

EMPIRE CASE FATE YET UNDETERMINED

men were formerly officers of the Prudential Savings and Loan association and Prudential Bancorporation of Portland. Each man is under indictment for embezzlement and for devising a scheme to defraud.

DALLAS, June 8.—(Special)—A special venire of 30 jurors was drawn today and notified to report Tuesday morning. This was in preparation for the next Empire trial, that of L. H. Fetty. Judge Arlie G. Walker was in town today and ordered the venire drawn. He stated that the last report he had from Barnett Goldstein, special prosecutor in the case, was still uncertain whether or not the state would move to have the remaining indictments dismissed.

OUTLOOK FOR TREE FRUIT IS BRIGHTER

It is hard on the other packer who wants to go through with his contract. Financing of cooperatives by the government may tend to increase the pack and the overload on the market and thus delay the recovery which can come only through readjustment of supply to consumption. Inventories of packers have to be liquidated, Allen stated decisively.

Under the Dome...

WELL, maybe we're not having an early fall after all. At least yesterday bore all the indications either of an Indian summer, or a regular summer. It was really comfortably warm, and those who had about given up all hopes of summer were greatly revived and plans for vacations were renewed.

Mayor George Baker of Portland is now in a class along with Governor Roland H. Hartley of Washington. Baker yesterday "socked" Harry L. Gross on the jaw, while we have watched Governor Hartley bodily throw the state highway engineers out of his office. So far Salem has no such tactics to report.

NEW CHEF ACQUIRED BY HOTEL DE MINTO

Hotel de Minto acquired a new chef yesterday in the person of Charles Slog, young Montana camp cook. R. O. Palmer, who has been dining out the flop-house fare in exchange for food and lodging, since J. G. "Jack" Bullard gave up the work for regular employment, yesterday decided to "hit the road" for Spokane, Wash., in hope of finding a job.

Young Slog will have a job on his hands as the transients continue to come to the "hotel" in large numbers. This week an average of 50 men have been served breakfast each day and around 20, dinner.

Clackamas Asked To Pay Its Share

The county court yesterday authorized Hedda Swart, county engineer, to communicate with the Clackamas county court, asking for immediate payment of $9000 due by that county to Marion county for the former's share of the cost in constructing a bridge east of Hubbard over Pudding river last summer. The courts had previously agreed to divide the cost. Clackamas county court officials had asked Marion county some time ago to hold up collection until June 1. They declared that expenditures from their funds for right-of-way on the highway between Oregon City and Portland had temporarily depleted their treasury reserves.

Bridge Approach Paving Charges

First concrete will be poured for the paving of approaches to North Commercial street bridge tomorrow or Saturday, City Engineer Rogers announced yesterday. Two digger machines and a roller are being used to prepare the grade for the west section which will be paved first.

Champoeg Native Dies at Scholls

HILLSBORO, Ore., June 8.—(AP)—Fred Chamberlain, 59, born in Champoeg of pioneer parents, was found dead today in his day-old home at Scholls, where he had gone to work in a saw mill. Death was ascribed to a heart attack.

CUT SALARIES AGAIN

HILLSBORO, Ore., June 8.—(AP)—The city council here last night voted a second 10 per cent cut for city employes. The previous cut was applicable only to those receiving more than $100 a month, but the reduction authorized last night will affect every employe on the payroll.

Require Astoria To Accept Bonds On Street Debts

The Oregon supreme court yesterday granted an alternate writ of mandamus ordering the city of Astoria to accept its own city bonds in payment for street assessments or appear June 24 to show cause for refusing.
