

Real Adversary for Henry Jones is Found by Harry Plant

SMERTZ SIGNED FOR NEXT BOUT

Has Beaten Strawberry King Twice; Ticket Price for Summer is Reduced

Matchmaker Harry Plant has been trying to no avail during the past nine months to bring some welterweight wrestler to Salem who can win from Henry Jones of Provo, Utah, and at last it looks as though he has the gentleman spotted who can turn the trick.

At least Art Smertz of Salt Lake City, Utah has already defeated Jones twice and believes that he can do it again in the Salem arena.

Both Smertz and Jones hail from the same state and as far as Oregonians are concerned they seem like backyard neighbors to each other. Smertz is the welterweight champion of the Intermountain region by virtue of his victory over Henry Jones.

While Smertz has twice defeated the old Strawberry King, Jones is not at all loathe to tangle with him and in fact is welcoming an opportunity to take another tangle at the grappler who took his title from him.

Art Smertz is not only a wrestler, but also an aviator and may employ the airplane spin, though he has a habit of using the head scissors combined with other holds in winning his matches.

Special reduced summer prices for tickets will prevail.

Awards Made To Woodburn High Athletes

WOODBURN, June 2.—Awards for various activities were presented last week at the last general assembly at the high school. Awards were given for baseball, golf and girls' gymnasium and sports work.

Presented certificates and letters to the following members of this year's team: Bob Reed, pitcher; Cornelius Gearin, catcher; Leo Halter, catcher; Kenneth Evans, second baseman; Lyle Skiller, shortstop; Royce Fox, first baseman; Perry Sandsem, outfielder; Lyle Landsem, pitcher; Orren Ottoway, outfielder; Lawrence Koch, outfielder; Carl Schwab, first baseman, and Henry Wolfe, outfielder.

This year Woodburn high school's baseball team won second place in the Willamette interscholastic league in baseball, with seven wins and two defeats. Silvertown was first and Molalla third.

James D. Miller, who coached golf, presented letters to Donald Courtney, Tom Langhans, and Eugene Golds. The golf team took part in eight matches.

Miss Alma Taylor gave out the letters to girls for activities in sports. The awarding was under the Oregon point system, and those who received letters took part in a number of sports. Those who received the awards for 50 points in the work were Mabel Norton, May Breed, Marjorie Jones, Doris Arney, Ruth Hanson, Veda Nendel, Edith Bates, Dora Dooper, Hazel Shrock, and Lois Proctor. Those who made 100 points under the system are Mary Jackson, Lois Proctor, Donni Conye, Anna Dooper and Mildred Grim. Three girls, Hazel Freberg, Noma Hill and Roma Kalkak, received the highest honors, those for making 150 points in the competition.

Delmar Ramsdell, president of the senior class, said a few parting words and made formal presentation of the new backstops for the tennis court. The senior class has also paid for the erecting of exterior scenes of the stage equipment.

Those "Weak" Teams!

By HARDIN BURNLEY

BUCKY HARRIS
DETROIT'S MANAGER!

BILL McKECHNIE
THE BOSTON BRAVES' MASTER MIND!

TWO BRAVY LEADERS!

SPORT BUG.

THE TIGERS LED BY HARRIS AND THE BRAVES WITH McKECHNIE AT THE HELM CHOWED BY THEIR SPRING SPIRITS THAT THEY WOULD BE ABLE TO TAKE THE LEAD IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE.

WHEN the current baseball season opened, two of the teams which were torn from all hope by "expert" opinion were the Boston Braves and the Detroit Tigers. Here, most of the more prominent sports writers were agreed, were two teams almost certain of a cellar berth.

The Braves had been patted all over the grapefruit league by the Yanks, and the Tigers had been sent back to the jungle by McGraw's apparently invincible Giants.

Yet after the season opened both of these "weak" teams set out to serve notice on the other seven clubs in their respective leagues that they were going to be factors all the way through.

The Braves started out by completely vanquishing the Dodgers and Giants, pushing the Phillies, and pounding the Pirates, and high-kicking the world champion Cardinals and the high-flying Cubs. What if they did take a few drubbings from the Reds? The Reds, most improved team in either league, were beating everyone else, too.

The Tigers led the Big League in batting for the first month last year. They recalled Gerald Walker, cocky and very able outfielder, from Toronto. A slinger named Davis supplanted Alexander as the third sack. Gehring came back better than ever at second. Rogell took over the shortstop's berth, and an earnest worker named Richardson was posted at third.

For pitchers there were Whitehill, Sorrell, Wyatt and Co. with lots of individual ability but with not so much of a record for achievement. Detroit had most of these boys before, and still lost pretty consistently.

