Church Wedding Large Affair Today

A marriage of high interest today will be that of Miss Jean Middleton, daughter of Mrs. Kathryn Middleton, to William McCallister of Medford, son of Mrs. Mary Mc-Callister of Gresham, tonight at 8 o'clock in the First Methodist church.

Dr. Carl Gregg Doney assisted by Rev. B. Earle Parker will read the service before a very large number of invited guests. The church is being decorated in a brilliant manper with pink roses and mock orange and much greenery.

Miss Middleton will wear a fitted Princess gown of white satin with puffed sleeves and V neck. A tulle veil will be caught into a cap about her head. She will carry a Colonial bouquet with ribbon streamers.

Miss Edith Findley, maid of honor, will wear a period frock of green silk organdy. Ruffles will accentuate the elbow sleeves and Hester Davis at which time Mrs. the skirt finish. Miss Rosalind Van Win'le and Miss Pauline Findley, bridesmalds, will wear period frocks of Point d'esprit lace over ruffled taffeta. Miss Van Winkle will be in soft pink and Miss Findley in orchid. The bride-elect and her maids will all wear white lace mits, and carry Colonial bouquets. Mrs. Frances DeHarpport will play the processional and the recessional and will play softly during the entire ceremony. Miss Elizabeth Clement will sing "Oh, Promise Me" and "Until".

Brother of the bride-elect, Don Middleton, will give her in marriage. Walter Fuhrer will act as best man for Mr. McCallister. Ushers are Alden Miller and Charles Redding of Portland and Carlton Smith, and from Albany John Heltzel and Edward Stadter of Salem
