICE FIND MUCH OF GOODS STOLEN

ed. The hams, he said, were inedible.

Most of the alleged loot, identified by the store managers, was recovered by Officers O. G. Coffey and W. R. New of the city force and Lieutenant Walter Lansing of the state police in Portland Tuesday night. They listed the articles as follows: 36 dresses, two suitcases, three suits, seven house dresses, 12 pairs of stockings, 14 shirts, and a large quantity of small items of men's and women's apparel.

The city officers said more of the dresses might be returned to them today. If this is not done, they will go to Portland tonight or tomorrow to get the remaining garments.

Persons at the Alma Alzman residence allegedly turned a large quantity of the smaller articles in the furnace there Tuesday, Officer Coffey reported.

On the return here yesterday morning, the officers brought with them Mrs. Jessie Taylor McCleary, 30, as a witness. She was detained at Salem hospital to await call to the witness stand.

In the apartment of Mrs. McCleary, said to be a friend of Miller's, the officers found 18 dresses allegedly stolen from the Little French shop in Salem. Other finds of allegedly stolen articles were found in the room of Robert Miller, father of Thern Miller, and the apartment of Peggy Miller, sister of Thern. Miss Miller was not home when the officers visited her rooms.

MABEL WARREL IS WINNER ON SLOGAN

DALLAS, June 1—Mabel Warrell, senior of the Dallas high school was winner of the first prize of $5 given by the fire department for the best slogan about Dallas to be used on a sign board to be erected on the cut off road from the west side highway between Monmouth and Dallas. Her slogan was: Dallas—City of Good Homes—Good Schools—Friendly People.

Second prize winner of $3 was Edward Janzen with the slogan, Dallas—The Gateway to Oregon's Beaches. Third prize winner of $2 was Jimmy Allgood with, Dallas—The Little City of the $1,000,000 Payroll. There were 21 entries in the contest which was confined to high school students. The judges were F. E. Siemens, Earle Richardson and Mrs. Charles N. Bilyeu.

Downy Mildew Makes Heavy Marks on Hops

SILVERTON, June 1 — Hop growers around here are reporting that the downy mildew has reached a serious and critical stage in the yards. Some are endeavoring to clean it out but unless hot weather sets in very soon many of the yards will be completely ruined. Particularly are the yards on the river bottom lands suffering.

BERRY SEASON BRINGS GLOOM

Canneries Start Pack but Price Low, no Profit To Most Growers

to begin packing around June 10, as do most of the others. This year Reid Murdock will handle no Marshalls at all, having bought up all these contracts recently on a basis of around $40 a ton on the estimate of a month ago.

Paulus Brothers have reduced their contracts and are working on a cooperative proposition. Reid Murdock expects to can Eiterburg berries as usual, these being handled on term contracts. This plant Tuesday finished a five-day gooseberry pack, putting up more of this fruit than last year, and paying only slightly under the price which prevailed then.

The strawberry harvest lasts between 30 and 40 days. Contrary to popular conception, growers hauling Marshall berries to canneries for packing have always had these picked hulled. Berry men say it is no handicap for workers to pick them this way, and that it does not cut into the wage earned.

FIRESTONES WIN IN RACE CLASSIC

A graphic story of the remarkable part played by tires in the 500-mile international sweepstakes on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, Decoration day, was told today by Bill Watkins, Firestone dealer in this city. It was the thirteenth consecutive triumph for Firestone in this great motor racing classic.

"There is no more severe test of automobile tires than that to which they were put at Indianapolis," said Bill.

"The cars darted along the straightaways at close to 150 miles an hour and swept into the banked curves at an appalling pace. It was on these turns that the strain was the hardest. As the cars dived into the turns, their momentum caused them to climb the embankment from the lower rim to the outer. This was an uncontrollable action by the car and is called 'drifting' in these perilous moments it was necessary that there be a perfect co-ordination between the skill of man and the strength of steel and rubber to avoid disaster.

"At these terrific speeds one would expect to find great holes burned in the tread and the rubber worn entirely away. But not a trace of the sort happened. An inspection of tires after they had traveled the full 500 miles revealed an amazing state of preservation. Very little wear was discernable.

"The life of a racing driver is dependent at all times on the performance of his tires. It is not surprising that the majority choose Firestone."

ANNUAL H. S. PROM SET FRIDAY NIGHT

The final farewell of Salem high school students to the year's school affairs will take the form of the annual junior-senior prom which will be held in the gymnasium next Friday night. The prom is considered the leading social event of the school year. Only juniors and seniors may attend.

Under the direction of Evelyn Haag, junior vice-president, plans are laid for decorating the gym in gala fashion with the Japanese motif. Lanterns, pink cherry blossoms, large painted fans and parasols will be used in the decoration. Junior girls, dressed in flowing kimono, will serve.

Miss Haag's committee includes the following students: Jack Bush, Cleo Ritzer, Jack Price, Ruth Johnson and Marie Stutesman.

man. Miss Stutesman is in charge of decorations; Doris Drager, Iris Jorgensen and Francis, of serving.

Faculty members, headed by Principal and Mrs. Fred D. Wolf, Professor and Mrs. J. C. Nelson and Dean Mabel P. Robertson will act as patrons and patronesses.

JOHN MICKEY WILL FILED IN PROBATE

The late John Jacob Mickey believed that "the custom of assembly around a corpse or viewing a corpse should be abolished," he set forth in his will which was admitted to probate in court here Tuesday. The document, drawn in Mickey's own handwriting, January, 1932, requests that "my corpse should be disposed of privately and completely by cremation or by burial at sea."