Well, Detroit played around with the first division, took first place, held it for a while, and at last reports were still going very well, thank you. And thank Mr. Bucky Harris, the shrewd young manager of the Tigers.

After all, a weak team that wins doesn't do so without reason. There must be some explanation. And the fact is that the Boston Braves and the Detroit Tigers, 1932 editions, tore the National

Athletes Add Another Cup To Collection

SILVERTON, June 2.—Silvertown high school added another cup to its growing collection when it won the championship of the Willamette Interscholastic Athletic League by defeating Molalla last week. This league includes Woodburn, Molalla, Silvertown, Lebanon and West Linn.

Two other cups were added to the Silvertown group earlier this spring. The one of these was won by the high school basketball team when it made the championship of district No. 12. The other was the cup won in the state band tournament held at Corvallis at which time the Silvertown high school band won first place in Class B.

Silvertown just missed capturing the fourth cup when Catherine Tomison placed second in the Marion County Declamatory contest.

University Gets Glacier Painting

An oil painting of Muir glacier, done in the year 1890 by Martha A. Knapp, has been presented to Willamette university by Miss Margaret Knapp, teacher in Parish junior high school. While it has not yet been hung in a permanent location, it has attracted many favorable comments from those who have seen it in President Doney's office.

LENHARDS RETURN INDEPENDENCE, June 2

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Lenhard and son Walter Scott Lenhard returned Monday from a three days visit with relatives in Monitor. While there they enjoyed a reception given Sunday afternoon for his niece, Mrs. Loretta Waggoner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wolfe. Loretta Wolfe and Sam Waggoner were married in Klamath Falls May 21.

CURT COMMENTS

Most fans know the baseball rules pretty thoroughly, thanks to the fact that no essential change has been made in those rules for years. But, as we mentioned a few weeks ago, few fans know much about the rules that guide the scorekeeper—and this lack of knowledge extends to a good many experienced ball players.

Last Sunday, for instance, in the third inning of the Salem Senators' game with Albany-Jefferson, Salem loaded the bases but got no runs when Gardner Knapp announced the inning's figures: "One hit, no runs, no errors." There was a general gasp from the crowd generally. We'll take the blame. We gave those figures to Knapp. And since then we have heard an informal protest even from "Bury" Bashor, boss of the Senators. He, however, thought there should have been more hits; 90 per cent of the fans thought there should have been some errors.

Nevertheless we insist that the rule book backs us up. Here's what happened. Hibbard, first man up, hit one to the shortstop, who blocked it but didn't field it cleanly and Hibbard was safe. There is room for a difference of opinion, but anyway the book gives us plenty of latitude for calling that a hit.

Gribble bunted and the pitcher threw to second base, too late to catch Hibbard. Two men on, Adams bunted and the pitcher threw to third, again too late. Bases loaded. One hit, one time at bat, no errors or walks.

Bashor contended that Gribble and Adams should have had hits as everybody was safe on their bunts. So we will respectfully quote the last portion of section 5, rule 70, of the baseball rules:

Angels Retaliate
LOS ANGELES, June 2.—(AP)—The Angels retaliated handsomely tonight for their last evening's walloping, winning from San Francisco 15 to 3, apparently in the batting eye by a bit of morning practice today.

They routed Ken Douglas with a six run spree in the opening inning. Lee Stine replaced Douglas and accepted for a trouncing the rest of the game, Los Angeles getting a total of 21 hits.

Enid Wilson is British Champ A Second Time

SAUNTON, England, June 2.—(AP)—Enid Wilson ran away with the British women's golf championship today for the second straight year, and promptly announced she would attempt to add the American women's title to it at Salem, Mass., in September.

Matched doggedly by the play of Miss Clem Montgomery, former Scottish champion, through the morning 18 holes of the 36-hole final today, Miss Wilson settled down to his usual powerful game in the afternoon and won, 7 and 6.

There was no basis for figuring Gebbie and Adams could have beaten out those bunts if the play had been at first base, so they get sacrifices.

Search Made for Records Of Willamette Trackmen; Few Available at Present

Records mean much in track, far more than scores do in other athletic contests, because track records are measured by watches and yardsticks, and are constantly targets for improvement. Of course scores are counted in track meets, but over a long period of years where track is a prominent sport, the records overshadow the scores turned in by teams and individuals.

Due both to an overloading of work on track coaches at Willamette university and also to doldrums in track interest there, there is no complete record of marks made in past meets by Bearcat track men.

To preserve the memory of outstanding cinder men of the past and to stimulate present and future track men to greater efforts, The Oregon Statesman is cooperating with Coach "Les" Sparks and his assistant, Burgess Ford, in trying to collect all the records of the past.

There isn't a great deal to start on, but those marks recalled by Ford, who has been closely associated with the university for a period of almost 30 years, will suffice as a starter and will probably bring to mind other marks which may be better.

Three Games of Kitball Tonight

Managers of the Junior Kitball league last night decided to resume play on the schedule originally drawn up. Three games will be played tomorrow afternoon starting at 2 o'clock: Temple Baptists vs. Evangelicals; Presbyterian vs. Highland Friends; Knight Memorials vs. Y Pirates.

Whether or not games will be played twice a week will be decided tomorrow.

TRACK OUTLOOK FOR W. U. GOOD

Progress Made This Year, Most of Lettermen to Be Available Again

Coach "Les" Sparks expects to have a track team next year which will give the conference leaders a good run. Don Faber is the only one of this year's squad who will not return.

Faber has been the high scorer this season and during four years of competition has played in every meet he has entered, including four conference meets.

Sparks entered 12 men in the meet at Walla Walla and while no firsts were taken by his Bearcats, nine of the 12 placed and the other three each hit fifth place in their events.

The lettermen this season are Cannady, Connors, Cooke, Dumas, Faber, James, Lange, Larnard, Kaiser, McCullough, and Sherwood. In addition to these, a number of other men added points during the season and will be good competitors next year.

Near-Lettermen Promising Material
Fanta narrowly missed making his letter this year in the discus and doubtless would have, had he not been bothered by the other side. Mealey is a promising miler and Barnett will develop into a good miler.

Doeschler started working on the javelin late in the season, but Sparks believes by next year he will be sending the wooden spear out 190 feet. Boyd is another good prospect with the javelin and also puts the shot.

Dean will probably improve in the pole vault and Rieke will be able to do some good with the discus and in the high jump, it is expected. Carpenter has prospects of being a good broad jumper.

Faber has proven to be Willamette's most consistent sprint man this season, but James ran the 100 yard dash in 10 flat in his heat at Whitman and by next year will be stepping with the best.

HELEN MOODY NOW IN FRENCH FINALS

AUTHEUIL, France, June 2.—(AP)—Playing below her previous form but still in command of every tennis stroke, Helen Wills Moody gained the finals of the French women's championship today with a hard-earned victory over Hilda Krahwinkel, tall German girl, 6-3, 10-8.

The prospect of an all-American final was lost when Helen Jacobs bowed to Mme. Rene Mathieu of France, 6-4, 6-4 in the quarterfinals.

The American court queen's opponent for the championship she has won three times will be either Mme. Mathieu or Betty Nuthall, English star, who clash in tomorrow's remaining semi-final.

Gregory Mangin, America's sole survivor in the men's singles, was idle, having gained a round of most of his rivals. His quarter-final opponent will be Henri Cochet, France's greatest player favoring for the championship.

Cochet is the only Frenchman to come through today's five matches, which saw the defeat of such stalwarts as Rene LaCoste and Jacques Brugnon and left three Englishmen, a Czech and an Italian still in the field. Marcel Bernard of France, like Mangin, did not play.

JACK THOMPSON IS THROUGH AS BOXER

SACRAMENTO, June 2.—(AP)—Young Jack Thompson, twice holder of the world's welterweight title, announced here today that he was all through with the boxing game. The negro scrapper stopped off here en route to Los Angeles from Seattle where he fought his last battle last week against Leonard and won.

Thompson said he could see nothing in the boxing game for him in the future and declared he was well enough fixed financially to devote the rest of his time handling his property affairs in Los Angeles.

The Oakland negro had 327 fights and has been in the game professionally for 14 years. He defeated Jackie Fields for the world's title the first time, losing it to Tommy Freeman. He defeated Freeman later to win back the title and then lost it to Lou Brockland, who subsequently lost it back to Fields, the present champion.

State Printers Beat Wrangler Kitball Squad

The State Printers waded around Sweetland field with enough pep last night to defeat the Wranglers 7 to 2 in the Kitball game. Bane and Propp were the Printers' battery; Traglio and Straw, the Wranglers.

Supervisor "Bill" Ross has called all team managers to meet with him from 8 to 8:30 o'clock tonight to talk over the new game schedule.

Only seventeen and already being hailed as a champion jockey! That is the record of Hank Mills, the Colorado boy who started turf fans by his performances on the winter tracks and is continuing his record-breaking pace in the East. Young Mills, recently signed by the Westway Stable at $10,000 per year for five years on his services, accompanied the boy on his travels from track to track.

Utah and Nevada two years ago. His biggest day was at Agua Caliente, Mexico, last December, when he rode in seven races, winning five and finishing second in the other two. With his $10,000 guarantee Hank will probably earn over $30,000 for the year. Not bad for a seventeen-year-old lad! Hank's mother, an ardent horsewoman, accompanies the boy on his travels from track to track.