The petitioners who asked the will be probated did not state whether Mickey's wishes were carried out. The property left by the deceased has an estimated worth of $25,000. His wife and six children are to divide the property as provided by law. Mickey's will asking the same disposition of his goods as though he had died intestate.

Heirs besides the widow include Kenneth Enoch, Lawrence Enoch, and Rena Alberta Mickey. May Martha Hadley, wife of Mark Mickey and Edith Blanche Mickey. Kenneth E. Mickey is to be executor of the will.

Hawley Primary Expense Heavy

The Hawley-for-Congress club spent $1446 in the primary campaign, Ronald C. Glover, its secretary, reported Wednesday to the secretary of state's office.

Hawley was defeated by a narrow margin by James W. Mott. Hawley's statement of expense shows the largest outgo of any candidate yet to report. Frederick Stelwer's campaign cost $375, his report shows. James T. Brand of Marshfield spent $253, his expense account shows. The outlay by I. H. VanWinkle was $68. S. A. Harris, candidate for representative from Marion county, spent $44.

Work Upon Road At Vita Springs To Start Today

Roadmaster Johnson stated Wednesday that improvements on the Vita Springs road will begin Thursday. He immediately sent out a caterpillar to start work on two sections of this road, which is expected to be accessible for people in that vicinity all the year around. Due to shortage of funds and other reasons, former plans for improvement in that section have been unannounced. Johnson believed that the road would be in fine traveling condition by next Sunday.

Good progress was reported by Billy Melvill Wednesday on the Victor-Point-Fisher road, and En-

City police made 67 arrests on specific charges and five arrests for investigation during May. Of this number, 35 were for traffic law violations, 16 for liquor offenses and nine for thefts and burglaries. One runaway girl was apprehended.

During the month, 17 shifts, or the equivalent of eight and one-half days went by without arrests being made.

Clarion Annual Is BEING DISTRIBUTED

First copies of the Clarion annual published by Salem high school students were distributed yesterday. Editor Betty Bonnell and Manager Ingvald Hansen this year put out a 75-page book of which 625 copies are being bound.

The cover and section pages are novel in color and idea. Tan art cardboard, Nile green border and bold black lettering made the cover a striking one. Section pages of light buff bear green sketches of old Salem buildings, in keeping with their motif, the history of the city.

The book is a complete reflection of all phases of school life. Sections are: Administration, classes, activities, school life, athletics, humor and advertising.

Dedication of the 1932 Clarion yearbook is made to Leah R. Hogue, instructor of English and advisor to the annual staff.

State Salaries Data Prepared For Committee

Records of all salaries paid to state officials, employees and commissions will be available for the special investigation committee which meets here Monday, the state board of control announced Wednesday. Henry M. Hansen, director of the budget, and William Elzing, secretary of the board of control, were ordered to have the material at hand for the committee when it convenes.

Lynn S. McCready of Eugene has been named chairman of the committee to serve with Henry L. Corbett of Portland and E. P. Mahaffey of Bend. A general reduction in salaries and a rearrangement of compensation to make payments more uniform in various departments was recommended by the board. The committee will report its findings by July 1.

gineer McGee went there to lay out grade stakes for the crew. Lester VanCleave, who has been put in charge of the work on the Butterville-Broadacres market road started off Wednesday to get work there under way. About five miles of work is needed to complete that job, and should be finished this year.

Two Suits For Divorce Filed In Court Here

Two suits for divorce were instituted yesterday in circuit court here.

C. L. Brock filed suit for divorce from his wife, Ila Brock, to whom he was married February 28, 1926, in Salem. He asks for custody of their son. He alleges that she has a bad temper and has frequently called him bad names.

E. McFarland filed suit for divorce from R. McFarland, her husband, to whom she was wedded April 5, 1931, in Salem. He has a bad temper and frequently has told her he didn't love her, the plaintiff alleges. She asks for the return of her maiden name of E. Matthews, $500 lump alimony and $100 attorney's fees.

Large Crowd at Yew Park Event

The last of the Yew Park Community club's entertainments for the season was received last night by a crowd estimated at 650 persons, the largest audience yet. The program consisted of vocal and instrumental music, dances, sleight-of-hand, novelties and a dressing contest which Jack Hindman won.

The entertainments will be resumed next fall.

Protect Farmer, Purpose of New Group Organized

MEDFORD, Ore., June 1 — (AP) — Forty farmers of the Rogue river valley met here today and organized the Southern Oregon Protective association. The object of the association is to insure the grower a small profit over the price of production. The association agreed upon prices for two products—strawberries, 75 cents a crate, and peas, 5 1/2 cents a pound.

Warehouse Safe Is Blown Again But Loot Small

behind. The robbery occurred between 10 o'clock Tuesday night and the time employees arrived the next morning. Clarence Curry, manager, was at the warehouse until about 10 o'clock.

This is the fourth time within the last few years that the warehouse has been robbed. The safe has been blown up on two occasions and robbers secured $120 in a daylight holdup about two years ago. The robbers who held up the manager of the warehouse were later caught in California and sentenced to the penitentiary.

FINISHING O. N. S. WOODBURN, June 1—Two girls well known in Woodburn are graduating this spring from Oregon Normal school at Monmouth. Berneta Thompson, one of the graduates, finished high school work at the high school here in 1930, and was presented with the Kelta Powell scholarship of $100 for school expenses. The other graduate, Evelyn Grim, lives in Aurora, but graduated from Woodburn high school in 1929.

Do you inhale?

Three little words that "upset the apple cart" in the cigarette trade

Do you inhale? Can any question be simpler? And yet—what a furore it has created! The cigarette trade feels that the public has been let in on a sacrosanct secret! "You've upset the apple cart," they say.

Why such anxiety? Certainly the public doesn't fear the question—for everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly...every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Remember—more than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes!
